

NEWS OF THE COUNTY

NEW ERA.

Earl Wink narrowly escaped being crushed to death Monday of last week, while working with the bridge gang unloading timbers from a car.

Ulara Kell is in Portland, being treated for rheumatism.

Ethel Kief is suffering from a numbness of the feet and can hardly walk for the past week.

D. McArthur attended grand lodge of I. O. O. F. in Portland last week and also took the past grand degree.

Mrs. Herman Burgoyne, of Boise, Idaho, spent Sunday with J. Burgoyne and family. Mr. Burgoyne will join Mrs. Burgoyne in a few days, having plenty of Idaho, and will make Oregon their future home.

James Partlow, of Mt. Pleasant, was fishing near here Saturday.

Mrs. Greene, of Cottage Grove, is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. D. McArthur, for the present, as there is not a vacant house in the city. Mr. Greene is working on the new steel bridge.

Mrs. J. L. Mattock was in Portland Monday.

The new telephone directories are here at last, and it is hoped that everybody will acquire the habit of calling for parties by number instead of name.

Miss Carrie Burgoyne spent Sunday with her parents.

Newt Critser is on the sick list, with something like lung fever.

Mrs. Yokum, of Montana, arrived Sunday and will make the Beaver state her future home.

Some new discoveries have been made near Central Point, for which Watkins liniment is good for, if the directions do not come in the German language.

William Grieshaber, of Oregon City, was a caller Sunday.

LIBERAL.

Farmers are busy cultivating their gardens between showers. Weeds are growing as fast as they are hoed up.

Grain is growing fast, but weeds are thick in the grain this spring.

Sheep are not all sheared yet on account of rainy weather.

C. Spaulding has five hundred chickens and will soon be turning off fryers for Portland market.

Mrs. Myrtle Sibles, of Portland, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. French, for a few days.

Miss Burns and Miss Moore returned home Monday, after visiting friends and relatives for a couple of weeks. They learned the art of making cedar bark baskets for picking huckleberries in, and took a few hours as a novelty for Portland.

William Morey left Sunday morning for Miner's Butte, near Mount Hood, to work out his assessment on a ledge he owns.

Dee Wright and wife was visiting relatives Sunday.

W. Skeen and Pierce Wright are hauling telephone poles to Wright's bridge.

The Grange picnic will be held at Wright's Springs on the 7th of June, as they have a nice piece of ground cleared for the 4th of July. They intend to hold the picnic near John Rhoades' place, but the committee changed to Wright's Springs. So, brother Grangers, come and have a good time—plenty of good water to shade for teams.

BEAVER CREEK.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Harry returned from San Francisco last Saturday and are staying with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hollman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer, of Canby, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Spatz.

J. Bohlander, and John Wolf intend to leave for Eastern Oregon next week to buy horses.

D. W. Thomas is having a new house built opposite the Beaver Creek store.

Henry Henrici baled hay for Mr. Studeman Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman attended the funeral of their grandchild, which took place at Oregon City last Tuesday.

Died, the infant daughter of Mr.

William Shannon, R. E. Beattie and J. E. Hodges were present and made a good impression on the numerous voters by the fair, gentlemanly and able manner in which they presented their claims for consideration. It was noted that the candidates did their own speaking, that they did not abuse or scarcely mention their opponents and that they did not appeal to partisan feeling, but asked voters to consider personal fitness and let every man stand or fall on his own merits. J. E. Hodges was the last speaker and he certainly gave the impression that he is in every way as well qualified as his competitor and has the very great advantage of not being under a cloud as to moral turpitude.

Mr. Coalman, candidate on the Socialist ticket for commissioner, was and brick bank building, as soon as the contract can be let.

CLACKAMAS.

Dr. Burgette Short, of Portland, delivered an interesting lecture Monday evening in the Methodist church, the subject being "The Bright Side of Life." One of the many points made was "don't tell your troubles." To show his consistency, he refrained from telling how his auto balked enroute, thereby causing him to be late in meeting his audience. He showed by a series of humorous stories that there are two kinds of trouble, real and imaginary. The proceeds of the lecture are to be applied to the needs of the church building.

At the invitation of the Mothers' Club a number of men met at the cemetery Friday to continue the work of improving and beautifying the grounds, which was begun last year. Representatives of the club were present with well-laden baskets, which proved a strong incentive for an extra amount of hard labor.

Strawberries are now ripening and the large acreage in this vicinity calls forth old and young to help gather this most popular of all fruits. The results of one day's picking is started to Portland by teams shortly after midnight in order that the berries may be put on the early market. There is necessarily a shortage of Clackamas epicureans were much delighted one evening last week when ten fine Jersey cows were unloaded from a passing train. The epicurean joy was, however, short lived as the cows were driven overland to Estacada the next morning.

J. W. Johnson is building an addition to his house.

James Wells, the timber man, will remove with his family from Portland to Clackamas the first of June.

G. E. Hargreaves has purchased a five-acre tract adjoining that already owned by him.

Clackamas desires to have the interstate automobile road pass through here and will take steps to secure it. Such a road cannot fail to be of benefit.

Mrs. Hayward has been ill during the past few days.

MLALLA.

Jacob Oswalt has his new dwelling well under way.

The foundation for the M. E. church is being built.

B. F. Harless is getting the material together for a new barn.

Now the farmer stands in fear and trembling; the pests are beginning to show up on the tender blades.

Measures are more important than men. Voters, look well after the amendments next Monday!

THE MODERN FARMER

Makes his farm modern because that's the kind of a farm that pays best. And he buys modern farm tools because he couldn't do his work properly with any other kind. We'd like to show you

A Full Line of Modern Farm Implements and Vehicles

That will save you money, time, work and worry. We have on display the latest of everything—the most improved implements made—and enjoy showing them to our friends. Among the best of the good things you'll find here are the world-famed

John Deere Plows, Harrows and Cultivators

Every farmer knows what kind of tools they are. But we'd like to point out to you some of the improvements and labor-saving tools of this "good old line," made since last season; a whole house full of tools which will help you to dig more dollars from the dirt this year. Come in next time you're in town—there's a great feast here for the farmer. I have purchased a number of mowers at a great bargain, which I am selling at less than cost while they last.

RUSSELLVILLE.

We are now visited with Oregon mist and have been for the past three weeks.

Mrs. Scott Carter is on the sick list this week. Something like the measles, but is improving.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Daugherty was buried at the Russellville cemetery Sunday last.

Mrs. Frank Bagby was visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mabel Dungan is visiting relatives in Russellville this week.

Mrs. Henry Daugherty is sick at the hospital at Gladstone, but is getting better. We will all be glad to see her come home again.

Miss Maud Wingfield is going to Aurora for the next two weeks.

School closed Friday last at District 87, with Clarence Phillips as teacher, and has taught a fine school. We all wish Mr. Phillips success.

MEADOWBROOK.

A little more sunshine and less rain would greatly benefit crops in this locality.

B. F. Noyor made a business trip to town Saturday, returning Sunday, trailing a brand new hack and son. Both quite useful on the farm.

Dee Wright is working down the river with a drive of telephone poles. He will be due at this place in one week.

The sawmills are doing a rushing business. It may be necessary to run night shifts to fill orders for lumber and ties. Fred is wondering where the Geo. C. road will come in.

Ole Larson and son made a business trip to the city Saturday.

David Robson is once more seriously considering the idea of voting the Democratic ticket.

J. C. C. Hall, one of our most energetic farmers, is working some at politics.

The executive committee of the faithful nine are hard at work learning a new song for Memorial day. They want to sing Roosevelt's surrender to the tune of Bonaparte's retreat.

and Mrs. D. Jones, last Tuesday, and was buried at the Graham cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Austin, of Liberal, was calling on friends here last week.

Miss Laura Engle, of New Era, was visiting her sister, Mrs. W. E. Young, for a few days.

Mrs. Stewart is on the sick list, Dr. Strickland is in attendance.

Quite a crowd attended the Republican speaking at the hall Monday night.

LOGAN.

Political speech-making in Logan seems to be over for this campaign. Some of the Republican candidates were here on the 22nd, accompanied by Chris Schuebel, who has followed the lead of Jonathan Bourne from the Populist to the Republican camp.

Schuebel and Dye were the principal speakers. Fred Greenman and Mr. Paddock announced their candidacy, but made no attempt at speech-making. Mr. Dye said that he had made his fight before the primaries and is now keeping still, which means, of course, that he swallows Brownell.

Verily, the love of an office sometimes produces wonderful changes, when they can be laid to the voice of the people. The keynote of the speeches was that Republicans should stand pat and vote a straight ticket. The bosses are on the shelf, the people run the primaries, they put up a good ticket; stay with it. This looks a little mixed to some Republicans.

Taking ante-primary statements into consideration, Brownell and Dye seem to be a queer combination. If they are both good men, somebody was badly mistaken. Mr. Schuebel said that the old cry of bossism cannot be used against the Republican party, as the people ruled at the primary. Afterward he said the Democratic ticket was nominated at a 50-cent banquet.

When the Democratic chairman called his attention to the fact that his statements do not fit together and that the Democratic ticket was not so nominated, he only squirmed out of it by the unreasonably statement that the candidates told him so.

The Democrats and Socialists had a collision of dates on the 23rd and had a joint speaking. Howard Latourette, introduced and spoke at some length on the principles of Socialism, claiming them to offer the only solution of the great political problems of the day.

Mr. Thomas, of Bull Run, Socialist candidate for representative, made a short speech, which was well received.

CANBY.

Mrs. Wink and Miss Newberry from New Era, were Canby visitors last Wednesday.

Will Bissell, of Oregon City, came up last Thursday to try his luck trout fishing.

Ed Bair, of Portland was calling on friends and relatives last Wednesday.

William Miller, of Portland, was shaking hands with old friends Thursday.

A son came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Mack last week.

Mrs. H. Bergoin is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Evans, this week.

Coleman Marks, of Mar's Prairie, was doing business in Canby last Tuesday.

Mrs. George Shank, of Oregon City, was visiting her son, Alva, last Tuesday.

Rev. Engelbart and family, of Salem, were in Canby Decoration Day.

Mrs. James Evans returned from her trip to Idaho last week. Mrs. Evans say she is glad to be back in Canby.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Walker were Portland visitors last Wednesday.

Dr. H. A. Dedman went to Oregon City Wednesday to attend the pension examiners' board, of which he is a member.

C. Clansen has sold his 11-acre ranch to W. R. Porter of Harrisburg, Or. Mr. Porter expects to improve the place and make it his permanent home.

Russell Scramlin, of Macksburg, was in the city last Tuesday. He put in four new telephones for the farmers' line.

The Canby Bank and Trust Co. has purchased the half-lot on the corner of First and C streets, of Mrs. Degoo. They will erect a handsome new stone
