"DR." SAWYER

AT HIS OLD TRICKS IN WASHINGTON.

A Breezy Record of His Doings Published by the Mercury.

E. D. Sawyer, formerly employed with the Record in this city as an all-around solicitor and collector, and who, while here, cut a pretty wide swath, winding up by passing a check on a local saloon keeper in Oregon City, has been getting into some more scrapes since he left here.

The Sunday Mercury, a weekly paper devoted to writing up scandals and things pertaining to Portland's underworld, has the following to say of Sawyer in its last Sunday's edition:

"Dr." E. D. Sawyer, known in Portland as a bilk, a fakir and a thief, has finally been run entirely out of view. While here he swindled men, women and children. He posed as a Mason of high degree, and succeeded in cheating many of his less wary brothers out of much less money. He borrowed on his personal note and secured endorsement of bogus checks until he ought to have enjoyed the possession of a plethoric exchequer when he left.

"First, however, this contemptible scoundrel, went to Oregon City, where he was soon discovered, not, though, until he had secured money on bogus paper and promises. He fled from there noiselessly to Seattle, but the field in that metropolis appeared not to be especially inviting. From there he went to Victoria, B. C., but that town was too small for operation in his line on a large scale.

"Thence, he went to Vancouver, B. C., arriving just in time to participate in a banquet given by the Masonic order, and instantly he leaped into favorable notoriety. He made a nice speech and otherwise became a most agreeable, and prominent factor in the success of the event.

"So favorable was the impression this consummate bilk made that the local agent of the Canadian Pacific Railroad company was about to give him a prominent and lucrative position on the line, when, on the following day, information arrived from Oregon which nipped the Doctor's scheme in the bud.

"This information revealed to interested parties there the character of the rascal's operations here, and the consequence was that the doctor and his alleged wife skipped out. No one seems to know where they went or how they disappeared so suddenly.

"Sawyer has shown remarkable tact in escaping the penitentiary, but those who know him, freely confess the belief that he will eventually land there."

The Grim Reaper.

Anna Eliva Gurley who was raised in Clackamas county departed this life in Arlington, Oregon, April 3rd, 1903. Her remains were brought to Canby and laid to rest until the great day when the quick and dead shall rise again. Walks Without Crutches.

I was much afflicted with sciatica, writes Ed. C. Nut, Lowaville, Sedgewick Co., Kan., "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons, all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, and can perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1 at Charman & Co.
