

Mountain View.

F. M. Darling is on the sick list lately with sciatica.
 Charlie Dickey drove to Canby last Saturday evening with a load of Artichokes to visit the assembly at that place.
 Born, Aug. 7, to the wife of Carl Raymond, a son.
 F. A. Ely is the proud possessor of a fine colt two days old.
 Going to the mountains for huckleberries is the main topic here.
 There seems to be quite a good deal of sickness here this week.
 Helen Ely went down to the doctor Tuesday and is still getting worse.
 Mrs. Lock and children are on the sick list. Dr. Carl is in attendance.
 Mrs. Frank Albright's mother, Grandma Fuller, of Jefferson, is visiting here this week.
 Miss Pear Curran spent last Saturday and Sunday camping at Nye Creek near Newport. That was her first trip to the Ocean and she thought it grand.
 Mrs. Moran is going out to Salmon River this week and will visit with her daughter, Mrs. Grace Ely, and family.
 Mr. McGeehan has bought a horse and buggy.
 Johnny Duffy was shaking hands with friends in this burg Tuesday.
 Our mail carrier, Mr. Duff, is dangerously ill at the St. Vincent hospital in Portland.
 Mrs. Lottie Fisher, nee Bennett, was visiting in this burg Wednesday.
 F. M. Darling will spend the latter part of this week up near Mount Hood.
 Thursday of last week was a gala day for the children of Mountain View Sunday school. The occasion was a basket picnic in Holmes' park. After dinner remarks were made by Rev. J. W. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, Mr. Mack, Mrs. Moran and others. Ice cream and cake was then served. Afterwards came the various races and last, but not least came the pie race, which created the most merriment of all to see boys eat pie with their hands tied behind them.
 Grandma Kays and Grandma Gray were among the merry party.

Sandy.

As nothing is seen in the columns of the Courier of the great Sandy country we endeavor to send a few lines.
 Sandy lays claim now of being the largest lumber producing section of Clackamas county. It has 10 saw mills within 5 miles of the surrounding country and daily saws thousands of feet of lumber.
 Clem Bartch new mill just started up, and will saw lumber for Portland market only.
 The Portland road from Sandy west for five miles is on both sides a beehive of industry, clearing, slaughtering and building of fences and houses.
 James Farling is building a story and a half house, cost $1000.
 G. Jonrud is completing a fine residence.
 Nels Nelson has under way a house that will cost $2000. It will be one of the finest in the country.
 Max Kligel a young man is erecting a $1000 house on his farm.
 W. Bankers has his house completed. It is a modern and up-to-date residence costing several thousand dollars.
 Johnson Brothers are making great improvements, a fine residence and a big barn is being built.
 Carpenters were never so busy before, and the mill men are complaining for the shortage of hands.
 It is reported that the falls here have been purchased by an Electric Co., who will build a station here.
 Sandy is 5 miles from the railroad and has daily stage. An effort is now being made to induce the O. W. P. R. R. to construct a branch line to Sandy.
 The ever increasing business of this country demands railroad connection as the lumber business is a great industry here and also is noted for a large dairy producing country besides the farmers products.
 The travel to the mountains is very large this season. 75 tents are being pitched among the cool camping places at Salmon and Welsh canyon.
