of the people to the support of the fair. One is, the management has worked hard and faithfully to make the fair as broad as the state itself. The transpor-taiion companies have come to their assistance and made very liberal rates on hauling exhibits f all kinds. Another is, the people are beginning to realize that it is time to let the outside world know of the wonderful resources of our stae, and believe that the state fair is the proof place to meet the branch place that the branch place the branch place that the branch place the branch place that the branch place the branch place that the branch place that the branch place that the branch place the b stae, and believe that the state lair is the proper place to meet the better class of homeseekers. This will make the fair doubly valuable. It will give those who are looking for homes on the Pa-cific coast an opportunity to see in a body what our state can produce, and where it is produced, wi hout traveling all over the state at great expense. It will also give the exhibitor the best possible opportunity of showing his products, whether it be grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables or live stock.
