DEFEATED SOLDIERS HONORED BY PRESIDENT

OREGON CITY TAKES SCALP OF SEVENTEENTH INFANTRY.

An Exciting Game Witnessed by 600 People.

The fact has been played the local diamond this season was pulled off at Canemah park last Sunday afternoon when the local team and a team consisting of members of the 17th Infantry, stationed at Vancouver, Washington met in battle array.

The soldiers came in, looking mighty fine and well. Their bright uniforms and brass buttons coupled with their brawny sinews gave them a fine appearance, and many predicted that the home team would be easy prey for Uncle Sam's blue coats. But they were not.

The day was not propitious for ball playing. A cold wind was driving the scurrying clouds northward and making overcoats a thing very much to be desired, while an occasional raindrop pattered down, and all together served to keep down the attendance, though the crowd must have numbered somewhere in the neighborhood of 600 hundred people, many of whom were ladies.

The game was called at 2:30 o'clock by Umpire Fields. The blue coats were first at bat. Nefzger and Kretz were in the points for the home team.

For three innings not a score was made by either team and not a sign of a hit was made. The first run was scored in the fourth by Oregon City. In the fifth neither side got a hit nor a score.

In the sixth Vancouver tied the score on an error and Oregon City went out in one, two three order. In the seventh Vancouver untied the score on an error and things begin to look interesting.

In the Oregon City half of the seventh little Billie Califf was the first man up for the home team. He swung his bat and caught the ball square on the nose.

The ball went sailing westward, almost splitting the first base, on over the fence and into the cold bosom of the Willamette river. Umpire Fields called "fair ball," and the kid galloped around the bases. Some of the visitors let out a roar on the ground that the ball was foul, but the umpire stood firm. The crowd stood up and yelled itself hoarse. Even the frogs back in the mud puddle burst into song.

It was in this inning that Oregon City won the game. The ball was swatted all over the diamond, and when the last man was out six of the home team had crossed the home plate. The visitors made a tremendous effort to regain their lost ground in the eighth, but it was too late and they only succeeded in getting one man across the plate. One more run was scored by the home team in the eighth by Califf who made a two-base hit. In the ninth inning the visitors failed to score and the game was won with a half inning to spare.

Several of the boys of the Oregon City team play very fast ball for amateurs. First baseman, McFarland, is there, with the goods at all times. He is steady and reliable and if a ball comes anywhere near his reach it is his. Nefzger, the south-paw, who did the twirling for the home team, is fit to travel in almost any kind of company. His shoots and curves were certainly puzzlers for the soldiers. Aside from being a good ball player, he is a gentlemanly young man and everybody esteems him. Nefzger left Monday for Oros Bay, where he will remain for the season. There are one or two weak spots in the team which will be strengthened later.

Sunday next there will be a game between the crack Dayton team and Oregon City team on the home grounds. A steamer excursion will be run from Dayton here and if the weather is fair there ought to be a big crowd. The remaining games will be played with teams of the interstate league. The re will be a number of Sundays when the home team will have to fill out of town engagements, but it is presumed that these dates will be filled with some other teams.

CAN HE WIN?

THE QUESTION THAT DEMOCRATS ARE ASKING OF A. E. REAMES.

A Close Analysis of the Figures Tell a Hopeful Story.

The Outlook is Flattering and Growing Better From Day to Day.

Can a Democratic candidate for Congress in the First Oregon District be elected in the good year of our Lord, 1904? This a consummation devoutly to be wished; but can he win? That is the question about which we are all anxious and about which there is much speculation. The following facts and figures not only indicate that Mr. Reames can win but that he will. Read them for yourselves and be convinced.

EUGENE, Or., May 18.—A. E. Reames, candidate for congress, has 1247 majority to overcome in the First District. In the June election of 1902, J. W. Furnish, Republican candidate for governor, carried the First District by a majority over George E. Chamberlain, of 1246.

It is not logical to compare the present campaign for Congress with that which was fought in 1902 between the late Thomas H. Tongue and J. K. Weatherford, respectively Republican and Democratic candidates. Mr. Weatherford is a man of highest character and strong with the voters. But he was running against a man who was also of distinction, was in office, was in the midst of the most brilliant Congressional career ever experienced by a Congressman from Oregon.

Mr. Hermann is not situated with respect to the voters as was Mr. Tongue. Mr. Hermann rests under dark clouds that obscure his official character, to put it charitably, clouds that do not brighten political horizons and presage victorious coming days. Rather, they indicate that a storm is about to break over his head and floods destroy his political house.

Furthermore, A. E. Reames has passed the most searching inquiry, has been subjected to most severe scrutiny, and has emerged from the ordeal with unquestioned reputation and brilliant endorsement from the fair minded voters of the District.

The present situation, therefore, is like that which existed in the 1902 state campaign for governor, excepting as to the popularity of Mr. Weatherford, which was equal to his fine character as a citizen and lawyer.

ANALYSIS OF THE VOTE.

The 1902 vote for Governor is thus analyzed, for the First District:

Table with 2 columns: Candidate, Votes. Rows include Furnish (21,349) and Chamberlain (20,103).

Furnish majority..... 1,246

Furnish Counties—Benton, Clackamas, Coos, Curry, Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Lane, Lincoln, Tillamook, Washington and Yamhill counties gave Mr. Furnish a majority of 2206.

Chamberlain Counties—Douglas, Linn, Marion, Jackson, Polk gave Mr. Chamberlain 900, majority.

REAMES' HOME STRONGHOLD.

According to the most accurate politicians in the southern end of the First District, Reames will carry the First District, comprising Jackson, Josephine, Lake and Klamath counties, by more than 1000 majority over Hermann. To place it at only 1000 is to assume a most conservative attitude, for close figures who know the ground in many instances name 1500 to 1800 as the correct estimate.

These counties gave Furnish 270 majority over Chamberlain.

To carry them with 1000, Reames will have wiped out the Furnish majority, and have 24 votes to the good, if the remainder of the District be as it was in 1902.

But, Washington, Clackamas, Yamhill which went for Furnish heavily, will, beyond much doubt go for Reames. Presume them to be a "stand-off" and the 753 majority they gave Furnish will be subtracted from the Reames' opposition to make up for possible losses everywhere.

Hermann's normal strength, which he should inherit from the Furnish vote, crumbles to pieces in all of the remaining counties of the District. In Lane, Benton and many other counties he has lost from the votes that were cast for Furnish, until Reames' election seems to be practically assured.

ADVICES ARE FAVORABLE.

At the Reames Headquarters here, advice are received from workers in all parts of the District. These advices have been tabulated, and it is found that, after taking the figures on their face, and discounting them most liberally, a majority for Reames remains.

Last week for a day or two came the critical time. It passed with the flood still running in favor of Reames, as it has from the beginning, with Hermann upon the defensive, a weak position for any candidate, he loses constantly. Confidence in the outcome is expressed at the Reames Headquarters. Returns justify that confidence.

Francis Revenue, aged 90, Who Came in 1853.

Francis Revenue, the venerable pioneer of Sandy, was born in New Orleans, La., on the 12th day of September, 1813, and will therefore soon be 90 years of age. At an early age he learned the cooper's trade, and he also spent three years studying in the city of Paris, France. He married Liddy A. Lawrence, whose death occurred at the family homestead near Sandy, March 14, 1900. Mr. Revenue crossed the plains to Oregon in the year 1853, taking several months to perform the journey. Upon arriving in Oregon he immediately took up a donation land claim, upon which he has resided ever since. In pioneer days, the Indians were quite numerous, and the nearest neighbors were five or six miles distant. Shortly after his arrival he went back to work with energy to hew out a home in the then unbroken wilderness. The difficulties encountered in this herculean task were great, but Mr. Revenue persevered, and finally triumphed. Three years of his pioneer life was spent in merchandising, and his kindness and generosity to the needy and distressed were proverbial. This nonagenarian patriarch is very intelligent and very patriotic and a true Democrat. A constant and close observer for more than three-quarters of a century, it is simply wonderful to think of the number of incidents and events, now passed into history, of which he was, so to speak, an eye-witness. His children now living are John, Edward, Theodore and Lawrence and Alice Revenue Wedde, Lucy Revenue Roberts and Lillie Revenue Howard. Though Mr. Revenue will be 90 years of age on the 12th day of next September, he is active as ever.
