Ella Higginson, who, as Ella Rhodes, set type in the Enterprise over nearly a quarter of a century ago, has issued another volume of poems, which has come under the judicious eye of a Boston critic. He says: "We have in these poems a superabundance of emotion and physical intensity. Passion is a good thing in poetry; but Mrs. Higginson's passion is of the fevered kind, with a suggestion of delirium here and there. Yet undeniably there is an eager sense of the beauty of the natural world, and much knowledge of the things that satisfy or desolate the loving heart. With many things that are too high-strung, there are some that 'sweep the zither neither low nor high,' and are more welcome for their quiet tone, and make us wish that it would oftener occur." The Boston man evidently tries to say that the authoress is too strenuous.

Grant Olds met with a painful accident last Saturday while working about the paper mill. He was struck in the face by a piece of timber and his countenance considerably disfigured.

A. Riggs has opened a grocery store on Clackamas Heights.

A man named Gibbs, from Gresham, has bought the Dixon property at the Latourette school house, and is building a new house.

The rats in the Highland road between the turnaway from the Molalla road and the Latourette bridge, are being filled with broken rock. This is the first time that anything worth while has been done on this piece of road since it was scidly graveled by Sidney Smith about a dozen years ago.

Mr. A. Riggs of Clackamas Heights, has opened up a new grocery store at that place. He will carry a full line of groceries of all kinds and aim to fully supply his trade. This is the only story store in this village and Mr. Riggs should and doubtless will do a flourishing business.

William Rosenau, a prominent farmer and Democrat from the Milwaukie precinct, was in town Tuesday paying his taxes and attending to other business. Despite the fact that there is no school tax in Mr. Rosenau's district as there was last year, his taxes were about $9 more than they were last year on the same property.

The literary entertainment and dance given by the athletic club of the High School last Saturday night, was attended by a large crowd and was a most successful affair. The recitations, music and all the literary features were well rendered. After the literary entertainment there was a dance which was greatly enjoyed.

The attendance at Maple Lane Grange on Saturday was no less than sixty. In intelligence and public spirit the brothers and sisters of Maple Lane will compare favorably with the membership of any other subordinate in this county. The message that the Grange bears to humanity, finds here willing listeners. The dinner provided was a splendid one. It was a feast. A round dozen members withdrew in order to join the new grange at Park Place. A committee of two was appointed to have charge of the hall whenever public dances take place.

Oregon City is at last to be favored with a company of good actors. The Gypsy Frank Company will appear one night only at Shiveley's opera house, Saturday, March 12, in the celebrated production entitled "The Hand of Fate" and is a play to be seen and remembered for it is interesting from start to finish. A good turnout is promised as this is a meritorious company with a good attraction. Rev. Geo. A. Dee says: "I have been a better man for seeing 'The Hand of Fate' and recommended it to my congregation. No one believing in the brotherhood of man should miss it. The moral speaks for itself."

FOR RENT—Three rooms. Inquire of I. LeMahieu, Courier office.

Ed. J. Hammond, a prominent and respected citizen of Molalla, was in Oregon City on Wednesday and paid his taxes and "shook" hands with a large number of his friends. Mr. Hammond is an Englishman by birth but has lived in Oregon City for many years and is now a typical Webb foot. He is a Democrat but is not very strongly inclined for "Billy" Hearst. Mr. Hammond only visits Oregon City once a year and always pays the Courier office a pleasant call.

Successful Merchandising.

Thomson's Bargain Stores, Portland and Oregon City. Fine line of spring goods now here. Special personal attention will still be given to our prosperous Oregon City store.

Parkplace Roosevelt Club.

A Republican club has been organized at Park Place with a membership of 30. The Club has been christened the Roosevelt Club. The officers are J. H. Apperson, president; W. W. Smith, vice-president; John Meldrum, secretary.

Joseph Suter of Eagle Creek, was in Oregon City on Wednesday and became a subscriber to the Courier. Mr. Suter is a veteran of the civil war and lost a leg at the battle of Stone river or possibly better known as the battle of Murphysboro Tennessee. He is now in his 64th year and barring the fact that he has lost a leg in the service of his country is as hale and hearty as any man of that advanced age. He has lived in this part of Oregon for the past thirty one years and likes the Willamette valley. He draws a pension of $55 a month every dollar of which is well deserved. Mr. Suter has been a populist in politics but is now working for the Democratic party and believes that if the Democrats put up a good ticket it will win this year.

Mrs. Mary J. Dicken of Stone was in Oregon City on Wednesday and among other business matters she attended to while here she paid her taxes and paid the Courier office a very pleasant visit. Mrs. Dicken lives with her daughter on her farm near Stone, and is a woman well preserved for one of the old pioneers. She crossed the plains with her parents in 1852, her husband coming one year later. Her father started from the state of Illinois with three wagons, six yoke of cattle, two horses and a number of cows. It took them six full months to make the trip. Her father settled in this county and she grew to womanhood, and married here and has never been back to the old home in "Illinois." Asking no favors and doing the work that fell on her hands Mrs. Dicken has lived here until she has become a fixture and expects to live in this beautiful valley until the end. Her father, mother and husband are all buried in Oregon and with them she expects to sleep "In the Sweet by and by."

J. N. Sawtelle, a prominent Molalla farmer, was in town Tuesday and Wednesday attending the Grange convention.

A mohair pool has been formed at Molalla. At the present time the pool has 1000 fleeces pledged. There are about 2,500 angoras in the south end of the county, which comprise all but about 500 of the goats in the county.

Suits for divorce were filed Tuesday by Ida M. Johnson vs. Hamilton L. Johnson, and Francella C. Varney vs. Edward O. Varney. The plea in the first named suit is desertion and in the second named cruel and inhuman treatment and non-support.

A convention of the subordinate granges of Clackamas county, assembled in the county court room in Oregon City Tuesday for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention which meets in Corvallis in May. Following are the delegates who were nominated: Delegates, State Grange.

Edwin Bates and Sarah E. Bates, of Springwriter, No. 263; Mrs. Mary A. Waldron and J. L. Waldron, of Warner, No. 117; J. C. Sprague and Mrs. Hattie Sprague, of Harding, No. 122; A. F. Davis, of Clackamas, No. 298; C. C. Borland and Mrs. L. J. Borland, of Oswego, No. 175.

NEW ERA.

Don't forget to attend the Farmers' Institute on Tuesday, March 22, at the grange hall in New Era.

George H. Brown was in Portland on business Wednesday last.

Anne Solle of Portland, visited her parents here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dietz have taken a boarder. It's a girl.

Elmer Veteto visited the Portland crematory one day last week while it was in operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Stauber spent Thursday of last week in Oregon City.

Ruby N-wbury is on the sick list.

Olive Friedrich is visiting in Portland.

August Bremer and his mother returned Sunday from Portland where they have been visiting with relatives.

Fred Chinn moved on his own farm last week.

John Weismandel leaves Sunday for Macksburg to engage in farming. He will be greatly missed by our people.

Mr. and Mrs. Eisert visited her parents at Oswego Sunday.

While visiting her aunt in Portland last week, Mrs. August Scheer was taken suddenly ill and was unable to return home for a couple of days.

One day last week L. Furgason was working on his farm when he was accosted by a foot traveler and asked for work enough to pay for a meal. Mr. Furgason told the man that he could not afford to give him work and that his pantry had been devasted by thieves a few days before and he was not in shape to feed tramps. The stranger whipped out a revolver and shouted, "G—d— you, don't call me a tramp. After a brief parley the hobo started off, when Furgason remarked that he would call for the sheriff and put him on his tail. The hobo wheeled again drew his revolver, saying "G—d— you I will kill you yet. Mr. Furgason beat a hasty retreat. He says if he had had a gun he would have made it warm for the hobo.

Mrs. Fellows, of Portland, is visiting at the home of her brother, Capt. Apperson.

Joseph Knowland, the tailor, returned from California last week and will re-commence business in this city. His son, Thomas, will be in charge of it as proprietor and manager. That Mr. Knowland is the most skillful tailor ever located among us, no one will deny that who patronized him formerly. In addition he is a whole-souled gentleman. The shop of the Knowlands will be on Seventh street, opposite the Courier office. By the way, from the way many wonderers return to Oregon it would seem that webfoot has peculiar attention.

A Drug Store That Is A Drug Store
There are lots of drug stores. You may wonder whether it makes any difference where you take your prescriptions or where you buy your goods.
Our best promise is in our drug store itself. Come in and investigate it from front door to back, from top to bottom.
Every drug and chemical used here is actually tested, either by us or a reputable concern. We insist on purity---absolutely. It costs us more, of course, for our material than it does less particular druggists, but we are compensated by the increased trade that rewards the superior quality of our goods.
Remember that high quality costs you not a penny more than you are required to pay elsewhere. Isn't purity---especially prescription purity---worth coming here to get?
