LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Howard and Jack Latourette and Don Meldrum, who have been spending the holidays with their parents and friends in this city, left Monday morning for Eugene, where they are attending the State University.

C. G. Holt, of the Sunnyside Milling Company, has been in Oregon City and Clackamas county for several days on business connected with his mines. He reports the outlook for minerals as very good indeed.

E. T. Grider, at one time and for many years mail carrier between this city and Wilsonville, was in town Monday, the first time for many months. Mr. Grider is now salesman for the prosperous firm of Peters Bros. at Wilsonville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Evans entertained a jolly crowd at cards on New Year's Eve. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frissell, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Patz-off. Cards were indulged in until a late hour, when light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Grace, of Sixth street, entertained a few of their friends at cards on Tuesday night. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Fairclough, S. Scott, Charles R. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Westover and R. Lee Westover. Cards and music prevailed until a late hour, after which an elegant lunch was served.

Mr. Buckbee, who is employed in Portland, has vacated his house standing on the southern edge at the Kansas City canyon, because he is afraid it will slide into the depths. It may stand as it is until it rots, or it may toboggan down the yellow clay during the next heavy rain. Only a massive retaining wall below the house would make it secure. The loss to Mr. B. and his family is quite serious.

Ewing C. Adams, pressman for the Webb City (Mo.) Daily Sentinel, and W. H. Moore, a telegraph operator from the same city, dropped off the local passenger train here Thursday afternoon to await the arrival of the overland for the south. Both are mere boys, neither being more than seventeen or eighteen years of age. They left home some two weeks ago on a ticket of leave for a journey through the Western States and came by way of Edgemont, Butte, Spokane, Seattle and Portland. They will stop two weeks in Los Angeles, from whence they will return home.

The Needy school will give an entertainment and basket social on the 26th inst. for the benefit of a school library.

J. J. Gard and his three sons, and his son-in-law, H. G. Lee, have homesteaded over 800 acres on the Agency Plains in Crook county. Milo Gard and his son have taken claims in the same vicinity.

The new walk up Falls View is completed, and a stroll to that elevated and airy portion of the city is now a matter of ease and pleasure. The view one gets from the Falls View plateau is well worth the leisurely, easy climb.

An item in these columns some two weeks ago, stating that William Blount had sold his fine farm near Canby and would return to England to live, seems to have been a mistake. Mr. Blount says that he has no intention of leaving this part of the world.

Annie L. Clowser has brought suit for a divorce in the circuit court against her husband, John Clowser, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and non-support. The plaintiff asks for the custody of the two minor children. The parties both live at Barlow.

A delightful party was given by Chas. Bard and sister at their home on Wednesday evening of last week. The evening was spent in games until midnight when luncheon was served, after which the goodbyes were said with regret that the evening was not longer.

The Courier office is greatly indebted to Mr. S. Pierce, of Ely, for a lovely bouquet of flowers from his extensive green houses on the hill. Mr. Pierce is one of the enterprising citizens of Oregon City, and as a horticulturist and conservator of fine flowers has few equals in this part of the world.

Miss A. M. Shafer and Benjamin Germain were married in St. Paul's Episcopal church last Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. P. K. Hammond officiating. The newly-wedded pair left over the electric road for Portland, from whence they took passage over the S. P. for California.

Mrs. Ella H. Robinson, of the state of Washington, who was in her girlhood a typewriter in the Enterprise office, has become a writer of no little reputation. In one month she has published four works. Some of the poetry she has written is instinct with the life of the Northwest, and really beautiful.

About a fortnight ago Paul Miller lost a cow through poisoning. It is believed that a weed having a small red flower that made a horse belonging to him sick, but which he cured with medicine obtained through a veterinary surgeon, caused the death of the cow. The weed is found in hay and in pastures.

A most delightful surprise was tendered on the evening of January 3, to Eugene Lewellen, Emery Cromer and P. A. Smith by Henry Cromer and wife, of whom they were guests. The evening was spent in games, after which elaborate refreshments were served. The guests then departed declaring the entire affair to be one of the most enjoyable and elaborate seen in Springfield for a long time.

We have been informed that since the drowning of Robert Graham in the Molalla river, near Liberal last week, that it is almost impossible for the men who operate the piling camp to secure laborers enough to carry on the work. Several quit the next day, and the company immediately raised the price of wages and are now paying three dollars and a half a day and board, but even at this very high price men cannot be secured.

The monthly report of the United States land office for December is as follows: Acres embraced in homestead entries, 4474 81; final homestead proofs; 4; acres embraced in final homestead proofs, 398.60; timber entries, 21; acres embraced in timber entries, 3710.32; cash sales, 38; acres embraced in cash sales, 3063.67; amount received from cash sales, $10,028.59; fees and commissions, $826.85; total amount received, $10,854.44.

A sensational report was published in Portland papers Monday afternoon concerning the disappearance of Rev. W. S. Grimm, of the Methodist church of this city. Mr. Grimm turned up the next day sound and well. He had been to the coast to see his timber claim, and because he was a day or two day late Oregon City correspondents concluded that he had been drowned or lost in the woods. Mr. Grimm was detained by high water and did not fill his regular appointment at the Methodist church as usual last Sunday.

J. W. Dowty, one of the prominent farmers of Corvallis, was in town on Monday on business. Mr. Dowty has been a citizen of Clackamas county for twelve years. He believes in the future of the county. He says that the only drawback to the county, and that is its roads, and they have improved 1000 per cent. in the last twelve years. Mr. Dowty is an old line democrat, and says if the party gets back to first principles it will win yet. He thinks that William Randolph Hearst, of New York and California, is the most available and the best man to nominate for president next time by the Democratic party. Mr. Dowty is largely interested in the breeding of short horn cattle. He has some fine ones on his farm, some in fact of the best in the Willamette valley.

The annual business meeting of the Congregational church was held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 30, 1902. Fourteen reports from as many departments were read. The financial reports were especially satisfactory. Over $900 was paid during the year for the final liquidation of the church debt. In the various treasuries, after all obligations were met, there is a surplus of nearly $150. The resident membership has also materially increased. The officers whose terms had expired were all re-elected, and are: Mrs. F. F. White, clerk; Mrs. T. L. Charman, treasurer; C. H. Dye and Mrs. H. Stevens, trustees. The Sunday school having recommended C. H. Dye for its superintendent, he was re-elected for his sixth year. A thorough canvass is being made for all the expenses for the new year, and the board of trustees will give the complete result of the canvass to the annual roll call meeting and social next Thursday evening. The pastor, Rev. E. E. Bollinger, will soon enter upon his fifth year of service, and all relations in the church are most happy and harmonious.

Revival Services.

Revival services will begin in the Baptist church in this city on Sunday, January 18th, next. Rev. Dr. Shepardon, of Boston, Massachusetts, will be present and do the preaching. The Methodists, who are having their church house rebuilt, will join with the Baptist in these services, and the revival will be a union meeting. There will be two meetings each day. The afternoon meeting will be at 2:30 o'clock and will be in the nature of a bible reading. The evening services will consist of song service and preaching. The song service to begin at 7:30 o'clock and the preaching at 8 o'clock.

There's Peace.

The protest of the painters' union, continued for weeks, against the course pursued by S. S. Mohler, painter and contractor, and Johnson & Andrews, contractors and carpenters ended at the meeting on Monday evening in what seems to amount to a splitting of differences and calling it about square. The situation for the union, is rather peculiar. It is said that 20 painters are outside of it, and its present membership counts eight, the majority of them being contractors. If that be true, the painters' union can have no very hard kick coming. Self interest prompts the painters to act in unionism. Some years ago, they also got at outs, cut prices, and painting was done so cheaply in Oregon City that some of them lost several hundred dollars during one summer's cut-throat competition. A committee of three from the painters, carpenters and federated trades will make investigations and report.

Maps Free.

The Illinois Central Railroad office, at Portland, Oregon, has a small supply of nicely mounted wall maps of the United States, 32x30 inches, also Cuba and Porto Rico, enlarged. If you will send us ten cents, in stamps, we will prepay the postage and send you one of these handsome maps by return mail.

If you intend going East, or know of any one coming West, from any point east or south of St. Paul, Omaha or St. Louis, we would appreciate the opportunity of writing to you or your friends about the details. To say that is the purpose of this advertisement, but the maps are free. Address: D. H. Trumbull, 142 Third street, Portland, Oregon.
