OREGON CITY, JULY 10, 1903.

The crime of a negro in the Republican state of Indiana has resulted in mob violence and the death of six innocent white bystanders and the wounding unto death of many more.

On next Tuesday the Tenth Annual Session of the Willamette Valley will be thrown open to the world.

The proposition to nominate Uncle Marcus Hanna for the vice presidency has been killed by his big right hand on the identical bald spot where it alighted.

Senator Hanna knows that as senator and chairman of the Republican national committee he can have and hold more power and dictate terms better to his purpose than as vice president.

Rather strongly, we think, he intimates that unless he is himself at the head of the Republican management to keep the capitalists and the laboring element both in line on election day there might be no president Roosevelt after 4th of March, 1905.

At the same time, also, we may remark that Senator Hanna will probably dictate who shall run for vice president. Some persons insist that Mr. Roosevelt will insist upon selecting his own running mate, but it must be remembered that it was your Uncle Marcus who made Mr. Roosevelt run for the vice presidency, even while that gentleman was swearing cyclonic oaths that he would not do so!

Calculating from past experience this country will be paying for the liberation of Cuba for a hundred and forty-seven years to come. According to last year's record we are still paying pensions to four widows and four daughters of pensioners of the revolutionary war, and that war ended nearly a hundred and twenty years ago.

At the present timethere are 65,000 applications for pensions on account of the war with Spain in 1898 and 23,000 of them favorably acted upon. It is calculated that within a few months there will be one application for a Spanish war pension to every two of the soldiers enlisted in that war.

It is grand and glorious to go the relief of an oppressed people—but what about our own people who have to be oppressed by pension taxation unto the fourth generation to balance the philanthropic bill of costs?

WATSON ON THE LIFE OF JEFFERSON

The new history of the life and times of Thomas Jefferson by Thomas E. Watson, one of the most brilliant and versatile writers of the South and a few years ago the candidate of the Populist party for Vice President, has only recently been issued from the Press.

His manners were simple and cordial, his voice pleasing to the ear and his temper gentle, conciliatory, forgiving. No rancor or vindictiveness marred his youth, and there is no recorded instance to his having been subjected to a personal insult or drawn into a personal brawl.

In after life he drank but one glass of water per day, and did indulge in several glasses of wine. So also his faithful account books show that when he had grown older he won nearly as much as $2 at one sitting at a game of cards and 14 cents at backgammon.

It may have been after his Waterloo at loot that Mr. Jefferson planned this truism: "Gambling corrupts all dispositions and creates a habit of hostility against all mankind." Later in life his manners to strangers seemed cold and reserved and he developed a capacity for hatred which would have satisfied Dr. Sam Johnson.

One of the most beautiful traits in Mr. Jefferson's character was his capacity for friendship—deep, lasting, tender, splendidly loyal friendships. Few were the individuals he ever hated, and he loved a great many, some of them being persons whom others found it hard to love—John Adams, for example.

Campmeeting seems to be about all the attraction nowadays. Supervisor Aug Stahly had had a force of men and teams improving the Burgoyne hill the first of the week. Let the good work go on.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Night Was Her Terror. "I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Charles Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three 5c bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, wholly cured me and I gained 25 pounds." It is absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Laryngitis, Bronchitis and all Throat Troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at Chamberlain's drug store.

Tom P. Randall, P. M.

Brutally Tortured. A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equalled. Joe Golobick, of Collins, Calif., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and generally debility. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction guaranteed by Chamberlain & Co.

Bought Off. "Come now, Johnnie, say your speech for the gentleman and I'll give you a penny." "Really, mother," replied Johnnie. "I should like to oblige you, but—the gentleman has already given me a dollar to keep quiet!"—Atlanta Constitution.

He Scooped No More. He (after a tiff)—Going home to your mother, eh? She—Yes, I am. He—Huh! What do you suppose she'll say to you? She—She'll say, "I told you so." (He made up).—New York Weekly.

Victoria and Napoleon.

Queen Victoria once gave a remarkable description of her visit to the tomb of Napoleon I. during the reign of Napoleon III. "The coffin is not yet here," she wrote, "but in a small side chapel of St. Jerome. Into this the emperor led me, and there I stood at the arm of Napoleon III., his nephew, before the coffin of England's bitterest foe, I, the granddaughter of that king who hated him most and who most vigorously opposed him and this very nephew, who bears his name, being my nearest and dearest ally! The organ of the church was playing 'God Save the Queen' at the time, and this solemn scene took place by torchlight and during a thunderstorm. Strange and wonderful indeed!"

Willing, but Not Anxious. Ministers sometimes observe some curious phases of human nature among persons soliciting their services in the performance of a marriage ceremony.

"Will you take this woman for your wedded wife?" asked a clergyman of a would be bridegroom. "Yes; I'll take her," remarked the man in a half dejected tone, "but," he added, with surprising frankness, "I'd rather it were her sister."

"I am but a worm!" I protested, being in a groveling, penitential mood. "Oh, I think you're just nice enough to eat, actually!" cried the faithful little wife.

"That shows you're getting to be an old hen," whimpered I, more cast down than ever.—Detroit Free Press.

As He Understood. Mr. Crawford—I swan, Martha, property must be cheap up in the city. Mrs. Crawford—What makes you think so, Sile? Mr. Crawford—Why, the paper says they have five and ten cent stores. Men could take a dollar and buy a dozen of stores.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FOR SYSTEMIC CATARRH

Peculiar to Summer Pe-ru-na Gives Prompt and Permanent Relief.

C. S. Rhoads, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "For the past two years I have hardly known what it was to have a sweet, restful night's sleep. Cares and overwork seemed to weigh me down more than it should or would had I been able to get my proper rest. My doctor was unable to help me and ordered me South for a complete rest and change. As this was simply out of the question, and as I had heard several of the men under me speak of how much Peruna had helped them, I decided to try it and am glad indeed that I did. Six bottles made a new man of me. I eat well, sleep well and get up feeling refreshed and rested."

A Prominent Business Man of Indianapolis Restored to Health and Vigor by Per-na. He says: "Per-na made a New Man of Me."

Judge Wm. T. Zenor, of Washington, D. C., writes from 213 N. Capital street, Washington, D. C.: "I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna as a remedy for catarrhal trouble and a most excellent tonic for general conditions."—Wm. T. Zenor. Mrs. Amanda Morrill, 130 Reid street, Elizabeth, N. J., writes: "I have been sick over two years with nervous prostration and general debility, and heart trouble. Have had four doctors; all said that I could not get well. I had not walked a step in nine months, suffering with partial paralysis and palpitation of the heart every other day, and had become so reduced in flesh as to be a mere skeleton, weighing only 85 pounds. Up to this date I have taken Peruna for seven months. It has saved my life as I can safely testify. I have not felt so well in five years, having walked over one mile without ill result, and have also gained thirty pounds since commencing to take Peruna. In fact, I cannot praise it too highly."—Mrs. Amanda Morrill. Peruna never fails to prevent systemic catarrh or nervous prostration if taken in time. Peruna is the most prompt and permanent cure for all cases of nervous prostration caused by systemic catarrh known to the medical profession. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.
