

"There comes to every human being Harold. With that thought came also under the sun," said he, "in one shape the necessity for action, and when a or another the 'tide in his affairs' man is called upon to act he is relieved or another the 'tide in his affairs' which, though it may not lead on to fortune, nor yet down to ruin, proves him, shows what is in him, brings out anything worth counting that may be latent in him, and exposes his weak nesses, too, often enough. That tide nesses, too, often enough. That tide the handfuls of us, isolated, almost defenceless, facing the brown millions who for once were banded together against us by hate and wrath. I was an assistant deputy commissioner in a God-forsaken district in India, and had been so long alone among the natives in the curse of thinking.

"Harold's camp lay some thirty miles to the north of my station. As soon as the news spread the lives of Harold and sister would not be worth a minute's purchase.

"I slipped out of the bungalow, went to the stables, found and saddled my hind me and rode out into the dark-ness, I took a path which soon led against us by hate and wrath. I was an assistant deputy commissioner in a God-forsaken district in India, and had been so long alone among the natives against us by hate and whath.

an assistant deputy commissioner in a God-forsaken district in India, and had been so long alone among the natives that I could not speak half a dozen sentences of my own language without slipping in a word or two of Persian or Hindustani. I prided myself upon having my fingers on the pulse of native life in that district. Things were going forward of which I could not get the hang. There was mystery in the air; you felt it, yet could find to it no key.

"During those months I knew what it is to be possessed by a demon of fear. I told myself that it was all the open country I put the sain and headed for the Harolds' camp. The time for dreaming and for fear was ended, and I knew it. The time for action had the people, screaming with fear, were tumbling over one another in their eagerness to get beyond the reach of my arm.

"It was only a little after midnight difficulty, to arouse that I reached my destination. I conget the hang. There was mystery in that I reached my destination. I conget the hang. There was mystery in that I reached my destination. I conget the hang. There was mystery in the air; you felt it, yet could find to it no key.

"During those months I knew what it is to be possessed by a demon of fear. I told myself that it was all the open country I put the said into a hard canter and headed for the larolds' camp. The time for dreaming about me with that heavy butt, and the people, screaming with fear, were tumbling over one another in their eagerness to get beyond the reach of my arm.

"It was only a little after midnight that I reached my destination. I conget the hang. There was mystery in that I reached my destination. I conget the hang. There was mystery in that I reached my destination. I conget the hang. There was mystery in that I reached my destination. I conget the hang. There was mystery in that I reached my destination. I conget the hang. There was mystery in the air; you felt it, yet could find to it in the people, are amble to get beyond the reach of my a

"During those months I knew what it is to be possessed by a demon of fear. I told myself that it was all "The one chance of safety lies in Mrs. fancy, that Asia was playing the devil with me, that I was losing my nerve.

"I was in the deepest folds of the Dark Valley when Harold came up into

The old man looked up sharply, woman in India who mattered-of Mrs.

Butt Dreater

A MUHAMMADAN BUTCHER SEIZED THE REIN.

"'Well, I don't believe a word of it,

As you will, he answered with a shrug.
"We walked back to the tent in silence, and presently Mrs. Harold came out to us, her tall, slim figure wrapped in a white dressing gown.

"'Your husband thinks that I am an alarmist,' I said, 'but I have informa-tion of a general mutiny of our troops which is the nearest approach to safety that I have it in my power to offer you. Everything depends upon my get-ting back before daybreak and before he natives know that I have left the place; but I won't go without you.

Will you come—now, at once?'
"'Yes,' she said simply, bending those grave, true eyes steadily upon me, 'We will come, of course. And thank you. You have risked a great deal to come to us, we understand that and we are grateful.'

if the remainder of that night.

'You may think I am my district to shoot, bringing his wife ing there in his pajamas, his face unand sister with him. I did not know haturally white in the moonlight, him from Adam, and I had not seen a "'I do,' I said. European lady for over three years, so I was a bit bothered by the intrusion. native gup?'

"'On that and on a hundred and one I felt shy and awkward in the comthings that have gone before and that pany of ladies. I was only too glad to ship the party off into a corner of now have a new meaning,' I replied, the district where game was plentiful as soon as I could contrive to make the necessary arrangements. I did not care in the morning, he said with a yawn, much for Harold, nor yet for his sister, but Mrs. Harold charmed and fascinated me. Harold was a cran'y sort said, and I could hear my voice vibration. of beggar and his sister turned up her ing with anger. rose at most things, including me. Mrs. a coward, if you like. I'm responsible hands.

Hisrold was—well, just everything that a woman can be! Beautiful, with a sort of glory of beauty that yet had in it a certain dainty dignity that held

The tanget. You may think I am listed I stoped and Rissed II shads.

The tanget. You may think I am listed I stoped and Rissed II shads.

The tanget. You may think I am listed I stoped and Rissed II shads.

"Goodbye and God keep you,' I said, and turning, left her.

"That, I know now, was my greatest if the list of th her worlds above you, and good—you rather nervous person, but we'll see could see the goodness looking out of her eyes—and kind, in thought and "'Let me speak to her, please,' I said.

"The Harolds had been gone a matter of some three weeks when the news reached me of the outbreak down country. I was sitting on my veranda, smoking my pipe and dreaming, when Haji Muhammad Akhbar, one of the leading natives of the place, came to me suddenly out of the luminous darkwith excitement as he told me of the news is true. I have left my post in a moment of extreme emergency in orfection was spreading.

"'The disaffection spreadeth fast, This very night it is known in our bazaars; to-morrow the villages also will know. Then, perhaps-who knoweth save Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate?—the Raj of the Sahib-log will have its enling in blood, as in blood it also had its beginning, nor will it be the turn of our women folk to be made chattels for the pleasure of new husbands."

"At that word fear left me and a great wrath alone remained. I rose from my chair and in an instant I had him by the throat.

him by the throat.

"'Have a care, dog!' I cried, as I his scoffings at the news and at its shook him to and fro while he gasped bearer, but I cared little enough for and whined and struggled. 'The Raj of that, I knew the event would prove the Sahib-log is not yet ended, and if me right; Mrs. Harold had thanked me blood is to be let, see that it be not and had shown that she understood. I thite! In this district I am the Raj of the English.'

"I rode at her side during the whole

"I thre r him from me, half strangled, and in a moment he was all abgled, and in a moment ne was an jectness and entreaty.

"'Be gone!' I cried, spurning him with my feet. He gathered himself to my efforts, upon my wits, upon my efforts, upon my wits, upon my efforts, upon my wits, upon my efforts, upon my effo

When he had gone I stood for an termination to come out on top or die, instant dazed in a world that had of a solid as a rock. Instant dazed in a world that had of a sudden been shattered about my head.

I realized the disproportion of the white man's numbers in India to those of the people of the soil.

"The words which Haji Muhammad with excitement and contorted with enthusiasm was straining heaven ward thusiasm was straining heaven ward.

Akhilar had spoken, hinting of the thusiasm, was straining heavenward, clerk, "Give me one of your best wedfate that awaited Fnglish women in India, flashed across my mind, and his shoulder as he poured out a stream was asked. "No, ating onlons, but is with them the thought of the one of fierce words and jibs that bit deep it any of your infernal business?"

into the hearts of his hearers. He was foretelling the downfall of the

"I glanced over my shoulder at Har-old, and I saw that he had grown white, white to the lips, and that his

"A native in the crowd yelled some-thing in a rancous, falsetto voice, and I caught the words at once.

"Your fellows down country have

"'God help us, God help us,' he ex-claimed in that same hoarse, tense voice. Let us get on—to the fort—to Harold leading.

"The crowd had fallen back before me, and I rode straight at the Muhammadan preacher. I hit him, as I had hit the butcher, full between the eyes, and I felt the bone shatter beneath the blow.

"'You dogs!' I cried. 'You dogs who dare to bark because fools tell you that the Raj of the British is ended, get to your kennels like the whipped curs you are. And when sense reurneth to you, come to me at the fort craving pardon, lest I send word to the government of the wickedness in your hearts, and the hide be stripped from you in punishment. Go!"

"And then, why then, and it brings tears to my eyes when I recall it, for they are men, these Muhammadans of India, though like children they be easily led astray or aright as a man may chance to lead them—the crowd et up a throaty shout, not of rage or lefiance, but of approval and admira-

"'It is well done!' cried many voices It is well done, and behold our Sahib is a man. Let the Raj stand or fall lsewhere, here the Raj and our Sahib are one; and see, the Sahib stands while the fool who spoke vain things yonder in the dust. It is in truth well done.'

"I turned my horse slowly and walked him up the hill to the fort. For me at that moment the world held only one thing—Mrs. Harold's face—and that too said, 'It is well done,' and I think also 'thank you.'
"After that there came some anxious times, but in the end mine was one of the districts that had no mutiny his-tory. Harold's nerve had been shaken by that scene in the town, and the worst of it was that he couldn't get it back and that his wife saw it.

"At last it was safe for them to leave, and I thanked God for it, though life tidn't seem to offer much to me when she had gone out of it. Anyhow, I knew it was the only thing for me, if was to avoid making a fool of myolf, and she-well, she was everything hat a woman ought to be.

"The evening before they were to go away I came upon her sitting in the veranda of my bungalow—we had moved out of the fort ages before, in spite of Harold's frenzied protestsnd she began to speak of all, she was "'On no better grounds than mere pleased to say, they owed to me.

"'Don't,' I said. 'It is I who owe a debt—to you. It is you who have helped me, helped me to play the man.'

"'I don't think you wanted much help to do that,' she said very seriously "In a moment we were on our feet, facing one another, and her hands were in mine. I knew then, I know now, that I might have kissed her. But—it would have hurt her. "Instead I stooped and kissed her

AMONG WILD BEASTS.

Crocodiles, Lions and Hippopotami Endanger Lives of Railway Builders in Africa.

The building of the bridge at Victoria Falls and the Cape to Cairo Railway has suddenly and necessarily mutinied and killed their officers, I brought a great many people together cried to Harold. 'Did you hear what this spot, where there was previously but an occasional transfer. ly but an occasional traveler or hunter. Besides the birds and the butterflies and the fish, the chief living animals were lions, elephants, hippopotami, crocodiles, jackals and hyenas.

The crocodiles were found to be so numerous—as many as thirty being seen together sometimes—that they have had to be killed in great numbers for the safety of the people at work. One giant saurian killed a man and a woman, and was itself killed only af-ter seizing another man. A native woman was taking water from the river when the crocodile knocked her in with its tall, seized her in its hormouth and dragged her away. Her husband was close by, but was power-less to save her. He determined to be avenged, however, and for several Ights waited in a canoe with a load-d gun. He, too, disappeared, and it is bought the crocodile knocked him out f the cance as it had knocked his ife off the bank, and taken him to its

A week later it got another man, but instead of taking him into its hole, it carried him to an island. Here its victim got hold of the reeds and strong grass, and held on so tightly that the rocodile could not get away with him. Of course he screamed with all his might, and a gang of men with crow-bars went to rescue him. This they acceeded in doing, and also in slaying the dangerous monster. These croco-diles are so ravenous that it is not possible even to keep dogs with safety, and parents living near the river are in constant dread of losing their chil-

A Lion Terror.

One of the lions killed had also filled up the measure of its iniquity ere it met its doom. The scene of its depre-dations was a native village some disance north of the Falls. The native huts are very slender, being built mainly of reeds. In such a hut a wo-man was sitting when the lion pushed aside the door, walked in and seized her, carrying her away to his lair in the dense bush. Then he had an ox.

This was in the enclosure with other cattle and donkeys.

The lion, falling to get into the enclosure, so frightened the animals with his attempts that they rushed in a hud-dled, terrified mass from end to end. and their weight upon the palisading broke it down. They rushed out through the opening, which was just what the lion wanted, for he had now nothing to do but to take his choice After the ox, he selected a donkey or als next visit, and then a sheep, and finally another ox. At last the natives became panic stricken until some white men reassured them, telling them they would sit up all night for the lion and shoot him. The lion came and got away with another ox, for the white men, tired with the watch, had fallen asleep. However, they were able to track him. It was important that having prom-ised to kill the lion they should do so for that is the secret of the white man's power over the native—never to break his word. So they set off to the thick bush balf a mile away, whither the lion's tracks led them. There they came upon him and killed him with one bullet, that entered the right nostril. This was what big game hunters consider a good kill, as the bulle did not disfigure the lion nor injure his skin. Near by was the carcass of an ox, and a little further in the bush. in a sort of tunnel of impenetrable thorn, were the gnawed bones-the remains of some of his former victims

Tame Baby Hippopotamus.

A young hippopotamus, riding on its mothers' back when she was shot, was saved and cared for by one of the These animals are very danger ous to cance men, for in returning to the surface to blow they often come up right under the cance and upset it Sometimes they give chase to canoes, and then the native paddlers do all they can to reach the bank, unless a

A JUNGLE FIGHT.

"'Of course,' chimed in Harold, grudgingly. 'No doubt you did what me, you thought right.'

done; and now, as I sit here waiting for the end, they give me all I ask of happiness and of contentment."-Cornhill Magazine.

Never Wore Pajamas.

At a function on Main street a bash-

Had a Strong Breath.

An Irishman leaned over the counter in a jewelry store and said to the moment of all—a moment that might so white man with a rifle is with them. easily have been spoiled for her, for The baby was thriving very well when last heard of. He escaped from his "So now instead I have my memories enclosure once, but came back very memories of things done, and one hungry, as was evident from the rav priceless memory of a thing left un- enous way in which he applied himself to his food,

A Literary Kicker.

Charles Lamb once heard a burglar breaking in his house. He drew on his heavy hunting boots and with a candle went down stairs and con-At a function on Main street a bashful young lady was taken in to dinner by an elderly professor who was a bit deaf. To start conversation, she said: "Professor, do you like bananas?" "Yes, my dear lady," he answered, "but I think I prefer the old fashloned night shirt."

At a function on Main street a bashful was in the act of putting the fronted him in the act of putting the foundation in the act of putting the fronted him in the act of putting Another Version.

Mary had a little mule, It followed her one day to school, The teacher got behind that mule And hit it with a rule,

And after that-no school!

COFFEE

DOES

HURT

Make the trial yourself-leave off Coffee 10 days and use

POSTUM

FOOD COFFEE

in its place.

That's the only way to find out.

Postum is a sure rebuilder and when you cut out the coffee and use Postum instead, you get a taste of health, for the aches and ails begin to leave. You may THINK you know, but you don't until after the trial. - Remember

"There's a Reason."

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellsville," in each pkg.

THE RACYCLE SPROCKETS Like No. 2 Grindstone are Hung Between the Bearings

Not (Bicycles) Noz (The Racycle) Which Stone will Turn Easier?

The Racycle Rides Further with one-quarter less work

MIAMI CYCLE & MFG. CO.

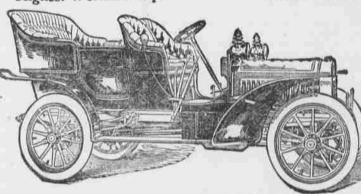

OLDSMOBILES

THE CAR THAT GOES

for 1905

Highest Workmanship.

Lowest Prices.

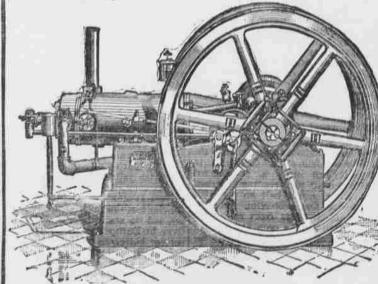

Cars for Immediate Delivery.

Olds Motor Works DETROIT, MICH.

International Harvester Co. GASOLINE ENGINES

When equipped with an I. H.C. gasoline engine, the farm, the dairy, the mill, the threshing machine, or the husker and shredder can be operated more economically than with any other power. Farmers who have water to pump, wood to saw, feed to grind or corn to shell, can do this work at a minimum cost with I. H. C. engines.

I. H. C. HORIZONTAL ENGINE

I. H. C. gasoline engines are made in the following sizes: 2, 3 and 5 H-P., vertical type, stationary; 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, stationary; and 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, portable.

WRITE FOR GASOLINE ENGINE BOOKLET. International Harvester Co. of America (Incorporated)

7 Monroe Street

Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.