LOOKING FOR AN OPENING.

April 18, When Market is Expected to Be Better.

About 150 single mill men of the state of Washington met Monday in Seattle, where a movement was started to keep the mills suspended until April 18. By far the greater part of the mills of the state are already closed, having done little or nothing since November, when the Eastern market weakened and new advanced freight rates became effective. Some, however, have been resuming operations, but in the judgment of those at the meeting today, presided over by D. W. Bass, former manager of the Shingle Mills Bureau, it was the sentiment that the present state of the market did not justify resumption. Estimated present demand is far below 10 per cent of possible output. Twelve thousand men, it is estimated, are affected.

Ante Up, John D.

The Standard Oil Company must pay the fine of $29,240,000 imposed on it by Judge K. M. Landis. The appeal was dealt a death blow Monday by the United States Supreme Court when that tribunal decided that the Elkins law was not repealed by the Hepburn act. The case in which this important decision was handed down was that of the Great Northern railroad, which was recently found guilty and fined under the Elkins law for granting rebates to the W. P. Devereaux Company of Minneapolis. The learned attorneys who have been grasping at every technicality to save the oil trust from paying the big fine, pinned their hope to their contention that the Hepburn law was repealed by the Elkins act. And now the highest court has decided against them. Will they ante up?

Guests in Washington, D. C.

J. H. Ackerman, state superintendent of schools of Oregon, and Dr. W. J. Kerr, president of the Corvallis Agricultural College, who are attending the Educational Association, were guests at an elaborate luncheon at the Cosmos Club in Washington, D. C., Monday. Treasurer's Notice. I now have money to pay county warrants endorsed prior to June 1, 1907; also road warrants endorsed prior to February 23, 1907. Interest ceases on date of this notice, February 26, 1908. J. C. PADDOCK, Co. Treasurer.

The Gypsies Entertained.

The members of the Gypsy Club were very pleasantly entertained Saturday afternoon, at the home of Miss Zida Goldsmith, and appropriate to the season a Colonial tea was given. Elaborate decorations, suggestive of the times of George Washington, together with many emblems were features of the occasion and flags waved in profusion, while cherries and little hatchets helped to beautify the table which was profusely decorated. At an appropriate time the engagement of Miss Edna Daulton to Mr. Mort Latorre was announced, which announcement was heartily received as Miss Daulton is one of the members of the club, and is held in such high esteem by all its members. Another feature of the evening was the presentation of a sterling silver spoon to Miss Ethel Albright who is soon to take up her abode in the beautiful Hood River country. Many piano numbers were given and greatly enjoyed. Those attending were attired in Colonial costumes. In giving the tea Miss Goldsmith was assisted by her sisters, Miss Celia and Miss Bertha Goldsmith. The guests were: Miss Helen Daulton, Miss Bess Daulton, Miss Margaret Goodfellow, Miss Gus Humphrey, Miss Martha Frances Draper, Miss C. Barclay Pratt, Miss Edith Cheney, Miss Edna Daulton, Miss Ethel Albright, Miss Annie Bolack.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. E. P. Storey.

The subject for debate at this meeting being China. The annual election of officers at this meeting resulted as follows: President, Mrs. George C. Brownell; vice-president, Mrs. J. R. Landsborough; secretary, Mrs. A. Robertson; treasurer, Mrs. M. M. McGeehan. In view of the great advancements that have been made in the Orient in the past few years, and especially in China, this meeting was of especial interest. In a population more than the state of Oregon in China the Presbyterians have but one missionary, and he has been greatly handicapped by lack of funds. Rev. Frank W. Bible, who is lecturing all along the Coast upon China, tells of the great moves that have been made within the past few years, and mostly due to its own efforts, not only in a Christian way, but practically and in an educational line as well. Rev. Bible is the Presbyterian missionary at Hong Chow, and his lectures are stirring the missionary societies to strenuous efforts all along the coast.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church held its annual thank-offering social and entertainment in the Methodist church auditorium Wednesday evening, at which a large number were present.

The following program was given, and especially interesting were the numbers by the members of the family of Mrs. Chan Leung Kai. The program was excellent throughout, and following which a social hour was enjoyed by all: Opening song, choir and audience; prayer; introductory remarks by the president, Mrs. R. C. Blackwell; male quartet, "Softly the Night Wind Blows," Messrs. Joe, Will and Frank Allbridge and Arch Ross; piano solo, "Chanson de Alys," Miss Bertie Chan; recitation, "Sewin' Things at Night," Miss Fannie Chan; solo and chorus, "Somewhere;" piano duet, "Woodland," Ida and Fannie Chan; vocal solo, "If You Let Him," William K. Lai; whistling solo, Harold Swafford; recitation, "Romeo and Juliet," Miss Ida Chan; vocal duet, "A Clean Heart," Ida and Fannie Chan; recitation, Miss Bonita Ralston; Christmas; piano duet, "Shepherd's Evening Song," Bertie and Ida Chan; male quartet, "Good News Comes O'er the Sea."

Captain and Mrs. M. D. Phillips entertained at progressive whist Monday evening at their home on Fifth street, a number of their friends being present. During the evening the hostess served a dainty luncheon, and the evening was also greatly enlivened by several vocal selections by Mrs. Theodore Osmund. Prizes were won by Mrs. Linn E. Jones and Mr. H. E. Straight and Mrs. J. W. Moffett and Mr. John Lewthwaite. The guests were: Mrs. and Mrs. Linn E. Jones, Mrs. and Mrs. Hiram Straight, Mr. and Mrs. William Lewthwaite, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewthwaite, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Moffett, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie L. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Osmund, Mr. and Mrs. T. Randall, Miss C. B. Barclay Pratt, Miss Vera Caulfield, Miss Muriel Stevens, Mornirer J. Cockrell and Percy Caulfield.

The annual ball given by the Columbia Hook and Ladder Company, in Armory Hall, Saturday evening, was a most successful affair.

A large number attended and gave themselves entirely over to the spirit of the merry dance. Beautiful decorations enveloped the walls and bunting and firemen's helmets were used to good advantage in pretty effect, while varicolored electric lights added to the decorations with dazzling prettiness. Music by a high order orchestra was of its usual full and delighted those who tripped the light fantastic.

A goodly number of people enjoyed the Presbyterian choir social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCausland Wednesday evening.

A short program was given, as follows: Piano solo by Mrs. Edwards; several selections by the choir; a reading by Robert Schueler, and piano solo by Miss Mabel Volkmar, following which substantial refreshments were served.

The Dickens Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Leonard L. Pickens Monday afternoon, at which light refreshments were served.

The club continued the reading of "David Copperfield," and Mrs. Max Bolack will entertain the club next Monday afternoon.

Successful Exams.

The regular semi-annual February teachers' examination was held in the courthouse the 12th, 13th and 14th inst., before an examining board composed of Superintendent Gary, L. A. Reed of Park Place, and Howard Eccles of Canby. Out of the 41 contestants there were but six failures. We append a list of the successful teachers: First Grade—Norma F. Haines, Oswego; T. P. Kendall, City; Hilda W. V. Malwauke. Second Grade—Helen T. Grisey, City; Lizzie V. Huggill, Gervais; Mrs. Nettie Wilson, Gresham; F. Opal Crawford, Estacada; Daisy E. Spaulding, City; George T. Brenner, City; Lulu M. Marsh, Elwood; Dorcas Hedlin, Reed; Elizabeth Canning, Orient; Frank Croner, City; Edna Ruth Reed, Sherwood; Joyce Withey, Aurora. Third Grade—R. E. Wirtz, Portland; Susie A. Gribble, City; Edith Hargreaves, Clackamas; Hazel Wightman, City; Julia Bloom, City; Joyce E. Cochran, City; V. H. Dunton, Liberal; Madge Buckner, Molalla; A. A. Baldwin, Aurora; Erma Shibley, Springfield; Lena A. Morris, Woodburn; John J. Roberts, Barton; Nellie Todd, Hubbard; James H. Howard, Hubbard.

Thirsty Hold-Up Man.

L. T. Mitchell walked into the Hub saloon Wednesday evening and, with an arrogant air and manner of impudence, invited himself to a drink at the expense of the proprietor. Mr. England, at the time on duty, explained at length that Wednesday was not bargain day and that the resort of which he was one of the proprietors had discontinued the free list. The undesirable customer argued the point in loud words and not extra choice language—laying aside commercial usage in such matters, he insisted on his right to a limited amount of the liquid refreshment without producing the customary dime. The argument grew more and more heated, and the proprietor's logical argument not carrying conviction to the mind of the thirsty Mitchell, Mr. England reminded him that outside was the streaming moonshine and falling raindrops that were his without price and well suited to his present mood. With a tight grip on his collar the proprietor proceeded to escort his unwelcome visitor to these outside attractions and had him well on the way when, horror of horrors! the bellicose customer produced a big six-shooter, which he dizzily flourished in most every direction. A gray streak showed the line of retreat of the proprietor—a burry-up call brought the full police force on the scene, and the hapless Mitchell, between two robust vigils of the peace, took up his halting, soldierlike march to the city bastle. This ended the romance of the thirsty hold-up man.

Improvement Club Gives Supper.

About 70 people gathered at the club room of the Mt. Pleasant Civic Improvement Club in Mt. Pleasant school house last Saturday evening and partook of the many good things the ladies of that place had brought to gether for the satisfaction of the inner man. The way the good viands disappeared spoke well for the quality of the salads, cold meats, the fine home-made bread, pies, and coffee with genuine cream in it. The treasury of the club was increased to the amount of $18, which will be used toward the construction of more sidewalks. The energetic people of this community have constructed at the present time something near one mile of three-foot sidewalks, and are contemplating the construction of something like another mile. They have raised the money for these walks through entertainments of various kinds and sports well for the energy and push of the people of this neighborhood.

A Freak Lamb.

A freak of nature came to light last week on the farm of William Jones in Beaver Creek district in the form of a lamb with eight legs and two tails. If "Mary had a little lamb" like this, it would come home "bringing its 'tails' behind him."

MIXTURE TO RELIEVE MANY

PREPARE THIS SIMPLE RECIPE AT HOME AND TRY IT.

MANY WAIT TOO LONG

Druggists Here in Town Say They Can Supply the Ingredients or Make Up the Mixture.

Get from any prescription pharmacist the following: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

The above is considered by an eminent authority, who writes in a New York daily paper, as the finest prescription ever written to relieve Backache, Kidney Trouble, Weak Bladder and all forms of Urinary Difficulties. This mixture acts promptly on the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys, enabling them to filter and strain the uric acid and other waste matter from the blood which causes Rheumatism. Some persons who suffer with the afflictions may not feel inclined to take much confidence in this simple mixture, yet those who have tried it say the results are simply surprising, the relief being effected without the slightest injury to the stomach or other organs.

Mix some and give it a trial. It certainly comes highly recommended. It is the prescription of an eminent authority whose entire reputation, it is said, was established by it. A druggist here at home when asked stated that he could either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription for our readers, also recommends it as harmless.

Eagles Have a Hall.

Price Brothers have leased the hall over their Gents' Furnishing store to Oregon City Art No. 993 Eagles, who are fitting the same in elegant style for lodge and society quarters. It is the intention of the Eagles to re-rent the room to other lodges and societies, and are sparing no pains in making all appointments modern in every particular. The matter of re-renting is under the direction of Mr. A. A. Price, the genial officer for men, who is one of the Artie lads.

Reason Enthroned.

Because meats are so tasty they are consumed in great excess. This leads to stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation. Revise your diet, eat reason and not a pampered appetite control, then take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. Try it. For sale by Huntley Bros' drug stores, Oregon City and Molalla. Samples free.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kinder desire to thank their friends of Oregon City for their kindness during the sickness and death of their little daughter, Pluma. H. KINDER.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate woman's organs, so surely these organs are established in health by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mother, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments. Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter from charges. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalidee Hospital and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

WOMEN TO PROPOSE

season and contrary to the game laws of the kingdom. But Henry had an attractive position with the government, and one of his 'perks' was being able to marry any one he wanted. All he had to do was to go up and tag some lady and say 'You're it!' and her folks would send out announcements and the government executioner put in a requisition for a new consignment of hardware. What show would such a monster have had where women did the proposing?

"One of the merits I claim for my matrimonial bureau is that it would revolutionize society by introducing economy. Now, everybody knows that it costs the average man so much to land a girl that it takes him and his wife several years after marriage to pay her courtship debts. My bureau would do away with all this. Of course the florists and candy shops and maybe the theaters would kick on it, but what a harvest the fellows who sell clothes and furniture would reap! And what a disappointment it would save the girls! It must give any girl a jolt after she's been showered with supporters and theaters and flowers and candy to find herself tied to the home after marriage. Again, many a married woman would have better clothes if she hadn't had such a good time during the engagement period. More fellows would own houses if they hadn't tried to play the rich and generous in the preliminary festivities.

"The bureau would also solve the liquor problem without introducing prohibition. As soon as women do the popping Carrie Nation will lose her job. Her occupation will be gone. When our chances of getting married depend on women, we'll be only too eager to walk the chalk line. Stag banquets would vanish from the earth. The ladies would rule the bachelors as much as they now rule us married men.

"Cases of tobacco heart would be as scarce as centenarians. We would put on short tobacco rations and only allowed to smoke the brands that looked and smelled good to the ladies. As for poker—well, that would soon be obsolete. Once in a while we might be allowed to play hearts or casino, but the most popular young men would be those who didn't know what the pastebards look like."

"But what would the bureau do in a case where a woman proposed to a man and then exercised her feminine prerogative of changing her mind?" asked the reporter. "Now, that would be regulated by the Interstate Commerce law," replied Mr. Bede. "According to the law, she couldn't change her schedule without giving a month's notice."

"What would the bureau do if the girl proposed to the wrong man?" persisted the reporter. "Well," answered Mr. Bede, "if she popped to some fellow who wanted to sidestep, the bureau would make her show cause why she should be allowed to marry him."

In response to a query as to whether a woman, if allowed to propose, would still be allowed to name the day, Mr. Bede replied, after a period of deep thought, "I think the challenged party ought to have the right to name the time and place as well as weapons, but I suppose they could come to a compromise on that."

Mr. Bede says that as yet his plans for the bureau of matrimony have not been completed, because he hasn't had the time to give it the attention that its importance requires.

CHICAGO MAN'S HUGE TASK.

Would Drive Women From Shops Early to Seat Workers in Cars. One man in Chicago has taken upon his shoulders a huge task. It is involved in this proposition: Women shoppers should buy early and get out of the shopping district before 5 p. m. Then the working girl and the tolling man could get seats in the street cars.

The brave man who proposes this idea is S. B. Mills, a member of the real estate board. At the board's meeting the other day he broached the matter. "I have made a study of this situation for many years," said Mr. Mills. "Night after night I have watched these lazy women, with their sprawling bodies, march into the cars and take up half the seats. If a poor working girl who has been worn to a thread by waiting on them all day manages to get a seat it is a miracle. "If a laboring man, heavy and tired from his day's work, doesn't rise to give them his seat, supposing by any chance he happens to have one, he is immediately regarded as a dolt and an idiot. "These women ought to be driven out of the district before the close of the stores. "Let us try moral suasion and coaxing and see if we can move their selfish hearts and solve one of the great features of the transportation problem. The ministers ought to preach on this subject."

World's Fair For Denmark.

It has been decided to arrange for a world's fair in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1913, which will be twenty-five years after the last international exhibition in Copenhagen and the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Danish Industrial Association. The exhibition will cover about 200 acres of land and include all branches of industry, agriculture and art from all parts of the world. Buildings already are being planned for a special airship section.

Thousands For a Sow.

At a sale of Duroc-Jersey bred sows recently held near Sterling, Ill., one sow was sold to A. F. Russell of Savannah, Mo., for $2,000, said to be the highest price ever paid for a sow. Forty head sold averaged $182 each.

A branch of the work of the Portland Commercial Club which many people know nothing of is the maintenance of an Oregon Information Bureau in Los Angeles, which has been wonderfully successful in its efforts to interest Californian tourists that they may return to their Eastern homes by way of Oregon. Oregon literature is distributed from several of the most centrally located offices in Los Angeles, and it is eagerly taken.

The colonist rates, and particularly the $30 fare from the great Middle West to all stations in the Beaver State is emphasized in every publication given out. Eastern lecturers are also employed to a limited extent, and Mr. Robert J. Weyh, Jr., of New York City, has just reported a most successful series, with audiences frequenting by numbering in excess of one thousand adults. "They take in every word about Oregon," he writes, "and then fire questions at me."

Hog Cholera.

The greatest draw back to the hog industry which breeders in this country have to contend with is what is known as "hog cholera" and "swine plague."

Hog cholera is a highly contagious disease and unless checked is liable to carry off a great number of hogs in a very short time. Mrs. A. P. Williams, of Burnetts Creek, Ind., tells of an experience which he had with some hogs that had the cholera. "Five years ago," says Mr. Williams, "I was in the employ of Mr. J. D. Richardson, Lafayette, Ind., as his barn foreman. Some fine hogs that I was feeding took the cholera. I gave them Sloan's Liniment and did not lose a hog. Some were so bad that they would not drink sweet milk and I was compelled to wrench them. I have tried it at every opportunity since and always find it O. K."

Write for Dr. Sloan's free book on the treatment of Horses, Cattle, Hogs, and Poultry. Address: Dr. Earl S. Sloan, 615 Albany Street, Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Eber A. Chapman entertained the members of the Friday Evening Bridge Club at their home last Friday night, and the prizes were won by Mrs. Bruce C. Curry and Linn E. Jones. The eve of Washington's birthday was marked with Colonial favors and a dainty luncheon was served. The Friday Evening Bridge Club was formerly the Tuesday Evening Club, and the next meeting will be held Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin T. Griffith. Those present last night were Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. McCain, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce C. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Jones, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Beale, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Eastham, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Chapman and J. W. Gray.

The will of John Wade, who committed suicide at Touchet, near Walla Walla, Saturday afternoon, was discovered Monday when a search of the old man's personal property was made. The will gives the man's teeth to Dr. B. E. York, a dentist; his pipe, smoking and chewing tobacco to John Storm, a neighbor, and his eyeglasses, watch and an old Testament to his only son, Oliver Wade; his ranch to Mrs. Chas. Retzer, of Walla Walla.

Dr. J. S. Surman, one of the oldest pioneer physicians of the old school in Portland, was found dead in his room at 145 Third St. Tuesday morning. By his side was found a note to his sister. There was no evidence of suicide, and upon examination by the coroner it was ascertained that death was the result of natural causes.

Death of Anna Busch.

The death of Miss Anna Busch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Busch, of Logan, occurred at the parents' home Saturday night, after a long illness from tuberculosis of the bones. Recently one of her feet was amputated in the hope of staying the ravages of the disease, but apparently to no purpose, as since the time she failed steadily. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from St. John's Catholic church, Rev. A. Hillebrand officiating, interment being in the Catholic cemetery.

Local Notes.

Miss Agnes Justin is confined to her home with the mumps.

Attorney Bruce C. Curry left for a five days' business trip in Seattle Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Sauerman, of Napa, Cal., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Pauline Schwartz, of this city.

J. O. Morris, a prosperous farmer living on Aurora R. D. No. 1, was in Oregon City on business Wednesday.

Isadore H. Price returned to The Dalles last night after a short visit with his brother, A. A. Price, of this city.

Mrs. L. O. Eaton has gone to Wisconsin, where she was called by the serious illness of her father, and her stay will be indefinite.

Harry Spear, who for the past two weeks has been suffering with a severe attack of the grip, is again able to be on the streets.

Harry M. Shaw, formerly machine operator for the Elitiorprize, but for the past year located in Albany, was in the city Wednesday.

Miss Harriet Cochran will leave this afternoon for Newberg, where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. J. P. Keating, for a few days.

D. E. Jones, of Beaver Creek, was at the county seat transacting business Friday, and was accompanied by C. E. Stewart. Both of these men have large farms at Beaver Creek.

W. H. Mattoon, one of the candidates for county commissioner, was in from Molalla Friday. Mr. Mattoon is one of the old pioneers of Clackamas County.

A. Willbrod and E. Koble, of Macksburg, were in Oregon City last week, on their way home from Portland, where they purchased an Osburn-Taylor 18-horsepower engine, with 32-inch separator, and will thresh the grain of the Macksburg precinct this summer.

The Sawdust Case.

Cl. M. Diamond, manager of the Clackamas Lumber Company, was Tuesday afternoon acquitted in the Justice Court on a charge of dumping sawdust into a stream in violation of the state fish laws. He was defended by George C. Brownell, and the jury were J. A. Tufts, Harry Aune, William Reams, E. R. Williams and J. W. McCauley. Deputy District Attorney O. D. Eby appeared for the prosecution and Deputy Master Fish Warden Frank Brown and Deputy Game Warden Mack were witnesses for the state.

Washington's Birthday had twice its usual interest and significance in Portland this year on account of this being also the city's first observance of "Rose Planting Day." Archbishop Christie participated in the exercises in connection with planting the thousands of roses which were borne to the parks by the school children. Vigorous two-year-old bushes were set out, which will bloom generously by the first of June, for the Rose Festival. A distinctive feature of the grand parade planned for the festival will be entry of floats from different cities in the state; several have already designed floats illustrating some particular product of their section. This attractive representation will doubtless attract many visitors to these communities.
