At 2:30 o'clock last Saturday morning John Schram, one of the oldest and best known residents of Oregon City, died at his home on Sixth street. The death of Mr. Schram was a very sudden one and came as a great shock to his many friends here. Only the evening before he was about town apparently in as good health as usual. His death was due to heart trouble.

Funeral services were conducted from the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. P. K. Hammond. The burial took place at the Masonic cemetery and was conducted by the local lodge of Mason, of which deceased was a devoted member.

Mr. Schram was about 65 years of age. He was born in Austria in 1838 and came to this country in 1854. In 1858 he came to Oregon City and has been a resident of this city ever since. He embarked in business, running a harness shop for many years. About 15 years ago he retired from business, having amassed a considerable property. He was a good citizen and well beloved by all who knew him best.

His wife died years ago. Three children are left to mourn his demise. They are Mrs. Joseph Lynch, Alex Schram and Chas Schram, all of this city.

The burial of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Powell, of this city, took place Sunday. The death of the child occurred in San Francisco a week previous. Its death was due to the carelessness of an attendant of the hospital where the child was being treated. The nurse was giving the child a vapor bath, and was called to answer the telephone, leaving the child alone. When she returned she found the lamp overturned and the bedclothes on fire. The child was pinned to the bedclothes and before he could be rescued, had smothered. The funeral was held at the Salvation Army hall at 11 o'clock and the remains were interred in the Mountain View cemetery.

Died, at his home in Oregon City, Saturday morning of last week at nine o'clock, A. E. Donaldson, at the age of 77 years. The deceased had been an invalid for many months and much of the time had been bedridden. Funeral services were conducted from the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon, Rev. Montgomery, of Portland, officiating, and the burial took place in the Mountain View cemetery. Mr. Donaldson was a highly respected gentleman who had many warm friends in Oregon City. His wife had preceded him to the other shore by many years. He leaves two children, a daughter, Eunice Donaldson, of this city, and a son, Frank who lives in Boston.

Long Sentence for Gardner.

The crime with which Gardner was charged and found guilty, was committed on the fourth day of the present month. Gardner and Indian Joe, better known as "Susap" had been drinking together and Gardner went to Susap's home in the evening. During their wild orgies Gardner attempted to criminally assault Joe's wife, Martha. In the struggle Gardner gouged out her eye with his thumb. She was already blind in one eye and his cruel act rendered her totally so.

Gardner has a record for crime extending over a period of years. He was sent to the penitentiary several years ago for criminal assault, and served three years being pardoned before his sentence expired. He was again before the court a few years ago charged with having robbed "Captain Jack" an old, one-legged soldier, who died recently. At this trial he was released with the understanding that he would leave these parts and return no more. Gardner left for a time but soon came back, and was again at his old tricks in a short time. By the time his present sentence has expired he will probably know how to behave.

After being out all Friday night the jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs Robert Gardner, indicted on three counts, brought in a verdict of guilty on the first count, that of mayhem.

Judge McBride dismissed the jury and then sentenced Gardner to 20 years imprisonment in the state penitentiary. In summarizing the case Judge McBride said that Gardner was an old offender, having frequently been before the court for trial for misbehavior, and that he had been let off more than once with a light punishment with the hope that the would in the future reform and live a better life. These hopes had not been realized, for Gardner had shown a propensity to continually get into trouble and was hardly out of one scrape until he was in another. Under these circumstances the judges thought he should receive the maximum punishment for the crime he had been found guilty of committing, and he was consequently sentenced to serve 20 years in the State penitentiary.

The jury in the case of Hartigan vs. the Southern Pacific Railroad Company brought in a verdict last Friday morning in favor of the plaintiff. Hartigan was awarded $1,000. The case occupied considerable of the time of the court and was bitterly contested. Hartigan was a brakeman on the Southern Pacific Railroad. Last February he was injured in a wreck on the West Side division near Oswego. He received a compound fracture of the bones of the right leg below the knee, and as a result the bones were removed. Hartigan brought suit for $15,000. He claimed that the accident had rendered him a cripple.

The defendant attempted to prove that the plaintiff had received no permanent injuries. His leg, they said, had healed and he was as sound as ever. Further more, they claimed that Hartigan was an old and experienced railroad man, that he had accepted the position of brakeman, knowing that the line over which he was to run was not in good condition, and that under these circumstances he should have no damages.

After arguments by the attorneys the case was given to the jury at ten o'clock on Thursday night. It was three o'clock next morning before a decision was reached.

Children's Congress Organized Here

Under the supervision of Rev. J. H. Beaven, of the Baptist church, a juvenile congress, consisting of the boys and girls of the high school department, has been organized in this city. This congress bids fair to accomplish more towards teaching civics to the young folk than all the books they are apt to study during their school life.

The congress is made up of two houses, the senate and house of representatives. Each member is supposed to represent some particular part of the United States, congressional district, if he, or rather she, be a member of the house of representatives, and some state if he be a member of the senate. The boys are the senators while the members of the house are composed of children of the gentler sex.

If a girl is a representative it devolves upon her to acquaint herself with the needs of the particular district which she is supposed to represent and to introduce such legislation as will be beneficial to her district. If a boy is a senator he must look after the interests of the state he is supposed to represent, acquaint himself with the interests of the state, etc. The Courier is not informed as to the political make-up of the mock congress, but presumes that the boys and girls who compose it can call themselves Democrats or Republicans just as they like. The parliamentary rules which govern the congress are in strict accord with the rules which govern the national body. The doings of this mock congress will be watched with considerable interest by the people of Oregon City and elsewhere. The members ought to learn considerable about the law making bodies of the United States Government, and no doubt they will.

Jumped on a Ten Penny Nail.

The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rake made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her foot and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Forkland, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by G. A. Harding

 I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.
