J. A. Martin, a prominent capitalist of Portland, was in Oregon City Wednesday enroute to the Springwater country where he expects to make a large land purchase.

There is an opening in Oregon City for a steam laundry, run by white people. A good business man could make money out of it. The two Chinese wash houses have large patronage.

The Women of Woodcraft gave a ball at Woodmen's hall St. Patrick's evening which was well attended. Dancing continued till a late hour and a general good time was enjoyed by all present.

Peas are several inches high in the field of the Chinese truck gardeners. Soon these industrial Orientals will supply us with that toothsome specific against smallpox (ask the doctor) lettuce.

Last week E. Austin and son and R. J. F. Mill received a new Russell steam boiler and fixtures for their sawmill near Liberal, a mile above the Wright bridge. They will in the future be able to cut 8000 to 10,000 feet a day.

"The Mystic Midgets," played by a home talent company at the opera house Friday and Saturday evening, was witnessed by only a fair audience, although the entertainment was in every respect a most worthy one, and deserving of the patronage of the people. The Willamette Chautauqua Association is arranging for a goodly array of speakers at the meeting in Gladstone in July. United States Senator, J. P. Doliver, of Iowa, will lecture on "Public Virtue," as a question of policy and other subjects of interest. Newell Dwight Hillis, of Beecher's Plymouth church, Brooklyn, has also been secured, while many other speakers of national reputation will be on hand.

Z. T. Wood, of this city, who has been working for the Bridal Veil Lumber Company in the Cascade range, has been at home for a few days attending to business. Mr. Wood says they have been having quite a good deal of winter in the Cascades. The snow is two feet deep and a blizzard is a matter of every day occurrence. The Bridal Veil Company is putting in a new sawmill and when it is installed it will be one of the largest mills on the coast. The size of the main building is 43 feet by 203 and all of the machinery is of the latest pattern.

County Assessor James F. Nelson, announces that the assessed valuation of Clackamas county property will be about doubled. Assessments on railroads and other incorporations will be more than doubled. There is no doubt that these properties have been assessed entirely too low, and in fact, that almost every other kind of property has been assessed too low in this county, and this is the reason that the tax levy in Clackamas county is so much higher than it is in the various other counties in the state. By doubling the valuation the levy will be reduced to a pretty reasonable figure in the years to come, and it will look much better to an outsider who thinks of investing in property here to have a levy of say from 18 to 25 mills than the present rate.

Millinery display March 24, at Mrs. H. T. Sladen's. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

The school district of Milwaukie, this county, is the first to take advantage of the law providing for the transportation of school children living at a distance to and from the school. A public meeting has been called for March 25th, when the subject will be discussed and plans made for the proceedings required by law. Superintendent of Public Instruction J. M. Ackerman, will be present and deliver an address. It is understood that the Milwaukie district proposes to transport most of the pupils living at a distance on the electric cars. The law under which this action will be taken was passed at the last session of the Oregon State Legislature. Great interest is being taken in the consolidation of rural schools, and it is probable that within the next two years many districts will be united in order that graded schools may be maintained and that the school terms shall be for eight and nine months. The act providing for the centralization of the schools authorizes the district boundary board, consisting of the county superintendent and the county court, upon petition of a hundred voters in districts of the first class, fifty voters in districts of the second class and ten voters in districts of the third class, to submit to the voters at the next annual meeting the question of consolidation. A majority vote in such district is sufficient for consolidation.

New officers have been elected by the Oregon City Academy Debating club as follows: George Calif, president; O. Smith, vice-president; Miss Bessie Davis, recording secretary; Rev. Friday evening for the benefit of the organ fund.

A rural mail route will probably be established from Oregon City to New Era, beginning operation about May 1st. The route as surveyed, covers a distance of 24 miles. The pay for rural mail carriers is $3.00 per annum. There are several applicants for the position. This will be the first route to be established to start from this place, but it is quite likely several more will be established before the summer season is over.

Two hundred and fifty people attended the prize masque ball, given by Turney, the photographer on St. Patrick's night. The dancing was all that could be desired, the music was good and the evening passed away very pleasantly indeed. The prizes were awarded as follows: First prize, Miss Ella Lutts; second prize, Al Cannon; third prize, Lake May; fourth prize, Bank and Meldrum.

Up to Monday afternoon more than $100,000 of Clackamas county taxes had been paid in to Sheriff Shaver on the 3 per cent discount proposition. The Southern Pacific railway company paid in the tidy sum of $8000. The total amount of taxes due in Clackamas county this year is $177,472.04, so that considerably more than half of them has been paid in. Taxes will become delinquent the first Monday in April, but if half the amount is paid in by that time there will be no penalty on the remainder. If one-half is paid by that time the taxpayer has until the first Monday in October to pay the remainder. Treasurer Cahill, is preparing to issue another call for warrants next week.

We have the best men we know of for repairing watches—employ none but skilled workmen; and of course we guarantee the work, which means that we can afford to do only work that is first-class.

Our prices are reasonable. If your watch needs repairing we will look it over and tell you how much it will come to before the work is done.
