The W. P. & P. Co. has two petroleum tanks well under way, 20 feet each. The company will in addition have to build a monster storage tank to keep steam under all of its boilers. The first tank of the Crown company, which has but two boilers to supply, is nearly done and excavation for the second will soon begin. These tanks are being constructed of heavy concrete walls and the roof covering them consists of iron cross-beam and concrete two to three feet in thickness.

The passing a few days ago to her last rest of Mrs. A. D. Lovejoy, in the city of Portland, marked the exit of the last of a devoted band of pioneer wives and mothers who, in the early days, dispensed the generous hospitality of pioneer homes at Oregon City. Mrs. George Abernethy, Mrs. M. M. McCarter, Mrs. B. Jennings, Mrs. A. E. Hedges, Mrs. William Barlow, Mrs. George L. Curry, Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth, Mrs. Judge White, Mrs. A. L. Lovejoy, Mrs. W. O. Dement--what pleasant memories are awakened at the sound of each of these once familiar names! Each represents a life work, the every-day record of words and good deeds. The incidents of their lives were commonplace; their many deeds of kindness and generosity will not find a place in history, but they are written in "God's book of remembrance."

At a meeting of dairymen in Corvallis Richard Scott, of Milwaukie, one of the most successful and best-known dairymen of the state, reported a yield of 50 tons per acre of thousand-headed kale on his farm. Mr. Scott is making this almost his only ration for his large dairy herd this winter, and will so continue until well toward spring. Very little mill feed or hay is being used, and excellent results are obtained very cheaply in this manner. Country Gentleman.

Deputy Fish Warden Herman Webster returned Friday from the fish hatchery on Salmon river, where he has spent the past few days. He reports that the eggs taken at that place have all been hatched, and the station there has turned out about 10,000,000 small fry this season; 3,500,000 were early Chinook salmon, and about 6,500,000 were middle run fish. Not all these eggs were taken at the Salmon River hatchery, but many were brought from the Little White Salmon establishment in Washington. On the whole, the work of the Salmon River plant during the past season has been most successful.

Pat Freeman, who is employed in booming the logs of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company, on their booms above the falls, met with a painful accident Saturday morning shortly after beginning the day's work. In attempting to cut a pike pole his ax caught on the boom and in some way the blow was deflected, the ax finally striking him on the back of the left hand, and cutting a deep gash, which bled profusely. He sought medical attendance at once and the wound was sewed up. Although it will be some little time before he can go back to work, it is said that he will recover the use of the hand.

The Saturday Club of the Congregational church held its annual meeting last Saturday afternoon. Last year was the most successful in the history of the Club, nearly $400 having been expended for various purposes. The officers elected for the new year are, president, Miss Myrtle Buchanan; vice-president, Mrs. C. D. Latourette; secretary, Miss Edith Cheney; treasurer, Miss Edna Caulfield. A number of new members were also elected. They have secured Prof. M. E. Robinson, a noted Chautauqua choros director, to direct the rendition of the ever popular cantata, "Queen Esther." After the Professor's engagement at Astoria he will come to Oregon City. The cantata will be given about the middle of February.

They met in the school house and assisted in the installation of the officers of Willamette Lodge. After the installation a nice supper was served and a general good time was had. The following officers were installed: Allie Buckles, master workman; William Berdine, foreman; Andrew Fromong, overseer, and Bert Ranch, guide.

The young friends of Miss Bertha Long tendered her a surprise party last Saturday evening in honor of her 15th birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Long in Canemah. About 25 of her friends were present, and the evening was very pleasantly passed with games and dancing. The young people came unmask. At a late hour refreshments were served. The affair was much enjoyed by those attending, and Miss Long received birthday congratulations galore from her many friends.

Circuit Court Judge Thomas McBride has closed court in Oregon City for the present and is now in Hillsboro presiding at the trial of R. H. Kennedy for burglary. Kennedy is attempting to prove that he was in the local land office at the time the robbery took place and for that purpose had Miss Kelly and A. S. Dresser both summoned as witness in the case. They positively identified the defendant. If he was here at the time he claims he was here it would have been impossible for him to have committed the robbery.

M. J. Porter, night watchman in the Woolen Mills died of heart failure while on his way home from the mills on Thursday morning. He had worked all night and knocked off when the force came to work in the morning. He left the building apparently in good health and spirits. About a half an hour later Miss Grace Marshall, who works in the Enterprise office found his dead body cold and stiff in death lying across the path leading towards his home in Canemah. The coroner was summoned and an inquest was held and the verdict that he came, to his death from heart failure rendered. Deceased came to this state from Erie county, Pennsylvania 12 months ago. He has a divorced wife in Pennsylvania. He was an old soldier and a man of good habits.

Mr. Michael will return to St Paul as soon as his business affairs are closed up at this place. He formerly lived in that city.

CASE OF SMALLPOX.

Disease Appears Among Family of Children at Falls View.

After having two cases of the mild form of smallpox in the city, and it having been thought it was stamped out of this locality, a third case reappeared yesterday at Falls View. The family now afflicted with the disease is that of Mr. St. John, a recent arrival from Omaha, Neb. One of the small girls of the family was stricken Wednesday with the disease in a mild form, and immediate quarantine was placed upon the house.

The girl who has developed symptoms of the disease has been attending school, and owing to the fact that she was a new arrival, the requirement now in force that she must have been previously vaccinated before admission to the classes in the public schools of the city, was overlooked in her case.

It is not known where she contracted the disease, unless she was in some way subjected to contagion at school. The case is a very mild one, and as the other children in the family have now all been vaccinated, and a strict quarantine is maintained upon the family, there is no apprehension because of the disease spreading farther.

This case seems to illustrate the wisdom of the requirement of the State Board of Health that all children attending the schools of the state shall be vaccinated before being admitted to classes, and it is likely that with the strict enforcement of that requirement, there will be no further danger of the dread disease in the schools.

ARE YOU A MASON?

To Be Presented at Shively's Opera House

"The Columbia Theater attracted last night all the people who like to laugh. No one of merry mood could have been disappointed, for "Are You a Mason?" is a thorough-going farce, with situations whose silliness is their reason for being. A very morose person may sit through such whirle of misunderstanding, where everybody is at cross purposes, and most of the characters allow themselves to be easily deceived and led into traps, without a twitching of the muscles about the mouth, but the average person will find the farce inordinately amusing. The men who are fond of nights about a town, games of poker and little suppers deceive their trusting wives by pretending to have engagements at their Masonic lodge. But truth, the avenger, finds them out, and hence the complications." Shively's Opera House, Jan. 16.

ESTACADA ON A BOOM.

New City Born at the Falls of the Clackamas.

The new city of Estacada has been launched into full being. On Tuesday last a number of Oregon City people journeyed out to the new town and took part in the big sale of lots. The choice lot brought $500 and the others from $250 to $310, and in all 24 lots were sold. The sale was held in a tent. The new town is beautifully laid out and no doubt will have a brilliant future before it. Senator George C. Brownell made a speech and everything went off as fine as silk.

The townsite of Estacada was lately laid out by the O. W. P. & Ry. Co., the land having been purchased from Eli Williams, of this city, who owned the property. The name of Estacada is a combination of the names of Esther Williams, wife of Eli, and J. P. Keady, Representative, and who arranged the right of way for the railroad along the Upper Clackamas.
