George Blanchard, of New Era, was in town Saturday.

Charles C. Cyle, of Defiance, O., is in the city on business.

H. W. Fuelling, of North Yakima, is in town on business.

Mr. Foley, of Portland, attorney-at-law, was in the city on Sunday.

Joseph Knowland, Jr., formerly a resident of this city, is at Victoria, B. C.

F. H. Haynes, of Mill City, was an Oregon City visitor Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Gussie Maddock visited her mother at a Portland sanitarium Sunday.

Peter Shark left for Republic, in Northeastern Washington last Saturday.

Miss May Waldron, who has been ill for the past several days, is convalescent.

Mrs. John Drescher, of Monitor, was visiting friends in town the first of the week.

W. H. Kandle, of the celebrated Springwater country, was in town Wednesday.

Squire McCarver, of Portland, brother of Mrs. C. C. Babcock, was in the city on Sunday.

W. L. White, a prominent citizen of Union precinct, was in town on business on Tuesday.

Miss Grace Marshal and Miss Helen Gleason, teachers at New Era, visited at their homes in this city over Sunday.

Antone Neheling, who was injured in the Willamette paper mills by the falling of an elevator last week, is now much improved.

Ed Califf, who formerly resided on a farm at Molalla, is now located at Phoenix, Arizona, where he is employed in a lumber yard.

Rosco Morris, who has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with typhoid fever, is now improving and able to be about.

John Daly, of Macksburg, and Henry Schramel, postmaster of the same place, were in town Tuesday and paid the Courier a pleasant call.

Mrs. Wm. Bagby, of Molalla, accompanied by three of her sons, Henry, Edward and Frank, the sawmill men, arrived in the city on Monday.

Miss Lou Mortimer returned to Portland Sunday, after visiting a couple of weeks in this city. She was the guest of Miss Anesta Gleason and Mrs. Harry Moody.

Anton Wenzel, for several years fireman at the woolen mill, has sent word to a friend that he will return to Oregon. The fatherland is enticing only at a distance.

H. B. Cushing was tried before City Recorder Bruce Curry Monday on a charge of drunk and disorderly. He was given five days at hard labor on the streets.

S. E. Holcomb, secretary of the Oregon Packing Company, a former Oregon boy and prominent democratic politician, was in town Monday mixing with old acquaintances.

Fred Joy, who has been seriously ill for the past six weeks with an attack of typhoid fever, is improving. At one time his condition was critical, and his chances for recovering were very slight.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hugginbotham, of Viola, were in town the first of the week. Mrs. H. will remain here a few days and take a course of medical treatment, being a sufferer from a complication of troubles.

Rev. J. H. Beaven, who has been at Dallas for the past two weeks conducting a revival in the Baptist church at that place, returned home last Sunday. He reports a fine meeting and much interest at Dallas.

Elisab Killen, of The Dalles, has been in town for the past several days. Mr. Killen is a sheep herder by trade, and is an all-round good fellow. He expects to shortly go east of the mountains, where he will resume his old occupation.

Judge Geo. E. Hayes has in his office the finest specimen of oats it has ever seen. The straw is more than six feet long, and the heads are more than eighteen inches. They were grown on Col. T. A. Baker's ranch at Stafford.

Messrs. Walling and Ja isch, who have dairy farms on the main road a little this side of Oswego, find that raising a large quantity of pumpkin as feed for their cows, they secure a larger percentage of cream and of a choicer quality than by feeding mill stuffs at a much higher cost.

W. T. Ward, of Viola, was in the city Saturday and paid the Courier a call. Mr. Ward is a forest ranger for the government, his business being to look after and prevent fires wherever possible in the dry season. This year he was stationed in the Bull Run reservation, but next year expects to hold forth in the Clackamas reservation.

Willis Johnson, the son-in-law of O. W. Cheney, passed through town on Tuesday with 100 sheep which he was driving toward his home near Clackamas station. The major part of his herd is wintering at Lafayette. He reports that his sheep fared well during the summer on the range in the coast highlands.

H. H. (Hickey) Belt, who last year did the twirling for the Oregon City baseball team, arrived in town the first of the week and will remain during the season. It is to be hoped that he will play with the local team again next year as he is a first-class player. "Hickey" came in from Aberdeen, Wash., where he has been for the past several months.

Mrs. Jennie May and daughters Nettie and Maud, of Portland, were here last Sunday to attend the wedding of William May, who was married at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Malloy. Rev. Malloy officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Rillis Munsey also attended the wedding. The bride and groom will make their home here for a time.

G. W. Wyland, of Wilhoit, was in town Saturday and paid the Courier a pleasant call. Mr. Wyland brought in a wagon load of mineral water from those celebrated springs which he sold among the saloons of this town and Portland. It is twenty-five miles to Wilhoit, and a pretty good day's drive when the roads are in the condition they are now in.

W. Bruce, an employe of the Portland Electric Company, met with a very painful and what might have been a serious accident, last Saturday afternoon. While working about some shafting he was in some manner thrown from his position and into the water. He was fished out in an unconscious state and did not regain consciousness for two hours. He sustained painful scalp wounds, but was not dangerously hurt. Dr. Caril, the company's physician, dressed the injured man's hurts and he is now getting along in fine style.

"Billy" Rowan closed a deal with Mr. George, of the George Restaurant, last week, and is now in charge of the restaurant. Mr. Rowan has been in Oregon City for the past eight years, and is well known to the people of this city and has many friends among them. He is eminently fitted for the restaurant business and promises to run his new place in an up-to-date manner.

The Presbyterian congregation and Sunday school will unite in a Christmas choral service Sunday at 11 o'clock. The "Christmas Angels," a very effective cantata, will be rendered on Wednesday evening, Christmas Eve. All are invited to attend.
