

COMPELLED TO DO FARM WORK

Mrs. McDonald Says Husband Treated Her Cruelly and Sues For Divorce.

Annie McDonald has instituted suit through her attorney, Judge Gordon E. Hayes, against Wm. McDonald, to whom she was married in Osage City, Kansas, February 26, 1885. Mrs. McDonald alleges that shortly after their marriage her husband commenced to treat her harshly, cruelly and with cold indifference. He compelled her to do farm work and at various times called her various names. He objected to their children attending parties and otherwise made life disagreeable and unpleasant for his wife and family. Mrs. McDonald asks for $25 per month permanent alimony and the care and custody of their 11 children as follows: William G., aged 20; Jane E., aged 19; Annie V., aged 17; Margaret E., aged 15; Elizabeth M., aged 14; John H., aged 9; Wallace G., aged 7; Clarence, aged 4; Chester, aged 2; Florence and Floyd, aged 1 1/2.

JURY FINDS THEM GUILTY

Crown-Columbia Pulp & Paper Co. Is Convicted.

PUTS SAWDUST IN STREAM

Evidence Was Conclusive and Jury Returns a Verdict After Being Out Only Six Minutes.

In six minutes the jury in the case of the State of Oregon vs. the Crown-Columbia Pulp & Paper Company found the defendant guilty Saturday afternoon of the crime of depositing sawdust and other lumber waste in the waters of the Willamette River. The verdict was found by C. C. Babcock, J. W. Altridge, R. W. Porter, William Beard, J. N. Harrington and J. M. Ware. The State was represented by Deputy District Attorney C. Schaebel and the defense was conducted by Franklin T. Griffith.

The case was one of the four that was instituted last week, the other defendants being Rambo & Mampower, H. Bigelow, and the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company. The evidence against the Crown-Columbia was conclusive, and during the progress of the trial, court was adjourned to permit the jury to visit the mills, in order to more intelligently investigate the charges.

Water Bailiff W. W. Smith swore to the complaint against the companies. The action is of more than usual interest as the county prosecuting officials attempted in vain to bring about the conviction of C. E. DuBois, an Estacada sawmill man, who was forced to undergo trial twice on the charge of dumping sawdust in a stream tributary to the Clackamas River. In the first trial of DuBois, the jury failed to reach an agreement and in the second trial DuBois was acquitted, though the evidence against him was considered to be exceedingly strong.

Remarks of Correspondent at Marks Prairie Receive Attention.

CANBY, Or., Oct. 19.—(Editor of the Courier.)—It seems strange to me that a person like your correspondent from Marks Prairie should attack me in so personal a way. Common respect, alone, should govern a man's pen, if it doesn't his brain. I know the whole bunch of violators, game hogs and fish butchers, also know full well the time I spent early and late looking after them, and who, through their cowardly and shameful slaughter of birds and fish, have successfully evaded me and the law. But the better class of people on Marks Prairie have assisted me all they could and I can truthfully say that I have earnestly endeavored to bring these violators to justice, being the oldest deputy warden in Clackamas County. I take these articles that have been written, as alluding to me. The old adage—hit a dog hard and you'll make him holler. I love to hear these people holler, for I know that I have had them worried and am going to keep them just that way. It is certainly very amusing to me to have a country politician to be so interested in my bank account. Mathematics is my failure and I need someone to spend my money and keep me out of the saloons, but I want a good honest gentleman, not one of the kind that dynamites fish or shoots a quail from a tree with a number 10 shot gun, and slips out just about day light in the morning, bags a few birds before they get awake and then comes and howls about the deputy spending his time and money in a saloon.

Kick and kick again, shoot and kill everything you can. I saw a blue bird one day last week when I happened out of the saloon for a moment. Get your splatter box and kill that. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if you would. I should like very much to see the writer of that article personally. You must know my number; it isn't 23 either.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says A. C. Stickle, of Miletus, W. Va. "Persistent use of the Salve completely cured it." Cures Cuts, Burns and Injuries. 25c at Howell & Jones, Druggists.

NEARLY A TON OF BOOKS.

School Libraries in the County Will Be Helped Along.

Eighteen hundred pounds of books have been received from the State Library Commission by County School Superintendent J. C. Zinsler for distribution among the various districts of Clackamas County. The apportionment of this county based upon the library tax of 10 cents per capita was $877.16. Library cards and pockets for the books will be supplied to each district upon application to the clerk. The books were chosen by the school officers in 37 per cent of the districts in this county, but 63 per cent of the districts failed to make selections, and, as provided by law, these selections were made by the library commission. The city school library will be augmented by the new books. Supt. Zinsler has no spare room for these books and he requests director to call for them at once.

Mr. Shibley in Missouri.

SIDNEY, Mo., Oct. 20.—(Editor of the Courier.)—Three weeks today since leaving Oregon City, for the East and have not heard a word from my friends in Oregon, so you will please send me a copy of the Courier. It is an old friend and the news therein will keep me from getting home lonesome.

In a former issue of the Courier I gave, with other scenes, a visit to the old home. I will now give a visit to my father and mother's grave, and the tender memory which reaches far back through the long years and cluster about the slumber songs of our infancy. If there is one thing in all this world that smooths and soothes and helps over the rough places in our lives, it is the sweet words and songs, it is the sweet low song of childhood. There is love sanctified and unselfish and made pure in a sacrificial holy as an echo from Calvary. As I stood by my mother's grave I well remembered that simple hymn:

"Oh, how happy are they that their Saviour obey

"And have laid up their treasures above, etc.

The memory was there, indelible. I well recollect the mother song was low and sweet.

I am having a fine time. We had a cold wave last week; the mercury went down to 30 degrees. I suppose my Oregon friends by not sending me any news think they may get rid of me, but they are badly mistaken, for Oregon is the place of all others for me.

A. M. SHIBLEY.

MR. KATO'S LECTURE.

Japanese War Pictures at Shively's Opera House, Saturday November 3.

Mr. Kato speaks perfect English and although he has only recently attained his majority, he has had experiences of a man 3 times his age. He is a graduate of Tokio University and he received part of his English education from the late Prof. Lascadio Hoarn.

After graduating Mr. Kato started his newspaper career. He was with the Manchurian army, was present at the fall of Port Arthur and at the battle of Mukden. In the field he was correspondent for Leslie's Weekly and the Japanese Trade Journal and furnished war news to several English papers.—Oregonian.

Mr. Kato has with him a large number of excellent slides illustrating the Russo-Japanese war and gave two most enjoyable lectures under our auspices here in Seattle.

I can thoroughly recommend him to you and know you will be pleased should you arrange a date with him.—Rev. H. H. Gowan, Trinity Church, Seattle.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the People of Oregon City.

To Whom It May Concern: Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in Oregon City in regard to advertised medicines and their value—the papers are full of them.

We want to say to every man, woman and child in Oregon City that we believe the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil—the best tonic reconstructer, health restorer and strength creator—we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine, it contains no injurious drugs, but it actually does contain all of the medicinal, curative elements taken from fresh cods' livers, without a drop of the molasses oil to upset the stomach and retard its work, and toxic iron added.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength creator for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles. We ask the people of Oregon City to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. Huntley Bros. Co., Druggists.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Oregon City, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.
