CHICAGO PORTRAIT COMPANY.

Denies That It Was Responsible For Action of Salesman.

In these columns last week the Courier had something to say about fakes and fakirs and in particular about the doings of a certain agent of the Chicago Portrait Company. While it appears that all the Courier said about the agent and the method he took to get business was true, yet the Chicago Portrait Company, denies responsibility for his acts and have discharged him from their service. The Portrait Company is highly recommended by financial papers in the east and is doing, as far as the Courier knows, a legitimate business. The trouble seems to have been that they have gotten a few scamps into their employ. The Courier in no wise desires to apologize for what it said in the last isues as all we said is true; at the same time we do not care to put the Chicago Portrait Company into a false position. Of course they are responsible for the men in their employ and must stand good for their acts.

The Grim Reaper.

Once again the grim reaper has swung nis scythe and another good citizen of Clackamas county has fallen by the wayside. This time it was a man in the prime of life and in full enjoyment of all of his mental and physical powers. C. B. Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Elecme up. Then I was advised to use Elec-tric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at Geo. A. Harding's drug store.

We will hang one of these clocks in your office and you can pay for it in monthly payments if desired. In this way the monthly payments would be practically what you would have to pay as rent for any other electric clock, and when the amount of your monthly payments equals the purchase price of the clock it becomes your property.

Testing the Eyes

Sometimes when people get spectacles which suit them they go on wearing them for years without having their sight tested to see whether any change has taken place. This is wrong. All who wear glasses should have their eyes tested at intervals, even if the necessity is not apparent to them. As a general rule, spectacles for old sight require changing about every three years, but the sight should be tested every two years.

Whenever you feel uneasy about your spectacles don't hesitate to call and see us. Always glad to help you. If no change is necessary we will tell

Remember we test the eyes free of charge.
