WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

James Downey, living at Williamette Falls, Oregon City, Or., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and kidney trouble. Their beneficial effects were apparent in a short time. I may not have been troubled as badly as a good many people but I would advise anyone in need of a kidney remedy to go to Huntley Bros. drug store, procure Doan's Kidney Pills and they will not be disappointed in the satisfactory results which will follow their use."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

all the people, declined the invitation with thanks. If Mr. Hedges speech does not win votes directly to himself, it will certainly tend to draw votes from his opponent. For there are, I rejoice to believe, many Republicans in this state of the LaFollette persuasion in politics that cannot much longer be held to the forces of political corruption. It have spent 60 odd years in the observance of political warfare where party was held above principle. But at this meeting a new leaf was turned. The people, the whole people, were remembered first.

UNEASINESS IN THE LAND

Politics Centers on Verge of Strenuous Campaign.

FIERCE FIGHT EXPECTED

Probability of Senator John M. Gearin Returning to Oregon to Take Part in Whirlwind.

PORTLAND, May 9.—(Special Correspondence.)—The political centers of Oregon are on the verge of a strenuous campaign and a sign of uneasiness is abroad in the land. These same centers are being stirred for it is well known that there is going to be a fight and a fierce one. The head of the majority ticket is the trouble—there's no gaining that. They all admit it. The Democrats are beginning to show signs of activity and strength; the Republicans are rapidly taking measures to meet the issue. This is principally as regards two offices in the state at large. The only part of the campaign is settling down to cases. Now that it has been decided to a certainty and by a slim plurality that Dr. James Withycombe is going to head the Republican state ticket and that by this same slim plurality the gubernatorial aims and ambitions of Tall Timothy Gave have, for another time, been sent skeddaddling back to the pastures of now-mown hay, the doctor is making ready to tour the state again, but not in the interests of agriculture this time.

Also the sovereign electors have decreed that Jonathan Bourne, Jr., record and all, is the best man in Oregon to go to the senate, that knight of machine politics is bucking on his armor and taking measures to replenish his sack. Jonathan, so they say, only pungled up something like, $75,-

000 to get the nomination in the first place, and now he will have to do it all over again. However, this doesn't worry Jonathan, for he has done it before.

As the Oregonian said a few years ago, if Jonathan has access to a barrel, there's no question about what he will do with it, for parsimony isn't one of his failures. The Oregonian knows, for it saw him in action in Salem at the legislative sessions of 1895 and 1897, when things were doing in the barrel line.

Dr. Withycombe will probably stump the state. He makes a good talk and will please some people, although many don't think he is made of gubernatorial timber. Again, the probability is that Jonathan Bourne will not. If he does it will be a surprise, for Jonathan generally does these things by proxy. He has a barrel and will most likely holler down that. Jonathan will give many a heeler a job, for that's the way he works politics. He will spend a ton of money and will certainly send out a few hundred thousand more "letters" gotten out by a circular company and addressed from copies of the registration rolls furnished him at so much per bunch.

That's the way Jonathan carried on his postal card propaganda last spring and gave out to the voters the "individual letter" sell.

Did you ever notice that Jonathan ran best in the remote counties, where he is least known? That's where the "individual letter" gag did its best work. But they won't stand for it again.

The probability of Senator John M. Gearin coming home to take the stump has caused something of a flutter in Portland political circles. Indications are that the railroad rate bill will come to an early vote and in that event Senator Gearin will probably return to Oregon for the campaign.

If he does, his campaign will be a whirlwind affair. Oregon has no more eloquent man than John M. Gearin. There was a time when Judge Williams was looked upon as the star orator of Oregon, but the Judge is an old man now and has lost much of his former fire. Senator Gearin has replaced him and if he goes on the stump during this campaign, the people of Oregon will hear a master orator and a man of statesmanly bearing.

But Senator Gearin's return is largely dependent upon the disposition of the rate bill. He is determined to stay on the floor of the senate and vote for that bill. The President is depending upon his vote and recognizes him as one of the men who is behind the administration in its determination to curtail the unwarranted powers arrogated by railroad corporations in their discrimination in favor of the trusts and against the people.

Governor Chamberlain's appearance on the stump has alarmed the Republican candidate for governor, for the chief executive is carrying the people with him. He has already delivered several telling speeches up the Valley to huge crowds, and his followers are enthusiastic.

The Democrats of Portland are arranging for a monster rally, the Saturday night before election. Governor Chamberlain and Senator Gearin will address the people and it is expected to make this one of the most telling demonstrations of the campaign. Both of these men draw a crowd in Portland, as has been shown on more than one occasion.

Charles V. Galloway, the Democratic nominee for congress in the First district, is getting into action for a thorough campaign throughout his district. His opponent, W. C. Hawley, of Salem, it is believed will take the stump in his own behalf. The race between these two candidates promises to be a warm one. Galloway is a young man and a hot campaigner, while Mr. Hawley's capacity in this direction is yet to be known.

Governor Chamberlain intends to make a thorough canvass of the state. He will meet most of the people of Oregon and explain his position on important state questions. The people have a right to know these things and the governor is more than willing that they should. His record is a good endorsement of his fitness, for his has been about the cleanest administration Oregon ever had. He will go before the people with this as his platform and the odds are with him by a long shot.
