Miss Hazel Pilbury, of Portland, visited friends in Oregon City last week.

Dr. M. C. Strickland returned home last week from New York, where he has been for the past few months taking a post-graduate course. He was snow bound at Sidney, Nebraska, for two days, and delayed by the switchmen's strike on the Union Pacific at Cheyenne.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace entertained a number of their friends at a social party Monday evening. The social was a church social given to the Presbyterian church. Misses Horn and Fairclough and the minister, Mr. Mixsell, furnished diversion in the way of vocal music. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

On Sunday afternoon, the aged Rev. Bro. Matthews, who was accompanied by the majority of his congregation, by request of Mrs. Susan Porter, aged 88 years and unable to leave her room, held divine services at the home of W. H. H. Samson. Mrs. Porter is a pioneer of 1850 and the mother of Mrs. Samson.

Mrs. Thomas Armstrong and sister, Mrs. John Armstrong, are visiting their mother, Mrs. Michael Davoren, at Clackamas this week. Mrs. Davoren is an Australian by birth, having come from the land of Kangaroos in 1872, settling at Sunnyside. While away the Mesdames Armstrong will visit their sisters, Mrs. James Cruikshank.

William Bryan, of Molalla, was a caller at the Courier office Saturday and ordered the Courier sent back East to one of his good friends, who is a staunch republican. Mr. Bryan has recently returned from a visit to his native state, Ohio. He thinks that he will not long remain a resident of Oregon, at least of the west of the mountains country, because of the state of his health.

The Stanford Mandolin and Glee Club gave a most enjoyable concert Saturday evening at Shively's opera house under the auspices of Clackamas Council, No. 3007, Royal Arcanum. At the close of the concert the clubs were given a reception at Willamette hall by Clackama council. The guests were entertained by dancing and refreshments and at the close the clubs sang several songs of welcome.

John Holcomb, a farm hand, was held up on the Molalla road just outside of town Saturday night and relieved of $4.50 in change. He was driving along in a buggy when two men stepped into the road and demanded that he hand over his money. Holcomb told the men that he had not a cent. He was made to get out of the buggy and one of the highwaymen went through his pockets. Four dollars and a half were found. After having been relieved of his money Holcomb was allowed to proceed to his home. There is no clew as to who the guilty parties are.

D. W. Kinnaird, an old resident of Oregon City, who has been holding down a good job with Uncle Sam for the past half dozen years as inspector of government surveys, is at home for the balance of the winter, enjoying shaking hands with old friends and making new ones. Mr. Kinnaird has been in the southern and eastern part of the state for the past few months, checking up behind the contract surveyors. He occupies one of the most responsible positions in the government service and holds his job down with great ease. He is a good fellow, well liked by all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance.

Mrs. Allan Ellsworth, of Portland, was an Oregon City visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. J. M. Lawrence, of Portland, visited her mother, Mrs. O. T. Williams, during the week.

Harry Barret, who has been spending the holidays with friends in Oregon City, has returned to Portland to resume his studies at the Portland Business College.

Mrs. O. H. McCutchan, of Stockton, Calif., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. O'Neill.

Judge J. H. Westover, wife and sons and R. L. Westover local editor of the Courier were the guests of Mayor Grant B. Dimick and his good wife at dinner on New Years day.

Hon. Corwin D. Shank, a leading lawyer of the city of Seattle, passed through Oregon City last week on his way home from a trip through the Middle Western States, and stopped with his brother, W. M. Shank, the undertaker, for a short time.

Mr. A. J. Walker, of Mayville, Eastern Oregon and who once lived in this valley is visiting his brother, A. Walker and his daughter, Mrs. Ferd Curren of Elyville. Mr. Walker is a carpenter and says that all kinds of business in Eastern Oregon is very fair indeed.

Mrs. J. W. Currin, of Ely, is ill.

Dr. Beard will establish his office in the Charman block.

Miss Annie English, of Clatskanie, is the guest of the Misses Albright.

Wiley May, of Ely, celebrated New Year's day by laying the foundation timbers for his new houses.

Mrs. P. Roberts' son, Robert, has been ill for four years and as there is no possibility of his recovery the outlook of mother and son into the new year is indeed cheerless.

A marriage license was granted to James Parrish and Mary Walton Wednesday.

The Oregon City football team and the Portland Stars are engaged in a game of football as we go to press.

The Mothers' Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Brownell in the afternoon of January 8th, at 2:30.

The other day, there was brought to light in Pope & Co.'s store a lot of E. B. Manning's Britannia ware, patented in 1802, which came to Oregon around the Horn.

Lard titles examined and abstracts made. I guarantee to defeat any tax title or tax deed in Clackamas county otherwise no charge made. Money loaned.

G. B. DIMICK, Lawyer, Oregon City, Or.

County Clerk F. A. Sleight says the proportion of marriage licenses to the number of divorce suits filed during the year 1902 in Clackamas county are about 75 to 50. Of the divorce suits filed, however, a major portion comes from Multnomah and other counties in the state.

G. H. Young, of the firm of Dickson & Young, saloonists, has bought his partner's interest in the business and will have sole control of the house in the future. Mr. Young proposes to make extensive improvements in the place and invites all his friends to come in and see him.

Chas. Stewart, an old and honorable citizen of the Carus community, was in town Tuesday and paid the Courier a pleasant call, renewing his subscription for a couple of years in advance. Mr. Stewart is a Buckeye by birth, but left his native state more than forty years ago. While a native of the great republican state of Ohio, he is a staunch Democrat and a great admirer of Bryan. Mr. Stewart has lived in the Webfoot state only three years, having lived in Dakota and Missouri the remainder of the time since leaving Ohio.

The mask ball at the Armory, given by the Les Papillons Club of this city, was attended by a large number of invited guests on the night of the 27th. There were many elaborate costumes, both comic and fancy, on the floor. The music was fine and the dancing was good. The music was furnished by Turney's orchestra and was very good. The Les Papillons dancing club is composed of five of Oregon City's most prominent young society men, viz: Wm. Marshall, Chas. Babcock, Mort Latourette, Chas. Schram and Tom Meyers.

A reunion of the Boylan family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Green last Tuesday evening. Almost half of the various branches of the family in Clackamas county were present. The evening was spent in relating reminiscences of other days, while music and singing went far towards making the time fly more swiftly. All present reported themselves as exceedingly well satisfied with the reunion, and all claim to have enjoyed themselves greatly. The Boyles family in Clackamas county number something like two hundred, and they probably have more relatives in Clackamas county than any other family in it.

The mask ball at the Armory, given by Turney, the photographer, Christmas night, was very largely attended and was a highly successful affair. Many elaborate costumes were worn by the assembled merry-makers—some showy, some comic, some grotesque, and the hours sped away very swiftly indeed. Prizes were awarded for the fanciest costumes and for the most comic. The first prize was won by Mrs. Butler for a fancy costume. Second by Ike Turney, while the comic prizes were carried off by Mrs. Mack and Walter McCulley. The dancers enjoyed a very pleasant night and the morning hours were coming on apace when the last guest departed.

M. Justin will open a paint shop between the junk store and Weisner's photograph gallery. He was formerly situated in the Methodist church building. In his new place he will handle wall paper, paints, oil and lino, the wall finish.

The Lord's Supper will be commemorated at the Congregational church next Sunday morning. Mrs. Wiggins will sing a solo. In the evening Pastor Bollinger will preach a New Year's sermon on the theme "Come out from under the Juniper Trees." The choir will be strengthened and good music will be the aim of the new year.

"Some time go my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annapolis Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which was undoubtedly ward off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by G. A. Harding.

Positively selling at cost at the Racket Store.

Remarkable Cure of Croup.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my boy's life and feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere, of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long stringers. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa. For sale by G. A. Harding.

A Broken Wire.

Friday night was a lively one with the Portland General Electric Company's plant in this city. A wire in the armature of one of the dynamos broke at about 5:30 o'clock, and as a result 21 cables over the switchboard were burned out. For a short time a serious fire was threatened and was narrowly averted. A large force of men were sent from Portland to assist the men at the station. Forty-two splices were necessary in order to make the repairs. After four hours of hard work temporary repairs were made so that the power could be turned on. Oregon City was not affected by the mishap. The loss to the company was something like $2000.

Swell Social Event.

One of those delightful surprises which comes but once in life was tendered to C. G. Miller on Main street on Tuesday afternoon by the elite of Oregon City's swell set. The occasion was the wooden anniversary of the marriage of Mrs. Miller. The ladies who were "particeps criminis" to the surprise met early in the afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Charles Babcock, and went in a body to lovely home of Mrs. Miller. The doors were thrown open and the lady was delightfully surprised to see so many of her friends standing at her threshold. For the remainder of the afternoon her home was a scene of much revelry and great rejoicing. Two lovely antique chairs were presented to Mrs. Miller. The presentation speech being made by Mrs. A. S. Dresser, to which a sweet response was made by the hostess. The afternoon hours were passed very pleasantly. A cake guessing contest excited much rivalry. Mrs. J. C. Hedges and Mrs. Clinton Latourette were each so expert in the cake guessing line that the committee decided that they were a tie. They drew for the prize and Mrs. Hedges was declared to be the winner. The prize was a burnt wood picture frame. Mrs. Gault received the booby prize, a wooden spoon and fork. Elaborate refreshments were served and the entire affair was declared to be one of the most enjoyable and elaborate seen in Oregon City for a long time. The following society ladies of Oregon City were present: Mesdames J. C. Hedges C. G. Huntley, J. C. Lewis, F. F. Griffith, L. Jones, T. J. Ryan, A. H. Holman, A. Dresser, L. Charman, A. Warner, H. Moody, G. Warner, C. Caulfield, V. Harris, A. Elsworth, L. Shepherd, E. E. Charman, Ed. Caulfield, H. Straight, A. J. Lewthwaite, Wm. Anderson, Zumwalt, John Clark, Will Howell, T. Warner, J. W.
