WHISTLING JUGS.

Curious Relics of a Very Ancient Drinking Custom.

Whistling jugs are curious relics of a very ancient drinking custom. All the northern nations set great stress upon a man's power to take off his liquor without putting down the glass or beaker.

But even after that was accomplished the hardy drinker was expected still to have breath to spare, and the whistling jugs, a comparatively modern invention, were intended to indicate this.

The most advanced type of all had a little windmill besides the whistle, which worked a dial showing the power of the blow.

Liquor Company Sues Saloon Keeper. Suit was instituted Monday in the Circuit Court by the Washington Liquor Company, a corporation doing business under the laws of the state of Washington, against J. E. Bateman and his wife, Minnie Bateman, to collect $153.78 and interest at 6 per cent, from March 2, 1904. The complaint recites that Bateman has turned his property over to his wife for the purpose of evading paying the debt. J. E. Bateman runs a hotel and saloon at Estacada and on June 8, there was a fire in the hotel that did about $2600 damage. The policies are said to be in Bateman's name and he and his wife have arranged with the insurance companies to have the amount paid to her. An attachment for the amount due the plaintiff corporation has been issued against this asset. For Sale—Lot 4, blk 34, Central Addition to Oregon City. Nice level lot. Inquire at Courier office or of I. P. Putnam.
