Night In Jail For Prince Cupid

Couldn't Be Arrested, Hawaiian Delegate Averred, But He Was for Disturbance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—"Prince Cupid," otherwise Jonah Kaniamaole, delegate in Congress from Hawaii, went to a downtown saloon last night to celebrate the reassembling of Congress. The celebration was pretty far along at 11 o'clock and the set pieces were being fired.

"There's a Hywyon rough-housing cur saloon," shouted a breathless white-coated waiter rushing up to Policeman Wolf. The policeman investigated.

"You can't arrest me," shouted the Prince. "I'm a member of Congress and exempt under the Constitution from arrest."

"The Judge'll settle the constitution," declared Wolf. Because the Prince was quarreling with Charles Clarke, a collector, the policeman took both. Kaniamaole bucked all the way to the station-house. Clarke deposited $5 and was released. The same offer was made to Prince Cupid. It was spurned.

"I can't be arrested," he exclaimed dramatically.

"The cell for yours then," and the doorman took him back. After the doors had made one or two trips back to rive the Prince water an offer was made to allow him to communicate with his friends.

"My arrest is an outrage, and I'm going to stay here," the Prince answered.

When the Black Maria called to take the prisoners to the police court this morning Prince Cupid was bundled in with the others. On his arrival he was put in the dock.

The Prince was too angry to be tried, and his case was postponed until Friday. William Hayward, an attorney, had deposited $5 with the clerk of the court without telling the Prince.

"You can go," the bailiff told the Prince.

"I'm going to stay here," was the answer. "I can't be arrested."

The Prince remained more than an hour and then consented to go home, still protesting that he could not be arrested.

"It's funny about them farmers," declared Policeman Dennis Flynn, the court officer.

Highwayman Gets In His Work

John Dickleman Robbed of Twenty Eight Dollars on Last Friday Night.

John Dickleman, an employe of the street cleaning department, was held up last Friday night by two men who were unmasked, and at the point of a gun made to deliver $28, the amount of money he had on his person at that time. The robbery occurred about 7 o'clock, on the railroad track, near 8th street. As Dickleman was coming along the track he was suddenly confronted by two men, who ordered him to throw up his hands and make no noise. They held a revolver to his head while his pockets were gone through and the $28 extracted.

Because of the absence of concealment which the bold robbers used, the victim was able to give a good description to the officers, but although they have used due diligence, so far no arrests have been made. The highwaymen were the traditional long and short men, the tall one being smooth shaven and the short one wearing a mustache. After the money had been taken from Dickleman's clothes he was ordered to move on and say nothing. The two thieves were then seen to strike off down the track in the direction of Portland.

SPRINGWATER.

The Springwater Grange met the 9th, and had their officers installed. Edwin Bates, postmaster officiated. The grange will have an entertainment on Saturday evening the 23rd. Everybody invited.

George Guttridge is going to Kansas to visit relatives.

John Stormer has bought a couple of Jersey cows.

Mrs. Geo. Bowdish's health is very poorly.

The new town on the O. W. P. R. R. Co line is booming.

Pleats of rain and the roads are getting most horrible. The people on some of them are howling about high taxes and the County court will not assist in repairing and making good roads. Do not know what we will do until next summer. Our enterprising young merchant was trying to bring in some supplies and got stuck in the mud, and had to come 6 miles to get another team and help him. The writer at the December term of County court applied to the court for plank to lay 200 yards of road, but did not get it. Springwater people cannot get lumber from the mill to rebuild where the forest fire, swept building and fence away. The Springwater mill Co contemplates moving their mill over on the O. W. P. R. Co line so they can ship their lumber.

Everybody was more or less surprised at the extraordinary outpouring of the Democratic hosts and gratified that so many of the boys would brave the inclemency of the weather and ride dozens of miles through the rain to testify to their unflinching allegiance to the party of their first love.

Governor George O. Chamberlain occupied the head of the table and was the guest of honor. Mr. James P. Lovett and others of the entertainment committee saw that everybody met the Governor and had a chance to look him in the face and shake his hand. The Governor was in a peculiarly happy frame of mind and his presence added much to the pleasure of the meeting.

To one who has not been long in Oregon and has not learned the politics of many people it was surprising to find out that so many people were really Democrats.

Colonel Robert A. Miller presided as toastmaster, and his selection was a happy one. The first speaker called on was Governor Chamberlain and he made a very happy and interesting speech. The "key note" of his speech was "get together," forget the differences of the past and turn your faces to the future. His speech was exceedingly well received and every good point cheered to the echo. Following Governor Chamberlain toasts were responded to by the following: Judge William Galloway, W. W. Jesse, Hon. H. Vestover, Judge C. M. Waite, Hon. William Vaughan, Hon. Gilbert L. Hedges, E. G. Canfield, cashier of the Bank of Oregon City, H. L. Kelly, book-keeper of Oregon City, bank, Dr. C. M. Strickland, Dr. W. E. Carl, Polk Gribble, of Mecklenburg, and Hon. Sam White, of Pendleton, chairman of the State Central Committee. Joshua McDaniel, of Rickeral; Prof. Q. A. Waun, G. A. Harding, G. R. Miller, H. L. McCann, H. S. Starkweather. The speeches were all good and breathed a spirit of fairness and a desire upon the part of all Democrats to get together in the future.

The meeting broke up at 1 o'clock with the utmost good feeling prevailing and a determination upon the part of all the banqueters to do the very best for the Democratic party in the future that they could do.

The following is a list of distinguished Democrats who had been invited to participate in the meeting but who were unable to attend but wrote letters of encouragement and extended by mail the hand of good will.

Letters were received from the following distinguished Democrats from outside of the county of Clackamas, in response to an invitation to be present at the banquet on the evening of January 8, 1904, at Oregon City, Oregon: Judge J. O. Booth, Grants Pass, Oregon; Will E. King, Ontario; Oscar Hayter, Esq., Dallas; Pres. P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon, Eugene; Hon. John E. Gratke, Astoria; Judge John Fritton, Wasco; Hon. E. D. Boyd, Pendleton; Hon. A. E. Reames, Jacksonville; Hon. John Wall, Hillsboro; Mr. W. A. Wash, Dallas; Hon. W. A. Booth, Prineville; Hon. Dexter Rice, Roseburg; Judge O. A. Hertman, Pendleton; Hon. Alex. Sweek, Portland; Hon. W. D. Hare, Hillsboro; Mr. Samuel M. Garland, Lebanon; Hon. M. A. Miller, Lebanon; Mr. C. W. James, Supt. Oregon State Penitentiary, Salem; Hon. L. F. Grover, Portland; O. P. Coshaw, attorney at law, Roseburg; Wm. Foley, Esq., Portland; A. King Wilson, Esq., Portland; Col. Fred V. Holman, Portland; B. W. Dean, Port Orford, Oregon; T. M. DaRue, Portland.

Celebration of Jackson Day

'The Antierited' of Clackamas County Gather Around the Festival Board.

Last Friday evening at Willamette Hall the Democrats of Clackamas county, two hundred strong, met and celebrated the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans or more properly speaking "Jackson Day." It was a notable gathering and an occasion long to be remembered in the annals of the Democratic party of Clackamas county. Early in the day the Democrats from the county began to arrive in the city until almost every precinct in the county was represented. There were aged sons of Democracy present upon whom the frosts of many winters had fallen. Soldiers of the Grand Army of the Democratic host who have fought the good fight in numberless battles. Uncle "Billy" Gannon, of Canemah, Uncle "Billy" Vaughan, of Molalla, Uncle Tom Turner, of Stafford, J. H. Hazlett, of Molalla, all of whom are old pioneers of Oregon were present to testify to their love for the old party in whose service they have spent all the years of their lives. The boys were there too, young fellows who have just come of age and who will cast their first vote at the next election. The gathering was truly Democratic and represented the best manhood of the good old county of Clackamas.

Three long tables had been spread down the center of the hall and plates laid for 250 guests. The menu had been prepared by C. W. Kelly and J. W. Cole, two men who know as well as anybody can how to lay out a spread fit for the Gods on an occasion like this. Clam chowder, Boston baked beans, pickles and olives, ham, ham sandwiches, celery and dozens of little side dishes made up the menu with as delightful a box of punch as the most exacting could require. Promptly at 8 o'clock the Democratic soldiers found themselves at the table and with right good relish laid to on the tempting repast that laid before them.

Everybody was more or less surprised at the extraordinary outpouring of the Democratic hosts and gratified that so many of the boys would brave the inclemency of the weather and ride dozens of miles through the rain to testify to their unflinching allegiance to the party of their first love.

In the Various Lodge Rooms

A Busy Week Among Local Secret Fraternities--Installations and Other Work.

Oregon City is a great secret society town. No less than fourteen secret societies have their local lodges at this place. All of them have their lodge rooms and most of them have a fine membership. There is not a night in the week that some lodge does not give a banquet, a smoker or a card party. The long winter nights are made pleasant and enjoyable. The past week has been a very busy week among the fraternities.

I. O. O. F. SUBORDINATE LODGE.

Oregon City Lodge I. O. O. F. No. 3, of Oregon City installed its officers for the next six months at their hall on Main street on Thursday evening. The following is the list of the officers installed. Emory J. Noble, noble grand; J. L. Waldron, vice-grand; Thomas F. Ryan, recording secretary; Sol S. Walker, treasurer; Frank L. Stoops, warden; W. A. Hedges, conductor; M. C. McCord, I. G.; E. A. Leighton, R. S. N. G.; E. H. Cowing, L. S. N. G.; David McArthur, R. S. V. G.; Silas R. S. S.; L. S. V. G.; George A. Brown, R. S. S.; E. W. Scott, L. S. S.; Francis Shannon, chaplain. The Odd Fellows subordinate lodge of Oregon City is probably the richest lodge in the city. The lodge owns its own building, a fine two-story brick on Main street in which the post office is now located and has money and bonds. Its building is leased by the government for a period of ten years at a fine rental.

I. O. O. F. REBEKAHS

The Rebekah Odd Fellows Lodge held their meeting on last Friday evening in Odd Fellows' hall. The following officers were installed for the current six months. Grace M. Noble, noble grand; Flora Moore, vice-grand; E. J. Noble, secretary; Jennie Leuling, treasurer; Lenora Cooke, warden; Jennie Wilkinson, conductor; Anna White, I. G.; Charles P. Numan, O. G.; S. S. Walker, R. S. N. G.; Mattie Beard, R. S. V. G.; Jeanette Scott, L. S. V. G.; Mary Bradley, chaplain. The installation was conducted by Hattie Webster, of Shannon Lodge of Clackamas. After the installation a nice lunch was served and cards were indulged in until the turn of the night. The Rebekahs believe in having a good time and have at every meeting.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD.

The Woodmen of the World have elected the following officers for the current six months and will install them on Friday night, Jan. 22: C. E. Lait, counsel commander; A. J. Mayville, adviser; Lieutenant; I. D. Taylor, banker; G. Olds, clerk; E. H. Cowing, G. B. Dimick and W. J. Wilson, managers. At their meeting on last Friday night they gave a smoker which was a most delightful affair all around. Cigars, refreshments and speeches were the order and a royal good time was enjoyed by all present. The Woodmen of the World is one of the strongest organizations in point of membership in the city.

JOHN GIBBONS POST NO. 78 DEPARTMENT OF OREGON G. A. R.

John Gibbons Post No. 78 Department of Oregon held a well attended meeting Friday afternoon at Redmen's hall and installed the following officers:

These officers hold their positions for the next year, James A. Roman, P. C.; Charles Eray, S. V. C.; Ira Jones, J. V. C.; T. F. Cowing, adjutant; Joel A. The lodge meets the 1st and 2nd Saturday of each month.

The regular meeting of Solo Circle will be called to order promptly at 7:15 Friday evening January 13 in order to get through with the business and initiation by 8:30, so that the invited guests may witness the installation of officers for the coming term. Solo Circle is in a prosperous condition and just now have a special dispensation to take in new members on Grand Circle fees which are $1.50 initiation.

No More Fires in Woolen Mill

Automatic Fire Extinguisher Has Been Put in at the Cost of $12,000.00.

A system of piping for fire protection, one of the most complete in any manufacturing plant on the Coast, and installed at a cost of $12,000 was last week completed at the Oregon City Manufacturing Company's woolen mill in this city. The system is known as the Grinnell Automatic Sprinkler Fire Extinguisher, and it is claimed that its installation in the woolen mill makes it impossible for the buildings of the company to be destroyed by fire.

Last summer a disastrous fire, the most extensive occurring here for several years, destroyed a large portion of the buildings of the woolen mill. New buildings, replacing the former structures more modern and complete in every way, have been built, and in connection, to guard against a repetition of the damage by fire of last year, the automatic fire extinguisher has been installed. By its use the insurance companies have given the owners of the mill a reduction in their rates of 40 per cent.

By means of this system, pipes varying in size from 3/4 to six inches have been placed along the ceiling throughout the buildings of the mill, and at intervals of eight to ten feet thereon are placed vents, with small attachments, so arranged that whenever the heat in their vicinity reaches a temperature of 115 deg, a composition metal sealing the apertures fuses, letting the water escape in a shower. A metal cap of peculiar shape distributes the water as widely as possible, and each sprinkler will give out 20 gallons of water per minute under a pressure of 100 pounds.

This system of pipes is attached to the central city mains by three six-inch connections, thereby affording sufficient water to supply every sprinkler in the mills should the fires be extensive enough to require it. There are 2300 of these sprinklers in the system just installed and about four miles of piping in connection.

In the main brick factory building, water pressure is constant inside the pipes, but in the other buildings of the mill, where there would be danger of water, the smaller pipes are kept full of compressed air. As soon as the metal of the sprinkler is melted the air escapes and a valve is tripped, letting in water, which immediately rushes to the point from which the air escaped.

The excellent water system which this city has is favorable to such fire protection, as there is available about 200 pounds on Main street. This increased pressure makes the amount of water thrown by the sprinklers considerably greater than 20 gallons per minute. The pressure here is greater than in many other Coast cities, Seattle having only 160 pounds, and 200 pounds being unusual. This makes the fighting of fire here much more effective.

The paper mills on the West Side are both fitted with this type of fire extinguisher, the Crown mill putting it in about 12 years ago, and the Willamette later. General Funston, who was at that time connected with the company manufacturing the extinguisher, supervised the installing of the system in the Crown mill.

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless; positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc.

Women Sleep Out of Doors

Cool Consumptives' Failing From Derby, Conn., Undergo Heroic Treatment and Are Thriving.

DERBY, Conn., Jan. 10.—With the mercury 30 degrees below zero, Mrs. George A. Allworth and Miss Alice L. Flint slept all last night in the open air on the veranda of their home here.

Miss Flint is the daughter of George B. Flint, a silver mill foreman, Mrs. Allworth and she are consumptives.

Last July their cases were declared hopeless. As a last resort a physician advised sleeping in the open air. They have not slept a night indoors since. Throughout the winter they have established their bed on an upper veranda promptly at 9 p. m. Their bed-clothing has consisted of one blanket and one comfortable. In case of rain or snow a rubber covering is used. Last night an extra blanket was added. So insured have they become to the rigors of winter that this morning they reported they had not a cold throughout the night.

Their physician says both women have lost at nearly all trace of tuberculosis, and that three months more of heroic treatment will cure them. The complexion of both has become a ruddy brown from exposure, and indoors they complain of the heat if the temperature of the house is over 50 degrees. Miss Flint has gained twenty-five pounds in weight, and both have hearty appetites.

Hubbard.

House breaking seems to be the latest sport in our burg. Look out boys you are apt to lose your hat as most people keep some kind of knocking machine torn away.

Our new graded school building is almost completed.

We understand that our feed mill man, Mr. Bonney has purchased a 20-horse power engine and is going into the saw mill business.
