Mr. Anderson, of Needy, was in town Saturday. He reports that the hop vines have come up better than last year but there is not yet a full stand. One yard of eight acres which produced only 120 boxes last year and which was marked for plowing under will this year probably produce three-fourth as much as usual.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the friends and neighbors who so kindly lent us their assistance during the recent illness and death of Mrs. Winnie J. Davis.

J. T. EVANS AND FAMILY.

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. Van Metre, Shepherdsburg, W. Va., says "I had a severe case of bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Charman & Co., Druggists. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c, $1.

The advisability of farming out to Multnomah the indigents who are supported by this county is being considered. An addition will soon be made to the buildings of Multnomah county and with the farm in connection, that county can take care of them at a smaller expense than can this county. At present there are 18 indigents who draw at the rate of about $3000 yearly.

A large cougar was killed a few days ago in the eastern end of this county. While these animals are not rare by any means, yet they are not frequently met in the better settled portions of the state. This particular specimen was seen by a man hunting for cattle and was treed by a faithful dog. A neighbor was called who brought down the giant cat at the first shot. The death of considerable stock has been charged up to the cougar's account, which is now said to be balanced.

Killed in Paper Mill.

Mr. W. E. H. Clark, while working in the Crown Paper Mills last Saturday morning, was caught on a shaft and bruised in a terrible manner, dying about ten minutes later. The remains were taken to Holman's undertaking parlors, and an inquest held, which resulted in a verdict to the effect that no blame attached to any one. Rev. P. K. Hammond telegraphed Mr. Clark's father, the Venerable Archdeacon Clark, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, and received a reply asking that the remains be forwarded if possible. This was done on the 6:10 train Sunday evening, Dr. Hammond of St. Paul's Episcopal church, holding a brief service at the undertaking parlors. Mr. Clark was much liked by his intimate friends, and was a steady, quiet, reserved young man. He was contemplating entering the law department of the State University, and in the meantime was studying law by the correspondence method.

Death of Mrs. Lamb.

Mrs. Mary Jane Lamb died at Bolton Sunday evening, May 15, 1904, at the residence of her parents, Edward and Katherine Johnston. Mrs. Lamb was 19 years 10 months of age and the cause of her death was acute consumption. With her husband she removed from here to Lexington, Wash., where she remained only a week, the sudden failing of her health causing her to return. She was born in North Dakota and had resided in this state nine years. Her husband, parents, and five brothers are left to mourn her early demise. The remains were interred at the Catholic cemetery.

Death of Pioneer.

Surrounded by devoted children and kind neighbors, Grandma Clark went to rest May 12, 1904. Her maiden name was Maria Mailev. She was born in Springfield, Ill., April 19, 1836, losing her mother when six weeks old. In 1845 she crossed the plains with her father and stepmother, and was left an orphan when she was nine years old. Her reminiscences of her trip and experiences of early days were intensely interesting. She was married twice—the first time when only fifteen years of age. She was the mother of twelve children, eight of whom survive her. She had lived in Salem, Corvallis, Eugene, Amity, Portland, and the last years were spent in Clackamas. For five long years she has left her bed only when lifted from it. She suffered greatly, but bore her pain patiently, and she was always cheery and so truly Christian that perhaps no influence in Clackamas could be missed as much as hers will be. The funeral which was held Saturday afternoon at the M. E. church, and was conducted by Revs. Brackenberry, Elliott and Miller. The floral tributes were profuse and lovely.
