Spraying Dos Pay

And is Necessary to Insure Crops

The subject of spraying fruit trees and small fruits has been so thoroughly discussed and written up in all its details and different phases in fruit growing periodicals and agricultural journals, coupled with the fact that every fruit growing State has its own Experiment Station, Agricultural Society or College from which documents and bulletins are issued free to its residents on application, giving results of experiments, different formulas for all kinds of insects and trees, in the most approved and scientific manner, containing complete information, and how and when to apply it, thus establishing the fact that spraying does pay, and is necessary to insure crops

THE SITUATION.
NEEDY, Or., March 4, 1903.
Editor Courier—In sending this first communication to the Courier under the new management, we trust that by so doing we are not intruding upon the good nature and sound judgment of those who now control its destiny. It has been our custom, heretofore, to express opinions thro the columns of the Courier from time to time, altho differing from the editor in political views, and we hope, Mr. Editor that the Courier in the future, as in the past, will continue to be the grand medium thro which thought and sentiment can be expressed in favor of human improvement, regardless of political differences. We are now in the midst of stirring events and exciting times. The world is in a fever, and sir, whether the malady shall prove fatal or not, whether the races of the earth shall soon rush into mad conflict and eventually destroy the best there is in each, or not. Whether slavery or freedom shall be the ultimate destiny of man, hangs upon the remedy we apply and by whose hands it is applied. Go where you will, o'er all the world, among every race, in every land and you will find only two classes of human beings, those who toil and those who do not, and to whichever class we belong, it will determine our sympathies and conduct.
If those who toil are not allowed to apply the remedy, then bondage will be the fate of those who toil and freedom the lot of those who do not. If those who toil will apply the just remedy then the toilers will be freemen and those who refuse to labor will be given the opportunity to earn their bread by the "sweat of their brow," or "die as the fool dieth."
I am aware, Mr. editor, that poverty, lean and gaunt has been sneaking thro our land the past few years, devouring whatever pleased its appetite. I am aware that the general managers of prosperity have grown corpulent as a result. I am further aware Mr. editor, that the operators of general prosperity have leftthmillions of workmen and women throout this land in a condition that borders on starvation. Dare capital deny it? Are we not on the verge of another panic? Are they not beginning to "gather in the sheaves" once more? And then how much will remain for a future raid?
Capital now, by its repeated raids during the past 80 years, has in its possession every manufacturing establishment in the land. Every dollar of money, three-fourths of all the real estate, every coal mine, every rail road, almost every church, nearly every school house is bonded to them. In fact, everything is either owned or controlled by capital, and you, dear reader, whether farmer or mechanic, whether school teacher or preacher, are given or allowed you for our services, and you are only a slave in the land your fathers died to free.
Mr. editor, we believe the time has come when men and women everywhere regardless of partisan views, should face the issue before us in earnest. Let us take for our guiding principle the proverb, "he who will not work neither shall he eat." Let us study and reflect upon this truth, "every man is entitled to all he produces." Workingmen, strengthen your organizations and learn your rights and be not at all to assert them. Let us, as working men, learn well the lessons of justice and right, and let us surely will, we are then prepared to enjoy the co-operative commonwealth.
ROBERT GIBBELL.
