HERMANN'S PLAY IN NEW DRESS Across the full front page of the Evening Telegram of March 19th appeared the following heading: 'Roosevelt and Fulton Bury the Ax." The substance of the article is that on the eve of Fulton's campaign for reelection to the Senate, the President has taken the Clatsop County Statesman under his wing and has aiso called off that unrelenting dog of war, Francis J. Heney. If this be true the President is assisting to reelection a Senator who has been so thoroughly in Mr. Rosevelt's disfaduring his whole term in office that his recommendation for even postoffice appointment received no the slightest attention. Are we to be heve now after four years of such abident and Fulton that the Senato could have acomplished but little bad he been inclined to do so, the Prosident is going to be a party to a scheme to return the man to the Senate, who was not, during all these years, considered worthy of civil reognition. The moment one place plence in this report his faith in President Roosevelt is blasted. think that Roosevelt would virtually say that the man he himself has for years ignored and spurned is still good enough for the Savages out in But perhaps we had best not take too seriously or place too much falth in such news reports. How much this little scheme resembles the famous portrait of Binger Hermann riding on the rear of a pas senger train in company with President Roosevelt. Many a man has ventured the opinion that Hermann's cunning trick of getting himself pho tographed with the President and hav ing the picture published throughout the State won him his last election The apparent fact that the President would have Mr. Hermann taking the part almost of the central figure of his party was surely sufficient proof that the ex-Congressman had not been fired out of the President's Cabinet. But it developed that he had been fired out of the Cabinet and that he had managed to get that picture in company with the President by a clever or at least very nervy ruse. Before this was all known Mr. Hermann had been elected to Con gress, but as he immediately became a candidate for the penitentlary along with some other Congressmen, Oregon was compelled to get along without representation in Congresa, So now we have a repetition of this little game or else we observe Pres-Ident Roosevelt in the role of a monu mental disappointment. As we think we know something about the Presi dent, most of us will conclude that Mr. Roosevelt would no more desire to have his name linked with that of picture shown alongside that of Bing- it up, and fumigate it. er Hermann, Perhaps neither of these incidents were within his control. Might we not expect some new process of political humbuggery? The bunco artist doesn't usually try the same trick twice in a locality. Possi-bly we are considered exceptionally easy. We shall see.

revolution has long been smouldering in the island had broken out in a fresh place. Eleven men of the opposition have been dragged out of their beds at night and shot before the privilege of refuge in the foreign consulates will be denied. The powers of Europe, that is to say, England, France and Germany have all hurried warships to the Haytian ports to protect their subjects and there is loud demand for American vessels wherever around the fringe of the island there are American interests.

This country has had almost enough trouble already over Hayti and San to Domingo and it would be a pity if were forced to shoulder any more The black republics are the plague spots of the West Indies. Their in-habitants are recognized in the family of nations, but as a matter of fact they are no farther advanced in civlitration than savage tribes. They speak mongrel French and hav a socalled Republican form of government, but the veneer of civilization that separates them from the savage and the vodeo doctor is so thin that does not even have to be scratch ed to show that wild beast under neath. No civilized nation would ever think of violating a foreign consulate.

It might not be a bad scheme for the United States to wink at the Monroe Doctrine long enough to take on Hayti and then wish itself well rid of the bargain. France, Denmark and England are already represented territorially in the West Indies and one policeman more would not much mat-ter and would rid the United States of a lot of bother. We certainly do
