Latest styles in millinery at Miss Goldsmith's on March 27 and 28.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peck of Clarks, were Oregon City visitors Saturday.

Miss Tressie Comins, who is teaching at Barton, was in this city last week.

George Myers, one of the Molalla farmers, was at the county seat Friday.

Curtis Martin, of Blyville, made a visit to old friends at Clarks and Timber Grove, last week.

Miss Goldsmith invites you to her millinery display on March 27 and 28.

Miss June Charman has accepted position as stenographer for the First National Bank, in this city.

Miss Lulu Van Hoy of Newberg, has been visiting in this city for the past week with her sister.

Charles Hall, of Meadowbrook, and Mr. Cooper, of the same locality, were in this city the first of the week on a business trip.

Mrs. Lansing Stout, nee Miss Nettie Walden, formerly of Oregon City, but now of Portland, visited with relatives in Oregon City, Thursday.

Miss Adams, a professional nurse, of Portland, who has been visiting her brother, John Adams, and wife, has returned to her home in Portland.

Mrs. Samuel Dillman entertained the members of the Dickens club at her home Monday, there being a large number present and a most enjoyable time had.

Mrs. Samuel Dillman entertained the members of the Dickens club at her home Monday, there being a large number present and a most enjoyable time had.

Miss Estelle Schenkel, who has been confined to her home for the past two weeks by illness, is able to be at her work again in her father's law office.

Mat Olson, of Hubbard, was in Oregon City during the week paying his taxes. Mr. Olson is one of the dairymen of Clackamas county, who is making a success of his business.

Mrs. L. C. Driggs is lying very low at her home on Twelfth and Montgomery street, Portland, with an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Driggs formerly resided in Oregon City for many years before moving to Portland, and was an active church worker, and has many friends who will hope for her speedy recovery.

Miss Goldsmith, the leading milliner, will have a grand millinery display on Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28.

Mrs. Laura Fuller, of Portland, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burns, having been called to Oregon City by the illness and death of Mrs. Burns' mother, the late Mrs. E. D. Kelly.

Rev. Mulkey, of Brownsville, spent a few days in the city this week in the interest of that Gladstone Proposition. He expects to move his family from Brownsville to the property he recently purchased in Gladstone at an early date.

Miss Smith, who has been teaching at Timber Grove, has resigned to go to Salem, to have an operation performed on her hand. Prof. Davis will finish the remainder of her term. We regret very much that Miss Smith is leaving us, but it is reported that she may return to remain permanently.

The German Society of Oregon City held its regular bi-monthly meeting Sunday afternoon and evening in Knapp's hall. There was a large number present and several new members were taken into the society. Aside from the regular business at the meeting a musical and literary program was indulged in by the members, who gave numerous recitations, songs and speeches. A banquet was enjoyed, the occasion being the 60th birthday of D. M. Kiernan, one of the active workers of the organization.

S. R. Taylor, one of the leading hop-growers of Clackamas county, came down from Woodburn during the week. Mr. Taylor, who owns 500 acres near Woodburn, has 40 acres in hops, and last year did not gather his crop, as the price paid by the buyers was too low, but he has the 1906 crop that he is holding for a better price. His hops are always carefully picked, and of good quality, and does not believe in selling for a low price. He has been engaged in the hop business for the past fifteen years. He was accompanied to Oregon City by John Elliott, who is also the owner of a 500-acre farm near Woodburn, and whose farm adjoins that of Mr. Taylor.

Among the prominent Clackamas county farmers who were in Oregon City to pay their taxes on Thursday, were J. F. and S. A. Douglas, of Barton, who have been residents of that place for the past 27 years, having taken the plains by ox team with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Douglas, in 1877, from Kansas, and have lived in Oregon since that time. Both men well remember incidents that took place while crossing the plains, although quite young at that time. Their parents died on the old homestead at Barton and are buried near the place. Both of the men have worked hard on their farms, and the produce raised by them is taken to Portland by the electric car line, which they claim is a great advantage to the farmers of that country. They save time and are not troubled by bad roads during the winter time. They are among the leading potato growers of Barton.

REDLAND. The four-year-old son of Mr. Alingham, timber foreman for the Clear Creek Lumber company, while playing on some benches fell and broke his arm near the elbow. One of their timber fallers also had his collar bone broken by a falling limb.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Fullam of Portland, were visiting at Mrs. Jas. Fullam's, Sunday.

A few more days of good weather will see seedling finished generally. Quite a few early potatoes have been planted in the past 27 years, having our teacher started in on another two months' school.

L. H. Kerchem sold his timber to the C. C. L. Co., around his fields.

Mrs. J. Warner and son were up from Ostrander, Wash., on a visit to her mother's. Mr. Kresswell leaves for his home in Alberta, Canada, the latter part of this week. Your scribe has not been informed as to whether he goes alone or not.

Mr. and Mrs. Klebe of Highland, were visiting at Mrs. Poleus' Sunday.

WANTED—Clean cotton rags at Courier Office.

TEAZEL CREEK. Every body is busy between showers trying to get their crops in. Everlasting looking hopeful and encouraging.

The Woman's Home Missionary society met Thursday evening, March 5th at the home of Mrs. Joe Simons. The meeting opened by a reading of scripture by Rev. Quinn, followed by prayers. The society then took up their needle work. The results of such work at these meetings will mean quite a nice little sum towards church expenses when the articles have been sold.

Miss Clara Quinn, of Marquam, will visit her uncle's family at Teazel Creek this week.

A party of friends were entertained at the paragon last Sunday night. There were present Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Melton and Miss Rachel, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dart, who brought their phonograph which is a fine one, and which added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

Frank Dickens and Prof. Hill, of Molalla, visited at Teazel Creek, Sunday, attending church and Sabbath school, then taking dinner and spending the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Albright.

Rev. Quinn preached another one of his interesting sermons last Sunday, his text being in first Kings, 18th chapter, 21st verse: "How long halt ye between two opinions, if the Lord be for us, we shall prevail, but if he be not for us, we shall not prevail, for we are a people that are forsaken of the Lord."

Quarterly meeting will be held at Teazel Creek, March 15, when Rev. McCausland, of Corvallis, will be present and preach the sermon on Sunday. A basket dinner is on the program. All are invited to come or stay at home and not go to their neighbors and keep them from church.

HARDING GRANGE. The first Saturday was a busy day, as there was a variety of work to do and the lecture program could not be shortened and do justice to our citizens in the content. The first degree was conferred on three and one application was received. Delegates were elected to the county convention and a building committee was appointed to construct a commodious horse barn. A secretary was appointed, who received several names of members of a local branch of the Oregon Initiative and Referendum League. Logan grangers consider the initiative and referendum a big stick in the hands of the people and they propose to hang on to it. In discussing the proper place for a permanent location for the county fair, a great many took part and every one spoke in favor of Gladstone, giving good reasons therefor. A strong resolution in favor of Statement No. 1, was adopted which is given below. The lecturer's hour was a long one, taking 75 minutes, and the lecturer, Miss Jessie Pouts, deserves much credit for it.

The grange adopted the following resolutions: Whereas, Unscrupulous political leaders are making a determined effort to defeat the expression of the will of the people, in electing U. S. Senators through Statement No. 1, and

Whereas, this would cause a return to a system that has proven very unsatisfactory in many ways, especially in affording an opportunity for the corrupt use of money; therefore be it Resolved, by Harding Grange No. 122 P. of H., in regular meeting assembled, that we believe the people are intelligent enough to elect U. S. Senators themselves and that we urge voters of all parties to vote only for such legislative candidates as subscribe to Statement No. 1.

LOGAN. The W. O. W. lodge had a reunion and gave a supper on the 7th. Several members of other lodges were present and all report having had a good time.

Leonard Newkirk and family and G. B. Trotter and family were out from Portland, on the 7th.

Jacob Babier has been visiting Logan relatives.

Clem Clark and family made a short visit here, but have returned to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

George Clark, Jr., was in the wreck in Eastern Oregon, but was not injured.

The necktie social at the Lower Logan school, was a successful affair and the young folks deserve praise for their efforts.

Mr. Purdy has moved on his place again.

The gentleman who bought the land from Clem Clark, has moved on the place and is making improvements.

CARUS. The weather is fine for farming, and farmers are about through seeding.

C. E. Spence and E. C. Stewart and others, were training their blooded dogs recently.

Mrs. Gardner organized a Sunday school, Sunday.

Thomas Inskip and wife are spending their honeymoon with their parents.

Lizzie Lewis is visiting her parents here.

COIR—23. Bert Howard is over the grip and has gone back to his work.

Dr. Goucher is quite poorly.

Charley Spangler got a bad fall; have not heard how serious he was hurt.

Mrs. Howard's mother and brother, and Norman Howard and wife, were visiting at Edwin Howard's last Sunday.

Carl Casaday has returned to Oregon City to school, after a tussle with the jumps.
