LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Concerning Matters of Moment to Clackamas County Citizens.

NEEDY, Or., Jan. 2, 1903.

Editor of Courier—The taxpayers of Clackamas county should thank you very much for showing up the methods used by political feeding boosters to reap wealth out of their fellowman's misfortune.

We sincerely hope the showing up of the rapacious truculence practiced by the boodle sheet is out the entering wedge that will eventually split the party of broken promises in twain.

What the taxpayers have needed for years in this county was a journal that would defend them and their interests from the misapplication of funds—that is technically drained from the farms—also one that would not for a bribe cover up a fraud.

We believe that the Oregon City Courier rather than stultify itself by truckling after politicians whose ways are shady and methods devious would consign itself boots, press and all to the beautiful old Willamette river (a suitable repository for those who to a remarkable degree are very similar to the drone and are usually found in and about political centers.)

The time was never more auspicious for the tearing up of our rotten political plank, and we hope you will continue the work so well begun.

Let's all hail the Oregon City Courier and its Kentucky editor, and wish it many prosperous and Happy New Years. UTAH HEAP.

EDITOR OREGON CITY COURIER: Please allow us a small space in your paper in which to register a "kick" G. W. Keller, G. W. Burdick and myself are owners of donation land claims which we wanted divided in accordance with the deeds which we hold.

There is a great deal of valuable timber on a part of the land, and at places on the line it is very thick. To have cut the trees would have destroyed a great deal of this valuable timber, and have taken many days of unnecessary labor, giving the surveyor a long job at five dollars a day, which was so unjust that we settled with him for the time and stopped the expense.

How is it that the U. S. government had all the land surveyed and never thought of destroying the timber? The whole United States, not alone, but the whole civilized world has been surveyed without a thought of such a thing?

by his refusing to survey our land without destroying our timber, or are we under a monarchical form of government, where the people have no redress whatever? E. LACKY. Dodge, Clackamas Co., Jan. 5.

Sandy. Born, Dec. 6, to the wife of P. R. Meinig, a son. This accounts for the smile that Paul wears.

Born, Dec. 24, to the wife of Robert Jonshrud, a daughter.

Discussion at Molalla. Elder J. H. Moore, of the Church of Christ, and Elder T. H. Starbuck, Seventh Day Adventist, have agreed to hold a joint discussion on the Sabbath question at Molalla, beginning Jan. 13th, at 7 p. m., to continue at least five evenings.

1. Do the Scriptures teach that the seventh day is to be observed by Christians as a day of worship? J. H. Moore affirms, T. H. Starbuck denies.

2. Do the Scriptures teach that the first day is to be observed by Christians as a day of worship? J. H. Moore affirms, T. H. Starbuck denies.

Meeting of Soldiers. HUBBARD, Or., Jan. 11, 1903.

Editor Courier—Will you kindly give notice in your much-esteemed paper, that the surviving members of the 1st Oregon Cavalry and the 1st Oregon Infantry (Oregon's Boys in Blue) of 1861-1865 will hold a joint reunion in the council chamber, (city hall), Salem, on February 3rd, at 1 o'clock p. m. and at 7:30 in the evening.

The afternoon will be a business meeting of the veterans of those two old regiments, and the meeting in the evening will consist of an open camp fire, to which all veterans who at any time stood in defense of "Old Glory" and the general public are cordially invited.

J. B. DIMICK.
