Thankful

We will remember for many a day this record breaking Xmas business our friends and customers have given us—Remember it because many people questioned the policy of fitting up and stocking such a store—said it was too big for the town, etc. But we think every one of the doubters and advisors will "go way back" now. They certainly would if they could have seen the satisfied throng of Xmas shoppers during the past week. Anyhow as we started out to say we are very thankful for the generous patronage accorded us and wish you all a prosperous and happy New Year.

Your Prescription

The doctor puts years of experience into the prescription he writes for you. We put years of experience into the compounding. You need both kinds of experience to insure proper results from the medicine you use. Our prices are always as low as they can be consistent with good service.

Rubber Worth

When you buy anything made of rubber—especially soft rubber—you want the kinds made by reliable houses. That is the kind we sell. They are right when they come here, they are kept right and they go to you at right prices. Hot Water Bottles, Syringes and Sick Room Supplies.

is what he wrote: "Your mouth is the front door to your face. It is the aperture to the cold storage of our anatomy. Some mouths look like peaches and cream and some look like a hole in a brick wall to admit a new door or window. The mouth is a hotbed for toothache and the bungle of oratory. It is the crimson isle to your liver. It is patriotism's fountain and the tool-chest for pie. Without a mouth the politician would be a wanderer on the face of the earth and go down to an unhonored grave. It is the grocer's friend, the orator's pride and the dentist's hope. It puts some men on the rostrum and some in jail. It is a temptation's lunch counter when attached to a man."

RETURNED KLONDIKER.

Greatest Excitement Among the "Kids" in the South End.

The people in the south end of the town, near the woolen mills, were treated to the exciting novelty of seeing a Klondiker scattering his wealth broadcast last Saturday afternoon.

The name of the man who was so lavish with his means is Robert Kelland, of New Era. Kelland came down from Nome a few days ago and stopped at a hotel in Portland, and is reported to have "blown in" something like $2500 while there. Saturday he struck Oregon City. The return to his old home was too much for the Klondike miner. The event must be celebrated in a fitting manner. Accordingly he bled himself to different places in town where King Al Kohol reigns supreme. He found plenty of his old friends, genial fellows, who were not loth to drink with a man who had money to burn. Kelland looked on the wine was real. In fact, he looked on it several times, and each successive time he grew a little richer in his own estimation. When the shades of evening began to fall, he concluded it was time to go home. By then he was a full-fledged millionaire. At the woolen mills he saw a crowd of children playing on the streets. Now was a good time to prove that he was not only a millionaire but also something of a philanthropist. Digging down into his pocket he fished up handful after handful of coins and tossed them to the delighted "kids." Many of them thought that Old Santa Clause had really come to town. Among other change that Kelland threw away was a twenty dollar gold piece, which he concluded was too much for one of the children, and he took it back and got it changed and then distributed it.

Kelland is reported to have struck it rich in the Klondike. He has the reputation of being an all-around good fellow and has many friends in Oregon City. He has one fault, and that is that he and King Al Kohol are too good friends. Just what brand of whisky he uses to make him throw away his money we are unable to learn. The "kids" in the south end are keeping a lookout for his return to town.

Foils A Deadly Attack.

"My wife was so ill that good physicians were unable to help her," writes M. M. Austin, of Winchester, Ind., "but was completely cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills." They work wonders in stomach and liver troubles. Cure constipation, sick headache, 25c at Geo. A. Harding's drug store.

BURGLARIZED.

HOME OF MRS. KOHN ROB-BED OF FIFTY DOLLARS.

No Clue to the Guilty Parties.

Mrs. Mary Kohn lives on the Abernathy road, about four miles from town. She is a poor widow and lives all alone. On Friday of last week she left the house alone and went out for a call. When she returned she found that her house had been burglarized. A search revealed the fact that fifty dollars, which she kept concealed in a drawer, had been taken by the miscreants.

Mrs. Kohn was in town the first of the week and reported the loss. She has absolutely no idea as to who the guilty parties are who took the money, but thinks some one must have been aware of where she kept it and watched her movements so as to be able to enter the house while she was gone.

Hymeneal.

On December 14, 1902, Miss Lillie Belle Rouse, of Brownsville, Oregon, was united in marriage to Mrs. W. S. May at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Mollov, at Ely. A large assembly of guests were present to do honor to the occasion, and many valuable and useful presents were left with them as tokens of kind regards and warm friendship. Miss Rouse has ever since her earliest childhood been a resident of Brownsville. She has many admirers and friends who entertain for her high regards and whose best wishes will always attend her. Mr. May is no less favored with a warm following of friends. He is a carpenter by trade, and is at present working for the Crown Paper Co. on their new pulp mill. Mr. and Mrs. May intend for the present to make their residence in this city, where they will be pleased to meet their friends.
