WE MUST GROW OR DIE.

constant Study Is Necessary to Keep Pace With the Times.

A passion for growth, a yearning for a larger life, is characteristic of all great souls. A man is measured by his power to grow, to become larger, broader, nobler. The intensity of his desire to reach out and up defines his capacity for devlopment.

Any one, young or old, possessed by a passion for growth is constantly adding to his knowledge, always pushing his horizon a little further. Every day he gains additional wisdom, every night he is a little larger than he was in the morning. He keeps growing as long as he lives. Even in old age he is still stretching out for larger things, reaching up to greater heights.

We often find plants and trees that are not fully developed, but have reached the limit of their growth. They cannot be made to respond to the wooing of enriched soil or copious watering. The power for the extension of cell life seems to have departed.

There are many human plants of simflar nature. Early in life they settle into grooves, from which nothing can displace them. They are dead to enterprise, to advancement along any line. New movements, new systems of business, larger conceptions of life and simtlar things in the living, moving present do not appeal to them. Immovably bound to the past, they can step only just so far this way, only so far that way. There is no further growth, no more progress for them. They have reached their goal.

Employees often think that they are kept back designedly and that others less deserving are pushed ahead of them, when the real trouble is with themselves. They have ceased to grow. They continue to move in a circle, They have not kept pace with the trend

"Forward!" is the bugle call of the twentieth century. The young man or woman or the old man or woman who has ceased to grow is to be pitied. Life holds nothing more for either.-Suc-

OREGON CITY BUILDINGS.

An Index to Her Prosperity During the Past Year.

It is doubtful if people living in Oregon City realize the extent of building operations going on in, and around the city. Work to the extent of tens of thousands of dollars has been contracted thousands of dollars has been contracted the company of for and will be pushed to completion be for and will be pushed to completion be-fore the rainy season sets if it is possibl to do so. Possibly the largest single piece of mechanical work under con-struction in the city is the building of the burnt out Woolen mills, the contract of which was let to Mr. Jones for the sum of $19,000. This work it being pushed rapidly but it will be several weeks before it can be completed. The next largest pieces of work is the erection of oil tanks for the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company for the storing of cil which will be utilized to run the machinery of the mills, taking the place of wood which is now used. The Electric company is also making some extensive adpany is also making some extensive ad ditions to its plant which will cost thousands of dollars.

The contract has been let for the con-struction of a fish ladder at the falls which is to cost between $2500 to $3000. The Willamette Paper company is building a weir up the river which will cost many thousands of dollars. Added to all of these large enterprises a great number of private parties are engaged in adding more rooms to their houses or extending their places of business. many of them, in fact, that too much space would be required to mention them all.

In addition to all of this, the city is building a new sewerage system which will, when completed, cost about $35,000 The Southern Pacific Railroad is completed a new steel bridge across the Clackamas, that will cost between $25,-000 and $40,000, and will shortly begin the construction of another bridge across the Willamette which will be on its new branch line to Portland. All this is an indication that Oregon City is growing with a rapidity that is hardly appreciated by the 5,000 people around the

If any other evidence is needed one has only to look back over the improve ments that have been made in the way of building during the part year. In a year two of the finest business blocks in Oregon City have sprung from the ground. One of these is the Garde. on the southwest corner of Main and 7th street, another the Methodist church, building directly opposite, while still another building of considerable consequence is the new freight house of the Oregon Water Power and Railway com-pany between 3rd and 4th on Mair. Scores of smaller dwellings have been completed on he hilltops and in the suburbs. Altogether the year has been a prosperous one, as is evidenced by the great amount of building.

During the past year half a score of new business enterprises have been launched in the way of stores and few of the places but are still in operation, while many stores have been increased in size.

A PASTOR'S WIFE PELVIC CATARRE .

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless-Cured by Peruna.

MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY, recent Superintendent of the W. C. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixtyseventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to "Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediate-ly secured and a great change took place in my daughter's as well as in my own health. Our appetites im-proved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep oon improved us, so that we seem like new women.

"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."-Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

What used to be called female diseases by the medical profession is now called pelvic catarrh. It has been found by experience that catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases

Dr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians to make this discovery. For forty years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and long ago he reached the conclusion that a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of these organs would not be subject to female disease. He therefore began using Peruna for these cases and found it so admirably adapted to their permanent cure that Peruna has now become the most famous remedy for female diseases ever known. Every where the women are using it and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply: it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

Mrs. E. L. Brown, 329 Elliott street Memphis, Tenn., writes:

"I suffered for several years with headache brought on by nervous prostration I was also afflicted with insomnia. would get up in the morning more weary than when I retired and I used to dread the approach of night. Peruna came into my home as a welcome guest, and within three short months I was like another woman. I have now enjoyed perfect health for over a year, and those who have suffered as I did will know how happy I am."-Mrs. E. L. Brown. Mrs. Esther M. Milner, De Graff, Ohio

"I was a terrible sufferer from female weakness and had the headache continnously. I was not able to do my house work for myself and husband. I wrote you and described my condition as near as possible. You recommended Peruna. I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."-Mrs. Esther M. Milner.

Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa., writes:

"I take pleasure in commending your Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrii remedy."—T. M. Mahon.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
