William B. Partlow.

William B. Partlow, one of the best known and highly respected residents of Clackamas County, died Tuesday morning. The funeral was held Thursday morning from the family residence.

Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Partlow, and was born in Owen County, Ind., March 8, 1828. Soon after his birth the family moved to a farm, 20 miles from Danville, Ill., where he lived until he was 17 years of age. He then commenced to learn the harness and saddlery trade and followed that occupation in Illinois until he started for Oregon in company with William Johnson. After being on the road for six months, he arrived at Phillip Foster's place, 19 miles from Oregon City, August 27, 1852. Soon after he located in Oregon City, where he was employed by A. K. Post, who was engaged in the harness and livery business. After working for Mr. Post for three years, he was taken into partnership, and after a year he bought out Post's interest and closed out the harness business.
 Mr. Partlow married Miss Frances L. Chase, of Springwater, June 28, 1857. There were three children born to them, James W. Partlow, Richard S. Partlow and Edgar B. Partlow. Mr. Partlow continued in the livery business until 1868, when he and his family moved from Oregon City to their farm at Mount Pleasant, two miles south of Oregon City, where they have since resided. Deceased is survived by one son, James W. Partlow. His death was due to failure of the heart.

Mrs. Mary Kellogg.

The body of the late Mrs. Mrry Kellogg was interred Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Mountain View cemetery. Services were conducted from the residence of her son, E. E. Kellogg, at Mount Pleasant, Rev. R. C. Blackwell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating. Mrs. Kellogg died on Saturday, November 4, at the home of her sister, in Huntsville, Ala., where she had been for the past three years. She was a pioneer of Oregon City and her age was 77 years. She is survived by three sons and one daughter living in Oregon City and Portland.

Minnie Fee.

Miss Minnie Fee died Monday at the home of her father in Kansas City Addition, aged 39 years. Her death was caused by tuberculosis and she had been a sufferer from the disease for a long time. The body was embalmed at Shank's undertaking parlors, and was shipped for burial to the former home of the family at Wahalla, North Dakota.
