Evans, at the beginning of the Spanish-American war, received the medal Monday to which all active participants in naval battles during that war are entitled. The medals are made from the cannon captured at the naval battle of Santiago. The souvenirs are circular in form and about the size of a silver dollar and are suspended from a bar on which appears the name of the battleship upon which the owner served.
The marriage of Miss Mary Willey to Rev. C. Le Elliott, of Portland, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents at Green Point Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. Immediately after the wedding the happy couple left for Portland where they will reside. The bride is the accomplished daughter of G. A. Willey, the harnessmaker, and is a most estimable young lady. The groom is a minister of the Free Methodist church and is considered a rising young minister. The Courier wishes them happiness.
A study of the divorce records and the marriage records of Clackamas county reveals the fact that up to the tenth day of October, dating from the tenth of the same month last year, there have been 207 marriage licenses issued by the county clerk and 124 divorce suits have been filed, nearly all of which have been granted. Of the marriage licenses granted nearly all were of Clackamas county parties but of the divorce suits filed the major portion have been for parties outside of the county. Last week there were seven marriage licenses issued and seven divorce suits filed.

During the coming winter, the contract of cutting 100,000 cords of wood on two sections of the Oswego Iron Co.'s land will be completed. The stumpage paid is 50 cents a cord. The company paid for the land about $650 an acre, at the time when it was believed by the settlers to have little value, and now sells it in small tracts to settlers at an average of $40. The company acquired, when its iron furnace at Oswego was running, about 60,000 acres located in several valley counties.
Last Saturday morning at 1 o'clock Captain A. C. Dille and Charles Latourette captured Oliver Marshall, who had escaped from this city. The two officers of the asylum looking in Oregon City Friday morning arrived for the escape and kept a sharp lookout all night until one o'clock in the morning when Marshall was captured. Marshall had dodged all the towns from Salem to Oregon City, but probably imagined that no lookout would be kept here and came right through. He was formerly a convict in the state penitentiary but was transferred from that institution to the asylum later, having worked the insane racket to perfection.

Ellery's Band, which is billed for Shively's opera house Monday night next, promises to be one of the best attractions that has visited this city in a long time. When a company has filled a week's engagement in such a town as Seattle and in such theatres as the Grand in that city, and receives a half column laudatory write up in such papers as the Seattle Times, it is a pretty good evidence that it is all right and an attraction worth going to see. Manager Shively announces that this is but the beginning of a number of first-class attractions that he is arranging for the coming season.
Halls boarding house and restaurant, just across the street from the Courier office, was the scene of a lively little "scrap" last Saturday afternoon. Chas. Smith is a boarder at the above named boarding house, and William Courtney was also a lodger at the same place. The two were on perfectly friendly terms until just previous to the fight. The trouble arose over a trivial affair. Smith played an innocent joke on Courtney, who resented it and jumped on Smith with the result that in a very short time the latter was hors de combat. As a result of the fight Smith has a pair of very black eyes and sundry contusions on his face. Courtney was also more or less used up in the encounter. When the case was called up before Justice Stipp Monday morning Courtney pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery and was fined $10. Courtney claimed to be from Seattle.
The Board of Trade in Oregon City has been reorganized, rejuvenated or resurrected, whichever one cares to call it. This time it will be incorporated and the members confidently look forward to good results. The articles of incorporation have been signed by the following well known business men, whose aim it will be to push the Board for it is worth and see that the best interests of the city are looked after as the best interests of Clackamas county: George A. Harding, W. A. Huntley, Frank Busch, E. E. Charman, E. G. Canfield, D. C. Latourette, G. B. Dimick, Franklin T. Griffith, C. H. Dye. The capital stock is $3,000 divided into shares of $30 each. Five dollars per share is to be paid immediately, which will start the organization off with $600 with which to do business. The remainder of the capital stock is payable in monthly installments of $1 each, which will give the body a fund of $100 per month on which to do business.

Food cold advertising, aching in the bones, lack of energy, headache and great depression? These symptoms may be followed by violent headache, high fever, extreme nervousness, a condition known as malaria. Herbine cures it. Take it before the disease gets a fair hold, though it will work a cure in any stage. J. A. Hopkins, Manchester, Kan., writes: "I have used your great medicine, Herbine, for several years. There is nothing better for malaria, chills and fever, headache, biliousness, and for a blood-purifying tonic, there is nothing as good." 50c at Harman & Co.

Prescriptions Properly Prepared

This represents the foundation of our business—the corner stone of our success.
That word "properly" means something here. It means—that we are careful to have none but the purest and freshest drugs—careful that every prescription gets just exactly what it calls for.
It isn't an easy thing to properly compound a prescription. It requires care and brains; it requires accuracy and practice.
No boy's work behind our prescription counter. We make a specialty of putting up prescriptions. We can do it better than the man who doesn't. We have had experience, long and varied. We want your prescription trade.

Four Registered Prescription Clerks

To take care of our growing prescription business. The latest improved appliances for compounding—the choicest drugs we can buy—a complete stock that contains everything physicians prescribe—a system that prevents any error at our prescription counter.
Our service would be worth paying a good price to secure, but it costs nothing extra.
Remember it makes no difference what blank your prescription is written on, or what doctor writes it, you are entitled to our superior service.

Not Too Late To Paint

This fall weather is better for painting than the spring. Better not let the building go over thinking it will be more economical. Six months storm will make it necessary to use 25 per cent more material for the same job, and it never will look so well as if painted now. We have sold paint for fifteen years, and have been learning something each year. Perhaps we can give you some information which may be of value. If you buy Sherwin & Williams paint of us you will never regret it. We can refer you to hundreds of satisfied customers. If you want to buy lead and oil, the pure, unadulterated kind, we have it at a price that others charge for the common kind. We have a complete paint store. It's the most complete in Clackamas county. Let us talk it over.
