Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland Benterville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia, and Grip. Guaranteed by Charman & Co., Druggists. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c, and $1.

Ament the Quilt Raffle.

Through a misunderstanding, it has been advertised that "that quilt" which is to be raffled at three o'clock on Saturday, June 4th, at the Maple Lane Grange Hall, would be sold at auction to the highest bidder providing no one held the lucky number. Some one must necessarily hold the lucky number, as the stub from every ticket sold will be placed in a box and well shaken, and a child will draw a stub therefrom. The person holding the corresponding number will be the winner of the quilt.

A GRANGER.

Warner Grange.

At the meeting of Warner Grange on Saturday, the celebration of Children's Day was set for the next regular meeting.

The hall debt has been reduced to $15, including principal and interest. The exercises of the lecturer's hour were opened by an address on Memorial Day by Worthy Master France. As an appropriate sequence to this, Brother McArthur read the names of those mem-

Fleshy people generally dread the approach of the hot season, but those who have chances on the Examiner's "weight in silver" prize will not be sure that they regret being heavy until after the drawing comes off.

Those who are fond of separating the gamy trout from his native element, are not well pleased with the results obtained thus far. While a number of good catches have been made, the majority of excursions have been disappointing. Some whose opinion is worth listening to say that later in the season the sport will be better.

Within the past few years hundreds of books have been added to the libraries of this county. Many schools now have a fair collection of good reading matter which tends to broaden the student as they advance with their studies proper. Much of this money has been raised by giving entertainments. One of the recent ones was at Carus where $15.40 was raised and a number of good books were added to the already existing library.

A picnic marked the close of the Oak Grove school last Friday. A fine program was rendered by the children, and a number of talks were made by visitors present. Mrs. Hayhurst has been hired to teach again this fall, when the new schoolhouse will have been completed. In making up the general averages for the year's work it was noticed that Orval Oide had made an average of 98.35, and that a number of other had done remarkable well.

On their return from a hunting trip to Golly Creek last week, four Canby young men camped over night at a stream a little this side of the Shandy place. One of them, Clyde Dix, jumped up in a terrible fright at about midnight, shouting and fired off his rifle. He said that he had heard the roar of a panther cat. As they were in imminent danger of being attacked at any moment, the quartette hugged their guns pretty closely for the remainder of the night. In the morning they found the tracks in the sand of a large cougar.

Recently an automobile accident out of the ordinary was reported. A well known citizen was driving on the Oswego road accompanied by his wife and children when the machine got out of order. Getting out and assisting the family to alight, the gentleman began repairs, when suddenly the machine started and before it could be stopped plunged into the river. As it was not built for navigating the blue waters of the Willamette, a steamboat was engaged to remove it from its anchorage.

That the spring is rapidly merging into summer, and that even autumn is not far distant when the golden wheat will be safely stored in the farmer's granary, was called to mind Friday when Samuel Elmer of Clarks, passed through Oregon City with a fine new threshing outfit. The engine is of the J. J. Case manufacture and has 15-horsepower. The separator is made by the same company, has a 28-inch cylinder, is a self feeder, and has a windstacker, besides a weighing attachment. This is certainly one of the finest outfits in the county.

trophies of the trip, Mr. Huerth shows some nice-looking specimens of mineral bearing rock, but on which the assayer does not place a very high estimate; Mr. Prenschoff shows a fine pair of antlers, but unluckily the deer had been detached from them before he found them; the boy, Hans, is the proud possessor of a bear skin, which he obtained with the bear in it, while in the mountains. It may not always work well to "send a boy to mill," but it looks as though Messrs. Huerth and Prenschoff had as well stay at home and "send the boy to the mountains."

The cherries and peaches are blighted on the Jim Evans place, west side of the Willamette, about 11 miles south.

Messrs. Mann and Forsythe, living about two miles northeast of Oregon City, recently cut down a tree—no, they tried to cut down a tree. It must be admitted that they are not the first men who ever tried to cut down a tree, but perhaps they are not the first who ever failed to accomplish their object for the same reason. It was a large tree, some six or seven feet in diameter. The two men sawed, and sweat, and swo—, the last may not be true, so it is just as well not to say it. The saw dragged its weary length back and forth through the six feet of solid fir, the day wore on and the saw-teeth wore off, but the tree gave no sign of falling. It did not even stagger. At length the tree was cut through to within a few inches, but it obeyed St. Paul's injunction, "be steadfast." Wedges were inserted, but the tree never budged; and there it stands yet, or at least it still stood, and also stood still at last reports. Some people think the strange phenomenon a result of witchcraft; others suppose that chance has placed the center of gravitation exactly over the center of the basal support, so that any motion whatever in any direction which ever has a tendency to elevate the center of mass, or words to that effect. But the most reasonable suggestion is this: Keeping in mind the size of the tree, the probable dullness of the saw, and the wonderfully fertile soil and invigorating climate of Oregon, it seems quite possible that the stump and that portion of the trunk which were first cut apart, grew together again before the opposite side of the tree was reached. Stranger things than that are said to have happened in Oregon.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; anti-septic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an anti-septic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by Geo. A. Harding.

In Brazil's mineral display there is nearly every kind of precious mineral. The exhibit is counted as one of the best in the Department of Mines and Metallurgy.
