HIRD AND OAK TREET PORTLAND, OREGON

The debate at the Academy debating society Friday on its subject "Resolved, that the Lewis & Clark Expedition is a benefit to the state of Oregon and the Northwest," was discussed in the school room and decided in the negative.

J. H. Eaton, of Beaver Creek, came to town on Saturday with a small mare which was 30 years old last May. Kit looks round and well fed, and can chew oats as well as her last colt. Mr. Eaton has owned her since she was four years old, and brought her from Nebraska 12 years ago.

Tillie B. McFadden, of Molalla, has commenced suit in the circuit court, by filing her complaint to secure a divorce from her husband, Thomas McFadden. Her plea is abandonment for a period of three years. Howard M. Brownell will appear as attorney.

Mr. Turner, who lives at Damascus, met with a painful accident Sunday morning at his home. He was chopping up feed in his feed chopper when he caught his thumb in the coggs of the wheel and mashed the same badly. He came to Oregon City, and Dr. Sommer amputated the injured part leaving about half the thumb on.

When you want the best teas and coffees, ask your Grocer for Jones Paddock Co.'s Brands—and take no others. Abel Meresse, of Forest Grove, was in Oregon City Sunday visiting his many friends. Mr. Meresse is a graduate of Pacific University and is now employed on the Forest Grove Times. It is his intention to make newspaper work his profession. He is now working in the composing room, but will very soon prove his fitness for something higher.

Coming, the Alabama Warblers Wednesday, Nov. 5th, 20 people will show under Tent at the Public Square headed by the Great McKenless, the world's Greatest Cornetist, Bango King, Sweet Singer and Comedian; Miss Lizzie Perry, the Champion Lady Cake Walker of the world; greatest mimic and four-voiced singer, Miss Patti McKenless, the sweetest ballad singer living, most versatile colored girl before the public and 20 other first-class and up-to-date performers will be at Tent Grounds.

Sheriff John Shaver had a lively contest Sunday morning. It seems that early in the morning Captain J. T. Apperson discovered two young men hunting on his premises at Parkplace. He immediately telephoned the news to Constable Moody, who apprised Sheriff Shaver of the trouble. The sheriff and W. H. Young, liveryman, came with post haste to the scene to arrest the boys. On seeing the officers they started to run, but were soon overtaken and brought to the city, and on Monday morning they were given a hearing in the justice court and fined.

This Friday evening, rain or shine, there will be a social at the home of Mrs. George C. Brownell. The social is under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church and everything indicates a fine time. It's the evening celebrated as Halloween and the whole yard will be lighted with artistic pumpkin lanterns, and the old time Halloween spirit is to assert itself on every hand. Games of all kinds and fun galore will be the order of the evening with a fine luncheon incidentally thrown in. Every young man and young woman in Oregon City who enjoys fun and plenty of it, is invited to come and bring his friends.

The Sol Garde building which has been under the process of erection for two months and over is rapidly approaching completion. This is, unquestionably, one of the finest buildings here, and will compare very favorably with Portland spacious store structures. The windows are of large plate glass and will afford a splendid opportunity for the display of goods. The brick put in the building is first class in every particular, and the workmanship good. The three rooms on the ground floor are engaged, and have been spoken for, for a long time, even before the building was made. In a few days Burmeister & Andresen will move and I. Selling will also occupy a room.

Milwaukie is no longer a village. At the election held Saturday, the citizens decided to incorporate into a city by a vote of 35 for 23 against the movement. To do away with another election for the purpose of electing officers, they were voted for by the same ballot, and the following were elected: Mayor, William Shindler; recorder, T. H. Lechler; treasurer, Charles McOan; marshal, Jessie Keck; aldermen, James Hooper, George Hively, T. R. A. Sellwood, P. A. Tanneman, C. Kerr and J. O. Roberts. These men will serve until the regular election next December, provided the opposition makes no move against their so-doing. Saturday night and Monday much talk was heard on the corners of Milwaukie about a contest being fled. The minority claim that several of the judges left the polls during the day, which is against the law. If they can prove this it is probable that the election will be contested in the court, as the feeling both for and against incorporation has been very strong and hotly contested.

Card of Thanks.

We feel under deep obligations to the friends and neighbors who so kindly and sympathetically stood by us, when death took from our family circle the wife and mother, and take this means of expressing our gratitude.
