On account of the bad weather and the influx of outsiders, the supply of common labor is greater in the city than the demand.

Born, to the wife of John Staley on December 22, 1902, a girl. The little infant died the day of its birth. The mother is doing well.

The Springwater correspondent writes under date of Dec. 22 that one inch of snow fell that day, and that a number of big gray wolves had been seen in that locality recently.

The quarantine of the Hoffman home, where there has been three cases of smallpox, was raised last week by the health authorities, who declare there is no further danger of the disease spreading.

Mrs. N. E. Smith brought suit for divorce against her husband, Nelson Smith, last week, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married in Portland March 10, 1898.

Mayor G. B. Dimick and Geo. L. Story have moved their law office from the Stevens block to rooms 2 and 3 in the Garde block, up stairs. They are now very conveniently and costily situated and would like for their friends to call.

Dr. Francis Freeman has removed from his office in the Willamette building to new and more commodious quarters in the Garde building. Dr. Freeman and Dr. Strickland will have their offices together in the Garde building.

The Cantata, "Christmas Angels," which was given at the Presbyterian church Christmas eve, will be repeated this evening for the benefit of those who did not have the opportunity of hearing the first renditions. No admission will be charged.

We announced last week that the teacher's meeting would be held at New Era the first Saturday in January. Superintendent Zinzer informs us that there was an error in the print, and that the meeting will be held the last Saturday in January instead of the first.

Emma B. Phillips brought suit for a divorce against George B. Phillips, her husband, in the circuit court Friday on the grounds of desertion. They were married at Seattle, Wash., in 1900, and defendant deserted plaintiff in May, 1901. The plaintiff asks custody of their child.

On account of the special local rates on the Southern Pacific from this point to Portland, passengers often stop off here in the evening for a minute or two to buy tickets, but they not by any means always get them. They get fooled, and that's where the fun comes in.

The first rural free delivery route to be established in Clackamas county will be put in operation the first day of January. It will start from Milwaukie and run in towards Clackamas, taking in a considerable part of that postoffice district.

On Monday four teams came in from Willhoit with 6200 pounds of bottled soda-water for Portland. Tuesday they returned loaded with bottles. It takes the teams from dawn till bedtime to drag themselves and load through the 25 miles of slush between Willhoit and Oregon City.

Three horizontal McCord water wheels, two of them as a pair in one frame on one shaft, are being installed in the new pulp mill of the Crown Company. The draft tube of the pair will be 26 feet long and about six feet in diameter. The combined capacity of the wheels is about 600 horse power.

Carl G. Church, formerly of this city, was married in Portland last week to Miss Nellie Ely, of Walla Walla. The wedding took place at the parsonage of the Third Presbyterian church, Rev. A. J. Montgomery officiating. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Church, old residents of Oregon City, and is well and favorably known here.

A small fire in the rear end of J. M. Price's clothing store Monday afternoon came near growing to large dimensions. The fire was started by a defective fuse. The alarm was turned in and Cataract Hose Company promptly responded, but their services were not required, as the fire was put out by the time they arrived.

Walter Gaskel, who has been in the Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland, for the past several months, on account of a fracture of a bone in the leg, was operated on a short time ago by Dr. Sommer of this city. Last week he came home cured as a result of the operation. A bone eight inches in length was removed from the leg.

Ida M. Hale, of this city, and Thomas E. Trobell, of Marion county, were united in matrimony at the home of Macy E. Hall, Christmas day, at 7:30 p. m. Rev. C. C. Sperry tied the nuptial knot in a few well and eloquently spoken words. A wedding feast was served to the invited guests, and many handsome presents were tendered the newly-mated pair. They will reside in Marion county.

Jailer Peter Nehren was the recipient of a handsome rocking chair Christmas. The chair was presented to him by Judge Ryan, County Clerk Sleight, Sheriff Shaver, Recorder Stevens, Assessor Williams, Treasurer Cahill and Superintendent Zinzer. He returned the compliment later in the day by passing around a box of fine cigars.

Oscar Foreberg, foreman of the boiler room at the Willamette paper mill, took seriously ill the day before Christmas while on his way home. He was walking on the board walk near Morey's barn when he took sick and fell in an unconscious condition. He was found later by two women, who had him taken to Bolton, where medical assistance was called. He is now convalescent.

The junk sale of land from the delinquent tax list of 1898, has been going on at the court house for the past week. Something like a thousand dollars has been realized from the sale. Of this amount amount something like $400 was realized from the sale of Gladstone property and $175 from another tract assessed to Joe Simon.

The Superintendent of public instruction announces that the next eighth grade examination for the various counties of Oregon will be held January 28, 29 and 30, April 8, 9 and 10, May 20, 21, and 22 and June 17, 18 and 19. Examinations for county papers will be held February 11, 12 and 13 and for state papers the same date.

There was an entertainment at the West Side school on the 24th given by the school. A large crowd of the patrons were present to witness the ceremonies. The exercises were well rendered and a general good time was enjoyed by both patrons and pupils. The West Side school has a hundred pupils. There are three teachers.

An evidence of the fact that there are many new families coming to Oregon, and that Clackamas county is receiving her portion, is shown in the report of a citizen of Highland. He told the Courier last week that seven families from other states had bought farms and located in his neighborhood within the past six weeks. There is plenty of available land in Clackamas county for the settler.

The United States land office in this city caused the cancellation of timber entries in Tillamook county amounting to 30,000 acres, on the ground of fraud and collusion between entrymen and parties who had arranged to buy the lands on title being secured. Chas. E. Hays was the principal contestant and Robert Sturgeon was the principal contestee. On Sturgeon's case the fate of 100 others depended.

A morphine fiend, known as "Crazy Henry," was arrested Christmas evening and tried Saturday for lunacy and ordered sent to the asylum. The man came to Oregon City from Eugene Christmas morning by boat. He had no sooner reached town than he commenced begging on the streets. His actions indicated that he was not of sound mind and Judge Ryan ordered his arrest. A bottle of morphine and some opium was found on his person.

Judgment was rendered in two cases against Thomas Hodge, who recently left Oregon City, leaving debts to the amount of $282.75. In the case of James Kiger against Hodge, the plaintiff was given verdict for the sum of $159.20. Kiser was Hodge's foreman in getting out wood for the Crown Mill, and the money was due him for wages. Everhard & Co. were given judgment for $74.62. Hodge owed them for merchandise. Hodge's property has all been attached, and it will about cover these amounts.

Double Wedding.

Two weddings took place at the Presbyterian church Monday at 11 o'clock, uniting Mr. John Jones, of Beaver Creek, and Mrs. Nancy A. Perkins, of Salem. At the same occurred the marriage of Mr. Jones' youngest daughter, Emma, to Mr. George Bichel of Portland, of Portland, Rev. Frank H. Mixsell, pastor of the church, officiating at both ceremonies. Only the immediate friends of the bridal parties were present, including Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes, of Beaver Creek, who acted as best man and lady for the former parties, while Marcus Baker, of Portland, with Mrs. Franks, acted for the last named. Friends were present in the person of Mr. and Mrs. Bickel, the parents of Mr. Bickel, Miss Guyer and Mrs. Hughes. The contracting parties will make their homes at Beaver Creek and Portland, respectively.

To Advertise the County.

C. N. Plowman & Company, a local real estate firm, have contracted with a local job office for the printing of 10,000 16-page circulars which will be sent east for the purpose of advertising Clackamas county. It is thought that the pamphlets will assist in bringing much immigration to this county. The Courier will begin work next week on a mammoth trade and advertising edition which will be destined to assist in the same cause, only on a more elaborate scale. If trade justifies it the trade edition of the Courier will be one of the finest editions of the kind ever gotten out by a county paper in Oregon. We will have in a few days samples of a similar edition which we got up in Kentucky, which was said to have eclipsed anything of the kind ever undertaken in the south. Space in this edition will be sold at reasonable rates. Any one interested can get what information they want by calling at this office.
