If the Courier had issued a New Year's edition it would deservedly have desired to give a prominent position in its columns to the grocery business of Miss M. Harris on the corner of 14th and Main streets. As a business woman, attending to the details of her trade personally, early and late, she hasn't her equal in the city. Miss Harris shows what a woman can do when she has the energy.

Geo. Phillip Lark, of Portland, who died in that city on last Friday was buried in this city on last Sunday. The deceased was 80 years of age and one of our oldest citizens. The funeral took place from the Congregational church at 1:30 o'clock. For many years Mr. Lark was a resident of this city and had many friends here. He was laid to rest by the side of his wife in Mountain View cemetery.

Hon. G. W. Grace, who has been very low with cancer of the stomach for the past two months, is gradually growing weaker. His brother, ex-Representative Grace of Baker City, who has been at his bedside, returned to his home on Friday last to attend to some important business and attend the meeting of the grand commandery of Masons, of which order he is a prominent member. He will immediately return to Oregon City and remain here until there is a change in his brother's condition.

Ferguson, Charles Mattison, of Polk county.

The petitions that are being circulated in this county by the grangers to invoke the initiative upon the direct primary law are being numerous signed. The popularity of the measure as attested by the great number of signers is remarkable and practically amounts to unanimity in the matter. It is the intention of the grangers to push the matter to an early conclusion and have a vote upon the question at the regular June election.

Frank Welsh and Charles Pope left on Friday morning for the mines of the Molalla Central Mining Co., on Ogle Creek. They were taken out with a team from the livery barn of Gross & Moody. They will drive some thirty miles and then go in on snow shoes the remainder of the way. The snow is reported to be six feet deep at Red Rock and much deeper further out. They are going out to take a look at the development work that is being done by the force of men they have at work.

The remains of Martin J. Porter, who dropped dead of heart disease while on his way home from the Oregon City Woolen Mills, where he was night watchman, were laid to rest last Friday in Mountain View cemetery. The funeral was conducted by the local Grand Army Post at the Baptist church, and the funeral sermon was preached by Rev. J. H. Beaven. After the burial the body was disinterred and embalmed, to be shipped East to Cambridge Springs, Pa., where they will be buried. Telegrams were received from relatives in the East of this effect.

The county court of Clackamas county has been in session practically all of the week. Among other matters of importance which has been up for consideration the court has selected the jury list of the county for the past year. The list will be published in the Courier next issue. The court has also selected all of the election officers for the year 1904 and that list quite a lengthy one, will appear in full in the next issue of the Courier. The list of jurors was not finished until late Wednesday evening and the selection officers was not finalized until Friday. The court has been a very busy body this week. All of the proceedings will appear later.

A. R. Stauffer, of Needy, will sell his household effects and will soon leave for Alberta, N. W. T. This will be some what of a change from the warm and equable climate of this section, and it is safe to predict that after being accustomed to the mild climate enjoyed here Mr. Stauffer will not take kindly to the extreme cold winters of that Northern country. He states that it is a good thing that the winter do not average a lower temperature than 10 degrees below zero. It is not expected that this temperature will tempt many Oregonians to migrate there. The country which he expects to go into lies north of the Great Lakes and east of the Rocky mountains.

In another column of this issue appears the advertisement of Hon. George W. Grace of the sale of his grocery, and general store at the top of the bluff on Seventh street. The Courier very much regrets as does every other good citizen of Clackamas county that Mr. Grace finds his health in such an enfeebled and precarious condition as in his judgment necessitates the disposal of his business. No cleverer business man has done business in Oregon City in recent years. He is a gentleman all of the time and a man of many parts. The business which he offers for sale is a most desirable one. Few, if any merchants, in Oregon City has a bigger or better. The location is one of the best in the city and the business which is largely cash approximates $50,000 per year. The store ought to be sold in its entirety and is one of the most desirable business propositions in Oregon City.

QUALITY

If there is one thing that you want, when you go into a drug store, it is QUALITY. You want Quality in all drugs and chemicals; Quality in all prescription work; Quality in everything that has to do with medicine.

Is is not so?

Certainly! There can be no question about it! That is why our trade is so large. It is a recognized fact that our label on a bottle of medicine stamps it with Quality, because it never goes out on any bottle or box of medicine that does not possess Quality.

The Sensible Cough Cure

There are kinds of cough remedies which are as bad as the coughs they are intended to cure. They stop the cough sometimes, but they do it by doing just what a cough cure should not do and that is to dry up the secretions and to stifle the cough by means of opiates. A real cough cure should stimulate the secretions, heal the inflamed surface, and cure by removing the cause.

Huntley's White Pine Balsam

cures in the right way. It has been curing coughs for years, and we know of no way in which it could be improved. Our confidence in it is such that we sell each bottle under a positive guarantee.
