POMONA AT MILWAUKIE

The Clackamas County Pomona Grange met in the hall of the grange at Milwaukie, Wednesday afternoon. The usual sumptuous dinner was spread. State Engineer John H. Lewis addressed the grange on the necessity of irrigation legislation. He was well received.

A resolution endorsing Statement No. 1, was unanimously adopted without the formality of discussion. A resolution opposing the single tax was adopted without discussion. The grange was not ready to accept a resolution on State Savings Banks and it was laid on the table. A resolution on irrigation legislation was placed in the hands of a committee to be reported upon at the next meeting. Beach and Prof. Alderson discussed the University appropriation in opposition to the referendum, and Eugene Palmer, of Albany, presented the side of the Linn county granges. The balance of the afternoon was spent in discussions and talks for the good of the order.

GRANGE AWARDED PREMIUM.

Maple Lane Grange Awarded Premium For Literary Work.

Maple Lane Grange met in regular session at the Maple Lane Grange hall. The morning session was devoted chiefly to business, and at noon a dinner was served by the ladies. The program for the lecturer's hour was nicely arranged and was as follows: Song, "Gentleness," by the grange; roll call; "An Incident of Early Life," reading; "The Political Game," S. T. Roman, reading; "The Woes of a Lecturer," Mrs. Mary Sholly, paper; "Has the World Grown Wiser and Better in the Last Fifty Years," A. J. Lewis; song "Old Grimes, Grange"; address, "My First Journey," Mrs. Louise Board; reading, "History of My Old Kentucky Home," Mrs. S. A. Gillett; question box opened by Frank Beard and Miss Myrtle Darling; song, "Juanita," Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Beard; recitation, "Kentucky Philosophy," Mrs. E. A. Seeley; song, "Old Rosin the Bow," grange; recitation, "Kentucky Belle," Mrs. O. A. Swallow; recitation, "Old Aunt Mary's," Mrs. Mattie Beard.

At the Saturday session one candidate was initiated and one application

JAMES U. CAMPBELL LEGISLATIVE RECORD

SERVED THE PEOPLE OF CLACKAMAS COUNTY WITH ABILITY LAST SESSION.

James U. Campbell, who is seeking the nomination on the Republican ticket for the Legislature, has served one term in that body and made a splendid record. He advocates more stringent Banking Laws, Preservation of Natural resources. One Normal school and abolition of all others. Keeping tax-roll open a greater length of time and the payment of taxes by the counties to the state in monthly installments. He has subscribed to Statement No. 1.

In attempting to give a line on the work of the members of the last Legislature, The Portland Telegram after the session ended, published a flattering statement relative to Mr. Campbell's ability and the things he accomplished. In an editorial The Telegram said: "For forty days a body of men have been engaged in doing public work at the Legislature. Some of them have done well, some of them not so well, while a proportion undoubtedly have served rather the special interests than the public. During this long term it is next to impossible for a

WARNER GRANGE MEET.

Six Applications Are Filed at Warner Grange Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Warner Grange was held at Warner Grange hall last Saturday. There was a large attendance. The worthy master, Thomas F. Ryan, being absent, Geo. Lazelle, of Mount Pleasant, acted as the master for the meeting. Six applications were filed, and one candidate was initiated into the third and fourth degree. Other business was brought up at the morning session, and at noon a hot dinner was enjoyed. Mrs. George Lazelle, the worthy lecturer, had charge of the lecturer's hour, and the musical and literary program rendered was interesting.

LEAGUE TO ADVERTISE.

Canby Development League Hold Interesting Meeting.

The Development League of Canby held a meeting at Canby Wednesday evening, and much business of importance was brought up for discussion. Through the efforts of the president, R. S. Coe, the merchants of Canby have subscribed $60, which with other money to be raised will be used for this purpose, and advertising matter will be sent out to induce new home-seekers to go to Canby. The Canby people are offering great inducements to have the county fair at that place the coming fall, and the Development League has offered to sell $1000 in stock, and to donate 40 acres for the fair site, and to fence the grounds free of charge. In case the fair is held at that place a large race track will be put in and horse races will be one of the features of the fair.

The Telegram speaks of a "Small Band of Notables," and says: In the little band of men to be noted may be included Speaker Frank Davey, of Marion, John H. Coffey and John Driscoll, of Multnomah, J. U. Campbell of Clackamas-Multnomah, George F. Rodgers of Marion, C. S. Jackson of Douglas, W. K. Newell of Washington, W. I. Vawter of Douglas-Jackson, and John C. McCue of Clatsop. There were other men who were known for their advocacy of normals as Chapin of Multnomah and Burns of Multnomah; there were men who became known for some one fight, as Eaton, of Lane in the university struggle and Rothchild for his tribute to Bryan; others who were known for one policy, as Purdy for economy and Edwards for advocacy of normals by the dozen, but the handful mentioned were the real workers in the House, so far as debate, manipulation or contest went.

Good Word for Campbell.

During the last session of the State Legislature, J. H. Fletcher was a correspondent for several of the newspapers of the State. He was present at Salem during the entire session and kept a close watch on proceedings. In the issue of the St. Johns Review of March 8, Mr. Fletcher reviewed the work of the legislature, and said that the body as a whole was not particularly commendable as a rule. The exception he made is shown in the following article:

There were several members in both house and senate who honestly tried to do their duty to their constituents. And foremost among these, allow me to say was our joint representative, Hon. James U. Campbell, of Oregon City. Representing as he did a class who were largely inhabitants of cities and towns, I did not look for this. But from the very start he took a manly stand in behalf of the laboring classes. So far as I can see he supported every measure calculated to benefit the state, and he stoutly opposed everything that looked like graft or a useless waste of the public funds. The people of St. Johns would do well to remember him should they ever have a chance to vote for him again. He was indeed the friend of the people. Such men are scarce and should be appreciated when we have them. Addressing the House shortly before the legislature adjourned, Mr. Campbell said: "The way this legislature has appropriated money out of the treasury for various purposes in different parts of the State, reminds me of a gang of robbers gathered together to divide the loot."

DR. C. A. STUART, Republican Candidate at Primary Election for Coroner.

I am a candidate because I believe a physician is better qualified to perform the duties of Coroner, besides reducing for the county the expenses of the office; also because the present coroner, R. L. Holman, asked me to become a candidate giving me his word of honor that he would not be a candidate again (for the 3d or 4th term).

I most respectfully ask your support, voters and tax payers, promising efficiency and economy in all things.

DR. C. A. STUART.

W. H. HOLDER, of Estacada, candidate for Assessor.

A prominent farmer, who resides about three miles east of Estacada. Is a candidate on the Republican ticket for county assessor. He has been a resident of this county for several years and has lived in the state nearly twenty years. He is one of the leaders in the fruit industry of the county, having on his farm the ten-acre State experimental orchard, and devotes his time to the study of the work that is becoming such an important factor in the county and state affairs. Mr. Holder believes that public office is a public trust, and that honesty and impartiality must be followed to the letter in the conducting of the county affairs in the assessor's office.

MRS. EARL SHIBLEY.

No special legislation and not pet measures drawn, in the interest of particular corporations. I am the only candidate who came out unequivocally for Statement No. 1 on entering this race. If nominated and elected I can and will serve the plain people of Clackamas County faithfully and earnestly in all matters that come within my official duty.

DR. C. A. STUART, Republican Candidate at Primary Election for Assessor on Republican Ticket.

Harry S. Moody, candidate for assessor on the Republican ticket is putting up a vigorous campaign and is undoubtedly gaining strength every day. His platform meets with the approval of nearly all the Republican voters. The energy and enthusiasm which he displays in behalf of an equitable and just assessment is counting votes for Harry. What especially is noted is the fairness with which he treats the other candidates for the same office. He is certainly making a clean, decent campaign with lots of push and vim. These are qualities that are needed in the next assessor of Clackamas County. The fact that he has never before held a county office, and that he stands for a new deal and a just assessment counts.

E. D. OLDS, Statement No. 1 Candidate for Representative.

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature. I stand for repeal of the three per cent tax rebate, election of road supervisors, equal legislation for the employer and the employe.

Mrs. Jane Singer, wife of the late William Singer, died April 1st, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. L. Misamore, in Portland. Mrs. Singer was a pioneer and resided many years in Oregon City, her husband operating the Singer Flour Mill. Deceased was an aunt of Misses Sarah and Mary Roberts and Mr. Edward Roberts of this city. Interment taking place in Mountain View cemetery.

man to hide from a close and unprejudiced observer where he really stands. On this basis he is entitled to praise or blame, and it is only fair that his constituents, wherever they may be, should be given a line on the man so that when they next appear for public office they may know precisely what to expect from them.

Under the heading of "Campbell Clean Politician," the Telegram said: "J. U. Campbell was emphatically a 'forerunner.' He was the best parliamentary fighter in the House, a resourceful fighter, usually had to battle with the other leaders and the Speaker besides, and yet won as many battles as any member. He introduced few bills and helped kill scores. He fought every big appropriation as a matter of course, whether the appropriation was needed or not, and he caused the majority in the House more uneasy hours than any other half dozen men. No one ever said that Campbell did not fight fair, and no one accused him of pleading his support to a measure and then betraying the trust, as others in the House did, and no one ever did parliamentary battle with him without knowing that he had been through something. Campbell is a politician, but a clean one. He was the only man on the floor of the House this session who had backbone enough to stand up and be counted when there were 59 members against him, and the only man who dared cut loose from tie-ups and tell the machine to do its worst. He manufactured a record that will make mighty good reading for his constituents, and generally headed the procession though often there was only one in the pro-
