Without.

February the twenty-third finds the people of this country in good health and as hopeful as ever.

O. S. Boyles stepped in his home Saturday night unexpectedly, in good health after walking through the deep snow. He is hopeful of making something in return, for his trouble and expense, as timber grows on the high mountains. Lying out in the snow without bedding is hard.

Chas. Pelkey's house in this neighborhood which was occupied by a family by the name of Melton, was burned to ashes in daylight a few days ago. It is supposed it was robbed for he said he had $240 or $500 in gold in the house and nothing of the money was found excepting a nickel and a penny. It is hard to be robbed of your hard earnings. Nothing was saved but a few things on the open porch.

The great timber sales along the Molalla seems to be a failure, from some cause.

L. B. Trullinger is going to leave us for a few months. He expects to go to Eastern Oregon to work.

A man by the name of Howe is going to live on the Trullinger place. Mr. Howe is lately from the East.

The Russellville school commences Monday next with Miss C. Hamilton as teacher.

Mrs. Wingfield's youngest daughter and grand-children gave her a birthday dinner at Mrs. O. S. Boyles, Mr. Wingfield was 56 years of age.

PANSY.

Wm. Morey and wife of Portland are visiting relatives and friends for a few days.

Jessie Adkins is very low and is not expected to live. His children are all called to the bed side.

W. H. Cochran, of Needy and daughters were pleasant callers Sunday.

The new shingle mill, it is said, going up on the Klinger place is to cut white fir shingle as well as cedar.

S. Wright's two dogs caused a little excitement to-day. Men went and got their guns and broke for the woods where they expected to see a bear, but it was only a grey squirrel up a tree.

The hayseeds are busy this good weather. They are seeding at a lively rate.

All of the spring birds are here so it must be spring.

Stock is thin but the grass is starting and will not be more than a month's feeding.

Quite a nice band of quails are in this section. Now boys let them alone.

J. E. Coates launched his new boat, and he put on a full head of steam and went up stream as fast as a salmon could swim. Swift water is not in his way.

SYLVIA.

Ralph Howard is hauling lumber for Chas. Spence. We wonder what struck Chas.

Will Jones is grabbing out his hopyard.

The dance at Ed Howard's Saturday was a decided success also "Smithy's" fight.

Dr. and Mrs. R. Goucher called on Ben Faust of Graham Sunday.

Sam Crader has his house nearly completed.

The dance and party at Helvey's was a success, especially the supper and clog dance, in which Dr. Goucher took 1st prize,

BACHELOR.

Park Place.

Miss Daisy Rivers, daughter of Mrs. Mac Rivers, one of the sweetest and best young ladies of this place, was married in the Calvary Baptist church Portland, Wednesday evening, to Chas. Johnson, a moulder. The parents and the brother and sister of the bride went down to witness the ceremony. We wish them, all the joy and prosperity obtainable in this life.

Macksburg.

Fine weather is prevailing with the thermometer above 40; from the 10th to the 20th, not a drop of rain or a flake of snow fell here.

We hear so much said about Marconi's wonderful invention--the wireless telegraph. We think this invention was made by the Lord when he pronounced Adam and Eve as man and wife. Hurrah! For the new invention. I'm sure it will make you laugh, the lovers' telegraph.

Since our last report death has reaped its harvest and called into eternity three of our most popular young people, the first being in the person of Mrs. Hattie, wife of Frank Murdock. Next followed her was her six months' old infant, and last but not least one of our best liked young men in the whole community, George Hames. He was one of the most humorous and jolliest boys we ever knew of, and his untimely demise was indeed a very sad one. He was also one of Clackamas county's champion wheelmen who carried off first prize in most of the wheel races. How cruel is the Angel of Death, who comes like a thief in the night to sever the ties of our most intimate and beloved sons and daughters, wives, husbands and all who fall before the morning sun.

Hoop View.

Martin Tauchman is erecting a new chopping mill in the creek near his place and he expects to run his chopper by water power.
