Sheriff Shaver Arrests Milwaukee Gamblers.

GAMES ARE CLOSED HERE

District Attorney Schubel Orders All Gambling Stopped In Oregon City—Solo Only Allowed.

Upon information being issued, Sheriff John R. Shaver and his deputy went to Milwaukee Saturday afternoon and placed under arrest Isaac Gratton and M. G. Nease, managers and proprietors of the Milwaukee Country Club, who have been running a gambling resort in that city.

Gratton and Nease were arraigned before J. W. Graso, justice of the peace for the Milwaukee district, and their preliminary examinations were set for Friday, July 14, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Defendants were released on their own recognizance, pending their preliminary hearing.

Defendants are charged with the crime of "willfully committing an act, which grossly disturbs the public peace, openly outrages the public decency, and is injurious to the public morals." The authorities brought this charge against the defendants for the reason that the Oregon statutes and codes do not make pool selling a crime, and think that perhaps under this charge a better and more sure case can be made out.

Sheriff Shaver stated that on entering the Country Club's pool and gambling rooms he experienced no disadvantages and that the managers willfully and without the slightest resistance consented to the arrest. He further stated that on going through the resort he found no signs of gambling going on, nor did he find any gambling paraphernalia of any sort.

As the statutes do not definitely make pool selling a crime, the Country Club will be allowed to keep its pool rooms open, therefore enabling it to sell its pools without further molestation by the county officers until the question comes up again in the courts. The Milwaukee Country Club owns a tract of land on the north of the city of Milwaukee, upon which it has constructed buildings which are furnished and fixed up in a suitable manner for the carrying on of their business. The tract and buildings are surrounded by a high board fence, which hides the interior from the view of the passerby.

CHAUTAQUA IN SESSION

Large Gathering at Gladstone Park.

DAVENPORT WILL SPEAK

Notable Program Attracts Many—Transportation Arrangements Are Good.

The present session of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association gives promise of being a complete success. The assembly opened on schedule time last Tuesday morning, at 10:30 a. m., President W. C. Hawley making the opening address of welcome. Rev. L. E. Rootwell responded. Both were timely and eloquent efforts and in keeping with the occasion.

The classes as organized for the Chautauqua summer school are well attended. The classes and instructors are as follows:

Junior Bible Study—Rev. Howard N. Smith.

Physical Culture—Prof. O. Miles Babbitt.

English Literature—Dr. B. J. Hoadley.

Nature Study—Prof. Albert R. Swetzer.

Elocution—Prof. Everett Kemp.

U. S. History—Prof. W. C. Hawley.

Music—Prof. Frederick W. Goodrich.

W. C. T. U.—Mrs. Lucia Faxon Addison.

Domestic Science—Miss Lillian Tingle.

Bible Study—Dr. W. C. Sherman.

From present trend it is predicted that the class work at Chautauqua will be the nucleus around which will develop in the near future a regular summer school and extending over from six weeks to two months. It has been the hope of the secretary that at no distant time the Chautauqua would be the means of encouraging the founding of a college in Clackamas county.

The lectures are attracting great audiences and the interest is increasing. It is recognized by the management that the situation this year is unique. Hitherto Chautauqua has had a free hand. This year the Lewis and Clark Fair has a strong hold upon Portlanders, and rightly, too, and local attendance is affected. It is expected, however, that this will be made up by the tourists who are visiting the Coast and the Exposition and who will hardly consider the trip complete without at least one visit to the tented city.

The transportation is giving general satisfaction. The two special steam trains on the Southern Pacific running between Oregon City and Portland at frequent intervals are safe and comfortable. The trip from Portland is made in 30 minutes.

Dr. William A. Quayle's two lectures on Tuesday and Wednesday were listened to with rapt attention. The doctor is a rare man, even among orators. It seemed easy for him to hold the great audiences spellbound with the splendor of his eloquence.

The lecturer of ex-Senator John M. Thurston Tuesday afternoon on Patriotic Day as greatly appreciated. His great address in defense of Senator Mitchell had aroused much interest lecture this (Friday) evening on "Indian Stories and Stories of Oregon." Julian Hawthorne says: "There is not, to my knowledge, any other man now in this country who can successfully rival him in the natural gifts which make up a man to whom audiences love to listen." No doubt great crowds of people will be glad to hear the greatest of cartoonists and story tellers.

On the afternoon of July 18 he gives his second great lecture on "The Power of the Cartoon," and will illustrate his lecture with pictures made before the audience.

Sunday, July 16, will be a day long to be remembered. Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, of Philadelphia, the president of the National Woman's Suffrage Association, and an orator of splendid ability will preach in the afternoon at 3 p. m., and her theme will be "The Heavenly Vision." Her first lecture on "The New Man" on Saturday afternoon, July 15, will be a great feature. This is the second appearance of Miss Shaw at Chautauqua.

Bishop John W. Hamilton, of San Francisco, who has appeared many times at "Old Chautauqua," and a great light among Methodists, will preach on this Sunday evening, and will give a lecture on Monday afternoon on "Some Persons of Quality at Boston."

The Chautauqua days from now on will be crowded full of good things that ought not to be missed. All friends of this great institution ought to plan to attend as many times as possible during the session, and as the great assembly draws to a close, let there be a general rallying to Gladstone Park and by our little help aid carrying through to a successful termination this 13th annual assembly of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association. Let us remember too that this great institution and its future rests with Clackamas county, and its continual success will be our glory and reward.
