Cow Boy and the Tenderfoot.

For the first time on any stage this comedy drama by the noted author, Franklyn Whitman, and produced by R. C. Whitney, was put on the boards at Shively's opera house last evening. The play was a decided success in all its startling and realistic features. It certainly deserves well at the hand of a criticising public. Considering that it was a first production it moved smoothly and the large audience present was more than delighted as its rapidly moving scenes following one after the other. The play is a strong one and well staged and we have no doubt that it will meet with gratifying success on the road. The play tells the story and and tells it well, of a young tenderfoot who comes to Arizona to get possession of a mine purchased by his father in New York. He meets the cowboy and they become fast friends. The tenderfoot, Randolph Hunter, also meets and falls in love with Bess Chester whose father was formerly the owner of the mine the "Blue Devil". He allows the girl to maintain possession of the mine out of pity and love for her. The "cowboy snapper" tells his life story. He is looking for a man and a woman. The woman arrives on the scene and the man's name is learned. The woman dies and "snappers" prayer at close of the third act is a startling departure from old time methods. Then ensues a big man hunt and a happy denouement. The author has caught the atmosphere of Arizona, his people talk every day language. This is one of the best Western plays since the last of the writings of Bartley Campbell. The following is the cast of characters:
Joe Vinton, alias "Snapper, a cow-puncher..... J. A. West
Randolph Hunter, alias "Partry," a tenderfoot..... Walter Huston
Ezekiel Arnold, who manipulates mines..... Willis L. Holmes
Stephen Arnold, his son, "the man"..... Archie K. Christie
Bob Galloway, who sells things..... J. Arthur O'Brien
Manual, a "Greaser," and a tool of Arnold..... W. LaRue
Pablo, a "Greaser," and another tool..... Floyd Webster
Chris Gregory, miner..... A. W. Reynolds
Hank Collins, who drives the stage..... L. J. Culhane
Bess Chester, sweet and 21.....
..... Hattie Laurent
Kate Vinton, the "woman".....
..... Minnie Pearl
Peppita, an Indian girl..... Vivian Prescott
Cowboys, Indians, Mexicans, etc.

A PROMINENT MEMBER OF I. O. O. F.

Threatened With Bright's Disease--Pe-ru-na Restored Him to Health.

O. FRED LINDSTROM, PAST GRAND MASTER I. O. O. F.
O. Fred Lindstrom, Past Grand Master Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Past Chancellor Twin City Lodge, No. 63, Knights of Pythias, also Past Chief Patriarch, Ridgely Encampment, No. 23, writes from 1923 University Ave, St. Paul, Minn. "Peruna has my hearty endorsement. There is no medicine I know of which can compare with it. I contracted a severe cold several years ago, which from neglect developed into urinary trouble, and threatened Bright's disease. As one of my friends was cured of Bright's disease through the use of Peruna I thought I would try it also, and used it faithfully for three and one-half months, when my health was perfect once more. I have never had any trouble since, and therefore think it is but just to give it unlimited praise."—O. Fred Lindstrom.
Catastrophal inflammation of the mucous lining of the kidneys, also called "Bright's disease," may be either acute or chronic. The acute form produces symptoms of such prominence that the serious nature of the disease is at once suspected, but the chronic variety may come on so gradually and insidiously that its presence is not suspected until after it has fastened itself thoroughly upon its victim.
At the appearance of the first symptom Peruna should be taken. This remedy strikes at once at the very root of the disease.
