Mr. Boylan came from Kelso, Wash., about six weeks ago to Oregon City, and while here was taken with la grippe, from which he never recovered, gradually growing weaker until his death Sunday afternoon. Mr. Boylan was born in Ireland in the year 1810, and when as a small boy he crossed the Atlantic Ocean, and made his home in New Jersey. After leaving the State of New Jersey he moved to Ohio, and after living there for many years he went to Illinois and afterwards lived in the States of Indiana, Iowa, Kansas and finally came to Oregon. Mr. Boylan was married to Hannah DeMoss in 1832, in the State of Indiana, who, in 1861, died in Iowa. In 1872 he moved from Iowa to Kansas, and later, with his two sons, George and Nelson, crossed the plains to Oregon and settled in Oregon City, where he resided for over 21 years. Mr. Boylan left for Kelso with his son, Nelson, about five years ago, where he resided until six weeks ago, when he came here. Mr. Boylan was the father of six children, Thomas Boylan, of Elberton, Wash.; Mrs. Joseph Stuart, of Seaside; George Boylan, of Cathlamet, Wash.; Mrs. A. F. Surfus, Mrs. A. L. Aldredge, of Oregon City; Asa Boylan, of Portland, and Nelson Boylan, with whom Mr. Boylan made his home at Kelso for several years, and who died at that place last September. Miss Rittenhouse underwent a surgical operation in December, but the dreaded disease had gained such a hold on the young sufferer that her life was despaired of several weeks ago. Every thing was done to relieve her sufferings. Miss Rittenhouse was about 25 years of age, and by her sweet disposition had made many friends, who will sadly miss her. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the funeral services being conducted near the house of the deceased, as the Rittenhouse family is quarantined on account of smallpox. One of the sons, Claud, has the disease, and also a Miss Moak, of Estacada, who, while visiting the Rittenhouse family, was taken down, and is also in quarantine at the Rittenhouse home. Oakley, pastor of the Congregational Church. The music was in charge of Mrs. W. A. Holmes, of Parkplace, who was assisted by Mr. Lucas and Miss Ivy Roake, who sang very impressively "The Home Land" and "Somehow." SUIT TO RESTRAIN. J. D. Ritter Would Prevent Issuing of Execution Against Land. J. D. Ritter has filed a suit in the Circuit Court against Samuel Wolfer and Sheriff Beattie to restrain the latter from issuing an execution against a strip of land in the James Shirley donation land claim, which was owned in December, 1881, by the plaintiff and defendant and several others. The owners were desirous of segregating their individual interests according to their respective shares, and agreed that John Wolfer's share should be 72.88 acres, which was divided. This property adjoined the land of the defendant, who built a fence that was located 69 links from the true division line. Ritter purchased the land, including the strip, but in February, 1906, Wolfer instituted an action against him for ejectment and obtained a judgment against Ritter, who had no legal defense. It is for the purpose of rendering this judgment void and preventing the execution that Ritter has commenced suit. Letter List. Following is the list of letters remaining in the Oregon City postoffice for the week ending February 7, 1908: Women's List—Miss Marie Lewis, Mrs. H. D. Saunders. Men's List—Edward Bloom, F. J. Baker, (2), Senor Hill H. Irvine, A. W. Miller, James Newton, A. B. Smith, W. M. Schultz. When called for please say when advertised. T. P. RANDALL, P. M. Dr. Sommer Meets With An Accident. Dr. E. A. Sommer met with an accident Saturday evening which nearly proved disastrous. While riding along the Canemah road where the electric car line runs, his horse, frightened at a passing car, became unmanageable and ran in front of the car, throwing Dr. Sommer over the dash board. The horse was also thrown to the ground, and was struck by the car. The motorman stopped the car when he saw what had happened, and the horse, released from the perilous position, escaped with a few bruises. Dr. Sommer was badly shaken up and received several cuts on the face. The place where this accident happened is dangerous, as the roadway between the Southern Pacific and the electric car line is narrow, and several other similar accidents of a similar nature have happened here.
