ASSEMBLY AT CHAUTAUQUA

PROGRAM IS INTERESTING

Thirteenth Session Convenes Tuesday, July 10.

FINE MUSICAL FEATURES

Baseball Tournament Will Be An Attraction—Large Attendance Expected This Year.

Arrangements have been perfected for the thirteenth annual assembly of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association at Gladstone Park, from July 10 to 22 inclusive. The program contains many features of unusual interest, and the directors promise that it will be better this year than ever before.

The association is inter-denominational. It was organized in 1894 for the purpose of advancing the interests of education and religion. Seventy-five acres of land at Gladstone Park near Oregon City are owned by the association.

In addition to lectures, music and entertainment features, a summer school is organized at each assembly and studies in literature, history, music, elocution, the Bible, domestic science and physical culture are pursued daily under competent instructors.

An attractive feature to many is the amateur baseball tournament, in which at least five clubs participate yearly. One entry has also already been made from Portland.

Haydn's "Creation" will be rendered under the direction of W. Gifford Nash, musical director of the association, assisted by a chorus of 100 voices. The soloists are: Soprano, Mrs. Ross Bloch-Bauer; alto, Mrs. Imogen Harding Brodie; tenor, Mr. Arthur Alexander; bass, Mr. Dom J. Zan. An orchestra of 21 pieces will assist in the production.

Two special daily trains have been run from Portland during Chautauqua for the past four years. This service will be continued this year, the trains leaving East Washington street. The average daily attendance last year was 4000 and the total attendance was estimated at 3,000. It is expected that there will be a much larger attendance this year, there being no fair as a counter attraction.

The president of the association is Hon. W. C. Hawley, congressman-elect, who will deliver the Fourth of July oration at Gladstone Park.

Among the directors are George A. Steola, elected state treasurer, and C. H. Dye, a member of the state legislature. The program for this year's session follows:

SCENE AT GLADSTONE PARK

FIRE AT ELECTRIC STATION

Short Circuit From Portland Station Causes Trouble.

The West Oregon City plant of the Portland Electric Company was thrown out of commission Sunday night as a result of a short circuit in the steam plant at Portland. Three large dynamos were burned out, three others ruined by water, and all connecting wires destroyed.

The cause of the trouble was the burning out of a pot-head at the end of a feeder cable, and the cross circuit that followed was transmitted through the sub-station at Seventh and Alder streets to the Oregon City plant.

On top of the building at the Falls is a cupola, through which all the wires run that connect the plant with outside world. This cupola caught fire and burned fiercely. The blaze started at 8 o'clock, and in order to guard against possible spreading to the big plant of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company and the Crown Columbia Pulp & Paper Company, the mills placed in operation their roof sprinkling plants. A general alarm of fire was turned in, and the church services were brought to a sudden termination. The city was in darkness and the stores were opened for the sale of candles.

Traffic on the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company's line was interrupted temporarily, and on account of the heavy passenger traffic at The Oaks, the Oregon City cars were delayed and did not reach the city until long past their schedule time.

Volunteers from the paper mills fought the fire valiantly and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze, with the loss of the cupola and a portion of the roof.

The plant on the West Side and the steam plant in Portland are operated as a unit, and for that reason, the public will suffer little or no inconvenience from the catastrophe. The direct current dynamo that provides power for this city was in shape for operation Tuesday and repairs were made to the extent that business will proceed uninterruptedly.

Mr. Flynn filed a numerous signed petition, but the people of that section rose in their might and filed a remonstrance against the proposition, knocking it out. One hundred and eleven names were on the petition, and the remonstrance contained only 36 names, but an investigation proved that 25 of the names on the petition were also sub-

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LOSES

People Overwhelmingly Defeat Proposed Amendment to Local Option Liquor Law.

Clackamas county will have no high school for at least two years, as the official count has shown that the people have voted down the proposition by a majority of 206. Precincts such as Canby and Molalla went heavily against it, as well as other outlying districts, showing conclusively that the people are generally opposed to increase in taxation for any purpose, and also that the sentiment of the country is for district high schools. It was generally understood that such a school would be established in Oregon City, and this did not please the small towns.

The equal suffrage amendment lost in Clackamas county by 492 votes and the local option amendment was beaten by 945. The official vote on the principal amendments is:
