

Pomona in Session

STRONG RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The Patrons of Husbandry Assemble En Masse at Molalla Corners.

The meeting of Clackamas Pomona with Molalla 310 on October 15th was truly an incentive for every one present to feel happy. The beauty of the day alone made it so. The general air of prosperity and abundance pervading the Molalla country was another reason for rejoicing.

The following officers were elected in the afternoon for the year 1904:

William Griensenthwait, of Central Grange master; Dr. Thomas, of Molalla 310, overeer; George Workman, of Oswego Grange, lecturer; William Beard, of Maple Lane Grange, steward; H. Glover, of Eagle Creek Grange, assistant steward; Oscar Eaton, of Oswego Grange, chaplain; Thomas Turner, of Tealatin Grange, treasurer; Mr. Spence, of Central Grange, secretary; Miss Robbins, of Molalla 310, lady assistant steward; Sister Guttridge, of Springwater Grange, Ceres; Sister Johnson, of Milwaukie Grange, Pomona; Mrs. Thomas, of Molalla Grange 310, Flora.

Dr. Casto introduced the following resolution, which was adopted:

Whereas, The Patrons of Husbandry have always favored co operation as an economic and profitable method of buying and selling farm products; and

Whereas, Other states have to a large extent adopted said method and saved money by it and made it a success, therefore,

Resolved, That this Pomona Grange recommend to all subordinate granges in this jurisdiction to make cooperation a matter of discussion at suitable seasons and interest their delegates to the county grange convention which meets in March to elect delegates to the state grange, to be prepared to say how far they desire to co-operate and in what articles they desire to cooperate, if any.

A resolution adopted in regard to the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution, omitting the preamble, states:

We view with alarm the recent decision of the circuit court of Multnomah county declaring said amendment void; and

Whereas, We believe the voters of the state fully understood the purport and effect of such amendment when they voted for its ratification, and

Whereas, We believe said circuit court was not properly or well advised in considering said amendment when said decision was rendered; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Pomona Grange that said amendment should be and remain a part of the state constitution, and that the wishes and rights of the people should not be sacrificed by straining and narrow decisions based on technical questions.

Robert Schubel, of Molalla Grange No. 40, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Master of this Pomona Grange appoint a committee of three to investigate the assessment roll of Clackamas county and report at the next Pomona Grange the condition of the assessment roll as to the equality of assessments especially of corporation assessments with farm property.

This resolution was warmly discussed. The forcible exposition by Mr. Vorhies, of Marion county, a former master of the State Grange, of the wisdom of such an investigation by the Patrons of Husbandry was the means of carrying the resolution by a large majority.

R. Schabel, T. C. Borland and Wm. Griensenthwait were appointed as committee.

The number who sat down to dinner as guests of the people of Molalla, was 156.

J. Vorhies addressed the grange in regard to the getting of a quantity of land plaster sowers, machines which can be bought for $40.

William Griensenthwait, Mrs. Howard and Lewis Kirchem were appointed a committee to select next place of meeting of the Pomona Grange.

Mrs. Johnson, of Milwaukie, moved that a rising vote of thanks be given to Molalla grange for its very kind hospitality. The motion was unanimously adopted.

In the evening a class of 67 took the fifth degree, the grange having assembled for that purpose in the fine hall of the Molalla public school, which is provided with a stage and a drop curtain.

The lecturer's programme followed. Music, vocal and instrumental, interchanged with oral renditions by ladies and gentlemen, young and old, until the clock on the Molalla cathedral, had then there been one, solemnly tolled the mystic hour of midnight.

Clackamas county has now 18 subordinate granges

Foundered in Fog

STEAMER SOUTH PORTLAND GOES DOWN OFF PORT ORFORD.

Nearly Two Score of Lives Lost in Catastrophe.

Marshfield, Or., Oct. 20.—Startling news was received here this morning from Bandon that the steamship South Portland from Portland to San Francisco, went on the reefs near Cape Blanco last night in a heavy fog.

Thirty-one lives are reported lost. The vessel is reported to be a total wreck. Capt. McIntyre, with two of his crew and four passengers landed at the Blanco light in a small boat and came to Bandon.

One other boat that was launched in the terrific seas peculiar to this treacherous part of the coast is believed to have been pounded to pieces in the rocks.

Details of the disaster are meager, as no telegraphic communication is to be had. Port Orford, eight miles below Cape Blanco, has long distance telephone, but at 4 o'clock this afternoon no particulars were known there.

The first news of the wreck was received from Bandon, a village on the Oregon coast. Capt. McIntyre is reported to have made the town this afternoon. He says his vessel struck the rocks in a heavy fog enroute from Astoria to San Francisco. The captain says the ship must have broken up almost immediately and there is little chance of the crew or passengers being saved.

He thinks fully 23 of the crew and 7 passengers who were left on the vessel must have perished in the heavy seas. There was only time to lower but two boats. The exact number of passengers is unknown yet, as the wreck is on an isolated coast. The South Portland was a big freight steamer and carried a few passengers. There is little doubt that 31 persons were drowned. The vessel was owned by W. W. Scammel, of San Francisco.

Port Orford, Or., Oct. 21.—Investigation into the tragic disaster happened yesterday afternoon when the steamship South Portland went to pieces on the sunken reef off Cape Blanco, eight miles above this town, tend to show that some one seriously blundered in the navigation of the ill-fated vessel.

Capt. J. B. McIntyre, master of the vessel, refuses to make a statement other than saying that in a dense fog with seas running high his ship struck the reef at 4:30 yesterday afternoon and, to his belief, went to pieces 20 minutes after. The coroner's jury now sitting has not concluded its inquiry, but it seems evident that Capt. McIntyre was one of the first to leave the vessel in officers' boat No. 2.

An appalling scene was witnessed on deck when the 39 people aboard became aware that death stared them in the face. Without a moment's warning, and while many were below, throat struck with terrific force. She was running before the wind and it is now believed the captain, who was on the bridge, immediately ordered the officers' boat and, with 14 others, left the ship.

It now develops that No. 1 boat was manned by six of the crew and two passengers, but was swamped within 100 feet of the ship. The dory was seen adrift without occupants near Tichenor's rock this morning.

Before the vessel started from the sunken reef impromptu rafts were made from hatchways by the frantic members of the crew and passengers. One raft is supposed to be yet adrift with living persons upon it.

Charles Bruce, first officer of the vessel, was probably the last to leave. He manned a lifeboat with 10 persons, including the members of the crew and one passenger, and succeeding in reaching Port Orford yesterday evening.

First Engineer Charles Huson died soon after being taken from the boat, having succumbed to the fearful exposure.

The Bandon life-saving crew reached here from 30 miles up the coast last night, and until now they have been searching for the raft, on which is supposed to be seven persons.

Of the 14 passengers aboard the South Portland were Mrs. Bent and Mrs. Tyrrell, the only women, and these are both missing. The verdict in the case of Engineer Huson will be returned probably tonight.

Seldom in the history of this coast has a more heartrending disaster occurred.

HOPE AGAIN.

Judge Thomas F. Ryan Returns From an Extensive Trip East.

County Judge, Thomas F. Ryan is back at his desk in the court house. He returned home on last Friday morning arriving on the overland over the Southern Pacific from California. The Judge while en route, traveled over 11,600 miles, going East by the Northern route and returning by the Southern. He attended the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows in their Sovereign session at Baltimore and the Sovereign Grand Encampment in the same city, to which he was a delegate from the Grand Encampment of Oregon. The Judge says that in all of his other branches have experienced a very prosperous year and that the order was never in better condition than today.

THOMAS F. RYAN.

The Oddfellows of the United States are right at the head of the secret societies of the United States both in membership and in the amount of benefactions they dispense.

After having attended the sessions of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, Judge Ryan visited his old home at Lowell, Massachusetts, this being the first visit he paid to the place of his birth in many years. New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and other Eastern cities are next visited and he paid a flying visit to Montreal, Canada on both business and pleasure.

On his return trip he stopped at Little Rock, Arkansas, where he attended the Triennial session of Grand General Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons, to which meeting he was a delegate from the Grand Chapter of the state of Oregon. At the close of the session of the Masonic Grand Chapter, he visited Hot Springs, Arkansas, the most famous "Spa" in the world, returning home by the way of New Orleans, and the Southern Pacific by way of San Francisco.

Judge Ryan says that many peculiar conditions prevail in the East. That business conditions are unsettled and that capital is restless and uneasy. While all mills are working to their capacity and ever one seems to have plenty of work that distress and danger signals are up in the business world and that there are unmistakable signs of an approaching financial storm brewing. He does not believe that any crisis that may be approaching will materially affect the coast country for several years. Although his trip was long and tiresome the Judge enjoyed himself very much, and was more strongly impressed than ever with the magnificent resources of the country.

Dowie in New York

The New Elijah Meets With a Cold Reception by the Gothamites.

Has Mrs. Carrie Nation of "Hatchet" Fame Thrown from the Hall.

New York, Oct. 21.—John Alexander Dowie is having a frost here. While it is true that he succeeds in packing the great Madison Square Garden at the opening of his meetings, it is a fact that before the services are half over at least two-thirds of his curious audience leaves.

The self-styled Elijah II rants and raves. He calls down all sorts of imprecations upon his dissatisfied hearers. He berates the press and openly attacks the ministers of the gospel, who are not by any means in sympathy with him or his followers. He has not hesitated to call eminent religiousists many hard names. Dr. Charles Parkhurst has replied in an open letter which appears below.

Another grief of the Elijah is due to the fact that his Divine healings are not at all successful. The alleged prophet has accounted for failure in healings in a clever manner. He says:

"The reason my healings have all gone wrong is because I forgot the difference in time, whereby the sacred host in New York is praying at 9 o'clock Eastern time and the host in Zion City at 9 o'clock central time. I have ordered a rectification so Chicago's prayers will reach Heaven at 8 o'clock. The healings are now going on perfectly."

Many of the host are exhausted and have been taken to private New York homes and fed and sheltered. Forty-three are now ill from exhaustion.

Carrie Nation attended the meeting last night and occupied a front seat. So many times she interrupted Dowie that he at last called her Zion guard and general policeman. By this escort the hatchet-wielder was led from the hall.

The crowd outside cheered when she was brought out and hundreds made a rush for the interior of the garden. The police feared a riot and closed the doors, allowing no person to enter or leave the place.

During the whole meeting a great commotion was kept up. Dowie could not be heard a tenth of the time. At one stage of the meeting it was feared by the police that a free fight would follow several of Dowie's remarks, and 100 extra officers were called to the garden. The following is the open letter sent the alleged prophet by Dr. Parkhurst:

NO MINCING MATTERS.

"New York, Oct. 20.—I do not want to be presuming, but doubt if it is any more presumption in me to come and try to clarify you than it is for you to come and try to clarify New York, and I do not know which of us has taken the heavier contract. I attended your service at Madison Square Garden last evening, and I went determined to enjoy it if I could be benefited by it and go away away and refute some of the charges that I had heard alleged against you. But it was of no use; your behavior on the platform crushed every throeb of sympathy I had for you. I never heard from a public speaker such a discharge of effervescent wrath and coarse invective. I went to hear you preach the Gospel, and you preached Dowie, Zion City, 'stink pot.' I was ashamed of you, and almost ashamed to be in your audience. It was a long way below the standard even of the circus that I have attended in the same garden. The only consolation I could derive was that it was so abominable, and so far beyond the bounds of respectability that even those in your congregation who did not know what Christianity is would have no idea that it had anything to do with what you were saying."

"Of course, the ridiculousness of the performance was mainly enhanced by the immensity of your pretensions. If you claimed to be only an ordinary man, there might be some hope for you even with what you call the 'rabble,' but the rabble is discriminating, and can discriminate as keenly as the keenest between a prophet and a juggler, between an Elijah and a mountebank."

"I say this in no spirit of slander but either your head is twisted or your heart infected, or you have blundered badly in your method. You cannot bully people into the kingdom of heaven. I hope you will take this in the kindly spirit in which it is offered, and that it will be blessed to you."

Do You Want to Yawn?

Food sold shivering, acting in the house, lack of energy, headache and great depression? These symptoms may be followed by violent headache, high fever, extreme nervousness, a condition known as malaria. Herbine cures it. Take it before the disease gets a fair hold, though it will work a cure in any stage. J. A. Hopkins, Manchester, Kan., writes: "I have used your great medicine, Herbine, for several years. There is nothing better for malaria, chills and fever, headache, biliousness; and for a blood-purifying tonic, there is nothing as good." 50c at Harman & Co.
