candidates for county secretary for the ensuing two years and a county executive committee of five members to serve for a term of one year. These candidates will be elected by a referendum vote of the entire membership and will assume office January 1 next. The program will consist of songs, recitations, addresses, and an essay by the county secretary on the subject of "Materialist Monism the Religion of the Working Class." This is the first time this part of the Socialist Philosophy has been represented in detail in Clackamas County.

Election Will Be Quiet.

The annual municipal election next Monday will be a very quiet affair and there will be a contest for only two offices, those of councilman from the first and second wards. Nominating petitions have been filed by Charles W. Pope and George Randall. Other petitions that have been filed are those of E. G. Caulfield, for mayor; Mortimer D. Latourette, for treasurer; A. Knapp and S. F. S. cripture, for councilman from the second ward; Fred J. Meyer, for councilman from the third ward.

CLUB GIVES TO LIBRARY.

Women Devote An Afternoon to Domestic Science.

The Woman's Club Tuesday subscribed $25 to the fund that is being made up for the establishment of a public library in this city. The regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. A. Harding, and the program was devoted to domestic science, the hostess illustrating the fine points of cutting up a chicken, which was a choice morsel later in the afternoon. Miss May Stevens rendered a piano number, with an encore, and Mrs. Thomas A. Pope gave an amusing reading. A feature of interest was the tale by Mrs. Rosina Fouts, of her trip in Eastern States. The next meeting will be held December 12, at the home of Mrs. Linn E. Jones, when quotations, readings and papers from Oliver Wendell Holmes will be presented.

CATARRH SEASON.

Disease Most Prevalent in the Fall Months. Simple Way to Cure.

At the first warning of catarrh, one should begin using Hyomei. There is no stomach dosing with this treatment. The medication of its healing oils and balsams is taken in with the air you breathe so that it reaches the most remote cells of the nose, throat and lungs, killing the catarrh germs wherever present, and soothing all irritations in the mucous membrane. You run no risk in paying Huntley Bros. Co. $1 for a Hyomei outfit, as they give their personal guarantee that if the remedy does not afford relief, your money will be refunded at once. Extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, cost but 50 cents, making it the most economical treatment for catarrh as well as the only one that is sold on guarantee.

Revival at Clarks.

Captain O. O. Branson and wife are in the midst of a stirring revival meeting with the Methodist pastor, Rev. J. J. Patton, at Clarks. They closed a four weeks' meeting at Highland November 12, where they were successful in securing about 35 conversions. Their efforts at Clarks are meeting with even better success than at Highland. Sixty-eight conversions are now reported and the meetings will continue over December 2. More than one-half of the converts of these meetings are between 18 and 65 years of age.

GINSENG IN CLACKAMAS

four feet wide with a narrow path one foot to two feet on each side. Those wider than this are hard to care for, owing to the distance being too great to reach easily in weeding and gathering seeds. The beds should be spaded to the depth of not less than one foot deep and all the ground well pulverized; all stones, roots, etc., should be thrown out.

A most essential thing in the cultivation of Ginseng is shade. If not natural as trees or bushes, the shade must be artificial, which should be so arranged as to admit about one-third sunlight. There are many different kinds of shade. A good shade may be constructed of lath, leaving about an inch space between each, elevated high enough to admit walking under. Where the height is objectionable it may be built in sections and placed upon stakes from 18 inches to 2 feet above the ground, fastening them so they can be removed easily for weeding, although very few weeds will grow in the shade. Another good shade is made by throwing brush upon a framework. Natural shade of the forest is also good. The shade of fruit trees or heavy foliage, or of shade trees, is also practical. Gunny sack cloth covering has been found to be good in cases where the garden is small. Ginseng may also be planted in the shade of buildings. Many grape arbors would make a nice shade for Ginseng, and for a small bed an annual climber would make sufficient shade.

To make money in Ginseng does not require a large tract of land, as hundreds of dollars can be made in a small garden in one's back yard, and a practical start can be gotten in the business for a small outlay. Ginseng roots double their size each year till they are five or six

BARBUR IS SUCCESSFUL.

Elected Clerk of Woodmen of World Against Field of Candidates.

R. T. Barbur was successful Friday night in the race for the office of clerk of Willamette Falls Camp, Woodmen of the World. E. H. Cooper, Frank Oliver, Fred J. Meyer, and A. F. Parker were the other candidates and Barbur was chosen on the third ballot. E. J. Lankins was elected manager to fill the unexpired term of A. E. Frost, resigned. The other officers elected were: H. Stevens, consul commander; W. H. Caulkins, advisor lieutenant; E. H. Cooper, banker; J. E. Booker, escort; H. E. Warner, watchman; C. L. Gossler, sentry; I. D. Taylor, manager for 18 months; Frank Betzel, musician.

Reported Holdup.

A holdup was reported by the police Tuesday night by the family of William Frederick McCoy, who staggered into his father's house in a condition bordering on insensibility. He had apparently been dragged or else struck with a heavy weapon and his condition is serious. McCoy was able to gasp a few words before he lost consciousness. He was robbed of less than $2 and there is no clue to his assailant.

years old, growth is much slower after that age. Cultivated Ginseng roots are larger at five years than most of the wild roots are at fifteen years.

Every fall after the plants die down for the winter, sprinkle on the bed a plentiful supply of rotten manure before covering with leaves.

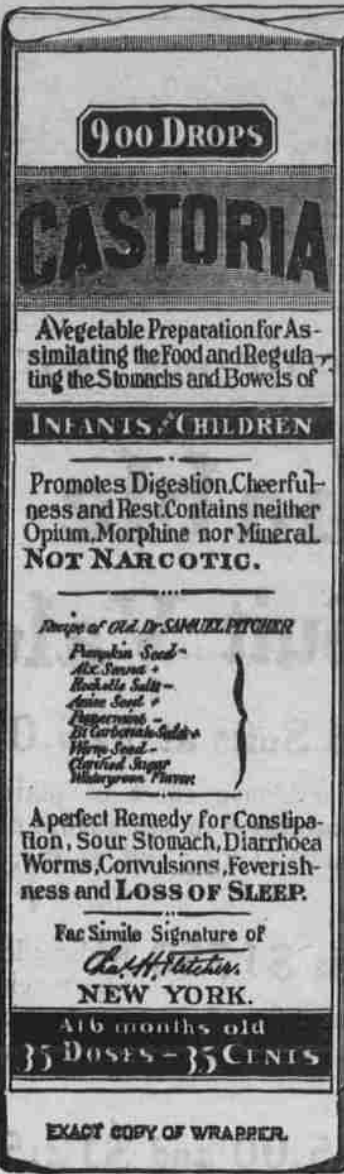

All a Ginseng plant wants is shade and plenty to eat, with moisture enough to aid the little feeding roots to take up the plant food in the soil. To enable it to do this, cultivate it the same as you do your beans or onions. Ginseng is as easily grown as any ordinary garden vegetable.

Ruconich Wins Bowling Contest.

Lawrence Ruconich won on Tuesday night in a bowling contest with William Chapman. There has been considerable rivalry between the bowlers, and a five game contest ended with a score of 838 to 884, giving the victory to Mr. Ruconich by a margin of four pins. The victor is celebrating by making improvements in his place of business, and is installing a modern front that will present an attractive exterior.

Roadarmel; John L. Green vs. Allie D. Green, desertion, and plaintiff given the custody of thirteen year old son.

In the suit of Homer Mullan vs. S. B. Hartman, to recover money for keeping a horse, an order of default was entered.

Decree of divorce was handed down in the suit of Jennie Straight vs. William Straight. The pair were married in this county August 1, 1906, and Mrs. Straight, who was permitted to resume her maiden name of Jennie Boyd, states that her husband deliberately lied, deceived and persisted in falsifying to her. He failed to provide all of the necessities of life and possesses a jealous and irritable disposition. Mrs. Straight says her husband acted in a manner calculated to humiliate her and allowed his creditors to solicit payment from her. He refused to pay for their furniture and household effects an permitted his creditors to enter the house and take their furniture out. He is indolent, lazy, careless and indifferent, compelling her while sick and indisposed to carry wood and care for the house. She has been compelled to chop wood and light fires while he slept. At one time he called her a liar and said he would kick her out of the house if she did not like it.

Mrs. Amanda E. Ferguson secured a divorce from Lawrence Ferguson. They were married in Canby, Clackamas County, in 1883, and for several years past have been living on a farm near New Era. Mrs. Ferguson alleges in her complaint that during the past six years while they have been living in the same house, her husband has refused to hold conversation with her, and they have not spoken to each other. He has never addressed a word to her during this time. She further states that he has failed and neglected to provide her with the necessities of life and she has been compelled to work out as a servant in order to gain a livelihood.
