HOT ROAST.

HANDED TO THE HONORABLE
GEORGE C. BROWNELL.

Condemned by Labor Unions of Oregon City.

For Willfully Betraying the Trust Committed to His Hands.

The roast handed out to the Honorable George C. Brownell the erstwhile Senator from Clackamas county in the recent Legislature for the state of Oregon was hot enough to burn the eyebrows. If the Honorable George C. has not some burnt spots on him it is because he is impervious to "hot things" and his political "hide" is made out of asbestos. It seems that last June when Senator Brownell was making his race for reelection to the Senate from this county, he promised the labor organizations of this city and in fact in all the state that he would see to it that all of the bills wanted by the labor organization in the state should be placed upon the statute books of Oregon and that he was the man who could do it and that he would give his personal guarantee of honor as a man that the making eight hours a day labor in every mill, mine and factory and every place where skilled or unskilled labor was employed, should be enacted into law.

When the time came one of two things happened. Either Senator Brownell could not redeem his promise or he did not want to redeem them. In either event, the labor unions of this city are mad and say they have been basely betrayed by one whose election they made possible by their votes. Mr. Brownell would not have been re-elected to the Senate had it not been for the laboring votes of Oregon City.

Since the Legislature has adjourned and its doing have become a matter of history, the labor people have been getting ready to take a fall out of the "Big" Senator. The scrap came off on Monday night at the Redmen's hall. After the meeting was over, all that was left of the Honorable George C. as the old darky would say "was a little greasy spot and a bad smell."

The meeting was an adjourned meeting for the purpose of taking action on the Senators case. Nearly every labor organization in the city and county was represented. The meeting was hot from the go in. One hundred laboring men were present and they were hot. Among them were some good friends of Senator Brownell who tried their best to stave off the action of the meeting. Resolutions were introduced and the speech making began in earnest. Some wanted to wait and see what explanation the Senator would make, the majority however were for taking the skin off at once. After a pro and con debate until late in the night a vote was taken upon the resolutions presented concerning the Senator and the Judiciary committee of the late defunct legislature and they were previously condemned by a vote of ten to one about one hundred persons voting. The following is a copy of the resolutions adopted.

We the members of the several labor organizations of Oregon City Affiliated with the Federated Trades and Labor unions pass the following Resolutions condemning the members of the Judiciary committee and also the action of Senator Brownell from this county. Resolved that in the sense of this meeting that we condemn the action of the Judiciary committee in reporting adversely on labor bills 148 and 149 and for not letting these bills come before the Senate for consideration and, therefore be it Resolved, that Senator George C. Brownell posing himself as a friend of labor for the purposes of securing votes in Clackamas county did say that if he was elected Senator he would secure the passage of these labor bills referred to in the above; Therefore be it resolved that we as labor people do hereby condemn the said George C. Brownell for speaking the untruth in regard to labor principals and also condemn him as a traitor to all organized labor in Oregon and would recommend that in the future that we as labor Union people withdraw all of our political support from the said George C. Brownell.

Committee.

In order to counteract the effect of these resolutions Senator Brownell has advertised a meeting for Thursday night at the Armory and will make a speech in defense of his action. His old glee club will be with him and he promises to say something that is interesting. The trouble seems to be that Senator Brownell has made so many promises that their redemption will be almost a matter of impossibility.

The labor union trouble are not all of the trouble that the Senator has on his hands. It now turns out that as many as four candidates for United States Senator claim that the Honorable George C. was pledged to them in their races for Senator.

The following from the Morning Oregonian tells its own story.
Senator Brownell publishes, or allows to be published, the following telegram; Hon George C. Brownell, Salem, Or. Now is the time. If you can help me it will be appreciated. H. W. SCOTT.
Received by Brownell at 10:15 p. m., Friday, February 20, 1903.

This telegram was sent to Mr. Brownell in response to his own invitation. He had visited Mr. Scott a few days before, and professed his support, when it might be available or should be wanted. Mr. Scott answered that he had no intention of becoming a candidate; whereupon Mr. Brownell said that many were desirous of using Mr. Scott's name and requested Mr. Scott to notify him if the time came when he could be of service. At a late hour it was decided by the Multnomah delegation to submit Mr. Scott's name. Therefore, in pursuance of Mr. Brownell's invitation and request, he sent the above telegram. On his own account he cares nothing about the publication of it. To the judgement of the public he leaves Mr. Brownell; about whom, however, there is likely to be much more to say.

BOARD OF TRADE.

To Be Re-organized and Steps Taken to Advertise County.

At the meeting of business men of Oregon City last Monday evening, the advisability of re-organizing the defunct Board of Trade was discussed pro and con. Nearly all of those present were of the opinion that such steps should be taken, and a resolution was put and carried that a mass meeting be held two weeks from that date, at which action would be taken on the matter. At this meeting it is hoped to have a much larger turnout of citizens and business men than on last Monday evening. It was generally agreed that the board of trade had accomplished much good in the past, and that much more good could be accomplished by it in the future.

It was also proposed that some means be taken to advertise the resources of Clackamas county. Under a recent act of the Legislature any county may expend a thousand dollars of its funds for advertising purposes, and the feasibility of this county doing so will be discussed at this meeting. Some are in favor of not only using the thousand dollars that the county is allowed to appropriate but of raising a subscription of a thousand more, so that two thousand dollars is likely to be expended in advertising to the outside world the various industries and resources of Clackamas county. At the meeting on Monday night a week it is hoped that not only every business man in the city will be present but that there will be a large attendance from the country.

TEXTILE UNION'S SOCIAL.

Successful Affair at Willamette Hall Wednesday Evening.

One of the most successful as well as one of the most enjoyable social affairs held in Oregon City for a good while, came off at the Willamette hall Wednesday evening, at which the textile workers entertained their friends and families. The hall was well-filled with both young and old, and a program was rendered in a manner that reflected credit upon all who took part.

Mr. G. Y. Harry, president of the State Federation of Labor, and made a talk which was greatly appreciated. His speech was along labor lines. Mr. Thomas, manager of the Labor Press and Mr. Jones sang a duet, in a manner that elicited much applause. They were followed by a very brief address from Mr. F. Rogers, from Sacramento, who complimented them very highly on their splendid achievement as an entertaining union.

After the literary features of the program there was a dance, which was engaged in till an early hour Thursday morning.

Aaron Jones, the highest official in the Patrons of Husbandry in the world, has been secured to deliver an address to the Grangers and citizens of Clackamas county at Shively's hall on next Thursday afternoon at 1:30. Mr. Jones is not only the head and front of the organization of the Patrons of Husbandry but is a captivating speaker. The public are very cordially invited to come out and hear him.

Clackamas County Teachers Meeting.

A very interesting meeting was held at Canby, Feb. 28th. Superintendent Zinser presided and Miss Nefzger secretary pro tem.

During the morning session a series of questions on school law were asked by Superintendent Zinser. This was an instructive and pleasing part of the program. A few short talks on improvement of school grounds by State Superintendent Ackerman and Superintendent Zinser and some others were followed by a bountiful lunch served by the ladies of Canby.

The lunch was served in the city hall and at 1:30 the meeting was continued.

Miss Matthews, of St. Helens Hall, gave an instructing talk on literature in our public schools.

Mr. Reed, principal of Milwaukie, schools, gave a talk on spelling. Mr. Reed suggested that we use the words that occur in our lessons as spelling taught in that manner has a better result than simply so many words taught from the speller.

The next feature was an address by State Supt. J. H. Ackerman on changes in our school law.

Instead of a school tax of five mills being levied for school purposes there will be $6 for each pupil of school age that is between the ages of four and 20 residing in the county. This will be apportioned in the regular way, $50 for each district then the remainder pro ratio. There is also a change in the powers of the district boundary boards. The greatest change will be in the matter of uniting several districts and of transporting pupils to and from school. Mr. Ackerman deserves great credit for his influence in these matters.

There will be no meeting during March.

A great many of the patrons of the various districts near Canby attended and taken altogether this was one of the best institutes held this year. The pupils of the Canby school furnished an excellent program which was rendered immediately after lunch.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS.

Walk Out on a Strike Because One of Their Number is Suspended.

Because one of their number had been temporarily suspended for bad conduct seven young men of the Barclay High school picked up their books and went out on a strike Tuesday.

The boys claim that Superintendent John Faulk, has no control over his pupils and uses up-to-date slang when speaking to them that is by no means agreeable.

Previous to the strike, or walk out, a union had been organized by the pupils of the 12th grade, and when the boy in question had been suspended by the Superintendent, all save one picked up their books and left the school, vowing that they would not return until something had been done. There are twelve or fourteen pupils in the 12th grade and all, including the girls, were members of the union.

While the girls did not go out, the boys claim that they are in entire sympathy with them in the strike, and the only reason that they did not go out was because they did not care to be seen walking on the streets. The boys say they will submit their case to the Board of Directors, who will act as an arbitration committee, and whatever decision the board arrives at they will abide by.
