Fredolph Nelson, of Portland aged 23 years, brother of Theodore and Victor Nelson formerly of this city was buried in this city on last Sunday. The funeral was from the undertaking rooms of R. L. Holman and the services at the grave were conducted by Rev. Young of the German Lutheran church. Nelson had only been in this courtry two years. He was a strong and vigorous man. Some six weeks ago he was stricken down by typhoid fever and died in a Portland hospital.

County Assessor Nelson is now busy on the records of his office, which are called the "present-owner maps," and which must be gone over every year by the Assessor to change the names of owners of property which has during the year been transferred to others. Since last March there have been 1600 deeds filed involving Clackamas County property and the names of the pur-chasers of the properties must be sub stituted on these maps for the owners a year ago. In this way the Assessor is able to assess the property to the proper owner. All the real estate in the co ty is mapped out in this way. While the expenses of the Assessor's office in 1902 were approximately $4000, and in THERE IS NO SUBSTITUT 1903 $3492, he estimates that in 1904 they will not exceed $2500.
