

NEWS OF THE COUNTY

MEADOW BROOK.

For the last few days there has been considerable excitement in the vicinity of Meadowbrook over a crazy man, supposed at the time to be an escape from the asylum. Just what the outcome will be remains to be seen, but at the present writing Mr. Russell is out with a force of men looking for tracks. We hope to be able soon to give more information, but we can assure the people of this vicinity that there is no danger of any one being molested as the parties in pursuit are not the kind that let their game escape once they get track.

Meadowbrook school house has a new well with plenty of good water, which is a great improvement for the school.

Mr. J. W. Stone was a visitor in town Saturday. He reports the present dry weather as being very much like the California summers. He expects to operate the union mills with steam power soon.

Mr. A. L. Larkins has returned from a somewhat protracted hunt in the mountains. He reports plenty of game but the most of it is wild and hard to catch.

Mr. Robson returned Friday from a hunt in the mountains. He says there is plenty of rain in that part of the country and a fine crop of deer tracks.

We understand that the telephone system is to be extended from Meadowbrook to near Colton in the very near future.

Safeguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitable inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Geo. A. Harding.

FEMALE WEAKNESS

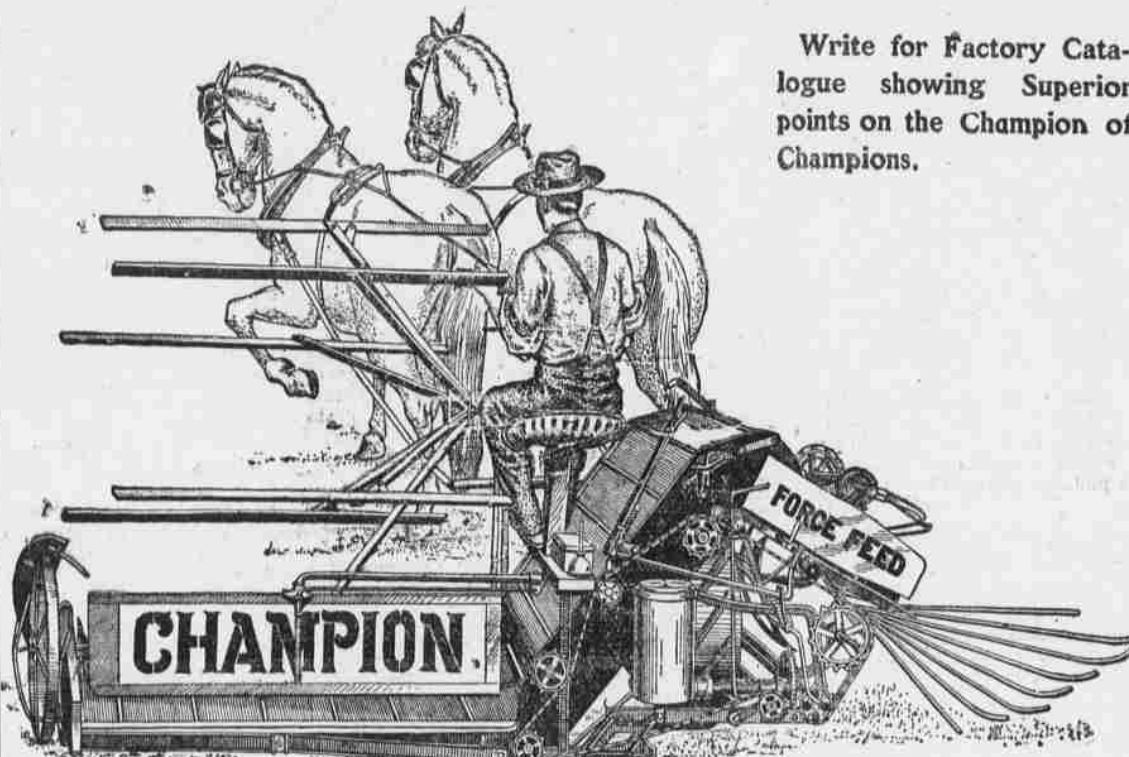

5421-3 Congress St.
PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.
I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know without a doubt. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Willhelmina Snow
Treasurer, Portland Economic League

CHAMPION BINDERS

Write for Factory Catalogue showing Superior points on the Champion of Champions.

THEIR ADVANTAGES OVER ALL OTHER BINDERS ARE BRIEFLY THESE

Force Feed Elevator. Eccentric Sprocket. Gain of Power at the time when Power is needed. Relief Rake keeps inside end of platform clear, a fault with all others. The above three features and many others make the Champion The Only Champion.

The Force Feed Elevators do not thresh the grain against the binder cover, nor let it stop at the top of the binder deck, but deliver it positively to the packer arms. There is no choking at the top of the elevators. There is no grain lost between the elevators and binder deck.

The Force Feed Elevator on the Champion Binder is warranted to waste less grain than the elevator on any other binder.

A great many of the dairymen are feeding green corn to keep up the usual flow of milk.

Goats are about the only thing on the farm that the drought does not interfere with—plenty of brush.

Mrs. Ida Graves and daughter, Eva, while in bathing last Friday were sitting on a log, which turned and they were thrown into the deep water. After several hard struggles they succeeded in reaching the shore badly frightened.

James F. Nelson and son Fred, Chauncey Ramsey and Miss Maggie Mulvey of Oregon City, were the guests of Dee Wright and wife last Sunday.

James Smith, of Macksburg, while baling hay for F. Stipp Saturday broke the heavy casting on the horse power and will delay baling until Wednesday.

Dan Stehman, of Ranier, Josie Wilcox, of Goebel, and Miss Ollie Miller, of Portland, were visiting Mr. Stehman last week. On Friday they started to Mark's Prairie with a horse and buggy, and when they were near the White place the horse was frightened and suddenly lunged and ran against a barbed wire fence. Dan Stehman was thrown against a fence post and was rendered unconscious, and his hand badly lacerated.

The click of the binder is heard in all places, as the early winter spring grain is ripe.

Spring oats are turning and will soon be ready for the binder.

Potatoes certainly will be a short crop as the early ones are drying up and only few in a hill.

Miss Wilcox was thrown on top of the fence and sustained some bad bruises, and Miss Miller's life was saved by having on a heavy sunbonnet. Her throat was slashed and her arms and limbs cut. Dr. Leavitt, of Molalla, was summoned, and the wounds were dressed. At present they are getting along nicely.

J. Linn, of Salem, and Dee Wright went fishing on the south fork of the Molalla last Friday, and as they were going along the trail one of their horses stumbled and fell and broke its leg, and had to be shot.

Many of the farmers are taking in Wilhoit on Sundays for their recreation.

Miss Dollie Stehman, who has been at Dawson City, has changed climate for her health. We are all in hopes that she may be benefited by the change here.

It seems queer that people from the city who are refined and educated will gallop the livery teams across bridges that have notices on them warning the public not to go faster than a walk, and they climb fences, take onions, potatoes, apples and then call the farmer an old hayseed, just as though he had no right to protect what he has made by the sweat of his brow. God pity such people and let the old hayseed give some of them a good lumping and they would remember that the old hayseed has a feeling the same as any other human being.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

The Naval Academy.
The line officers of the navy are arranged in one straight line from admiral to the lowest midshipman. After they are graduated from the academy, in order to merit their respective classes their relative positions never change except when advancement in numbers for special heroism is earned in war or a court martial decrees the reverse. If a boy loses place in his class, he loses place in the ladder of promotion. Whether he is graduated at the top or bottom of his class may determine whether or not he shall reach an admiral's stars. In no other calling does a boy's college standing thus directly influence the success of his entire professional career.—Independent.

A Diplomatic Answer.
"Now, how old do you think I am?" coyly asked a literary spinster of a man whose unflinching courtesy was supplemented by his wit on many occasions.
"My dear lady, that is a hard question for one who can scarcely remember his own age," said the man cautiously, "and in your case it is particularly difficult, for you look five years younger than it seems possible you can be when I consider what a wonderful amount you have accomplished!"

Made Matters Worse.
"I am the unluckiest man alive!"
"What's the matter?"
"Why, I heard that she was engaged, so I went round and proposed to her so that she wouldn't think I had been trifling with her."
"And wasn't she engaged?"
"Yes, but she broke it off. She said my love was more sincere than the other fellow's."

Unprofitable Bother.
"Dear me!" sighed Mrs. Oldenstie. "I don't know what we are to do with the hot polloi!"
"Josiah," replied her hostess, "wanted to have ours put in a box and set in the library window, but I just told him we'd have new ones set out next spring if the frost killed them off."—Chicago Record-Herald.
