MRS. NANCY J. BEALIE PASSES OVER THE RIVER.

A Lovely Character—A Woman of Good Deeds and Noble Impulses.

Mrs. Nancy Jane Beatie, an old and honored citizen of Oregon City, paid the last debt of nature and passed over the river into the unknown and unknowable beyond on Saturday morning of last week. She had been ill for some time and her demise was not unexpected. She had lived her allotted three score years and ten, and her death was as peaceful as a child falling to sleep in its mother's arms. The cause of her death was pneumonia.

She was born in Pittsburg, Pa., April 17, 1835, and crossed the plains in 1852 with her parents, Thomas and Mary Citell, who settled in the Molalla country, Clackamas county. In August, 1853, she married Charles Tillman Beatie, and they lived on a farm at Beaver Creek until 1877, when they moved to Oregon City, where she had since resided. Her husband died in April, 1882.

Mrs. Beatie is survived by eight children—Mrs. David Caufield, of Oregon City; Mrs. Joseph D. Meyers, of Coquille City, Or.; Dr. R. B. Beatie, of Oregon City; Mrs. C. A. Hathaway, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. J. J. Cooke, Laura E. Beatie, Dr. A. L. Beatie and Miss Jennie B. Beatie, of Oregon City.

Her body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Beaver Creek on Monday. Followed to her last resting place by her children and grandchildren and those who had known her longest and loved her best, the remains were put away until that great day when the dead shall live again.

R. L. Holman had charge of the funeral.

Big Tubers.

Wilson & Cooke offered a prize of ten dollars for the parties who would bring in the fewest number of potatoes that would make a hundred pounds. There were only two competitors, W. H. Vaughan, of Molalla, and Charles Holmes, of Mt. Pleasant. Both brought in some mammoth specimens, but Mr. Vaughan won the ten dollar prize with 48 potatoes which weighed just a hundred pounds. Mr. Holmes was a good second in the race, having 52 potatoes which weighed a hundred pounds.
