

You Will Need an Oil Stove

When warm days and the kitchen fire make cooking a burden—then is the time to try a New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove.

Marvelous how this stove does away with kitchen discomforts—how cool it keeps the room in comparison with conditions when the coal fire was burning. The quick concentrated heat of the goes directly to boil the kettle or bake the bread, and none is diffused about the room to overheat it. Thus using the "New Perfection" is real kitchen comfort. Made in three sizes and fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp Just such a lamp as everyone wants—handsome enough for the parlor; strong enough for the kitchen, camp or cottage; bright enough for every occasion. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

M'LOUGHLIN HOME GIFT

MAYOR CARLL ACCEPTS GIFT FOR CITY AND WILL CALL A CITIZENS MEETING

TO RESORE OLD HOME

Will Be Made Into Reading Room With Free Bath—Farmers Rest

The grounds on which the old home of Dr. John McLoughlin on Main street in this city, was last week sold by Mrs. J. L. Barlow and Captain J. T. Apperson for $4000 to the Hawley Paper & Pulp Company who intends to utilize the ground for an auxiliary manufacturing plant. Upon hearing of the transfer of the property, Mayor Carll immediately communicated to W. P. Hawley, president and general manager of the company, his desire to save the house, which is old and useless from a business standpoint, and Mr. Hawley very graciously offered to give the building to the city.

Early next week Mayor Carll will call a meeting of the city officials and interested people and endeavor to raise a fund of a few hundred dollars which will be used to move the building to city property adjoining its present location and fit up the old house for a free reading room, rest room for visitors. It is Mayor Carll's plan to also have a free bath for those who cannot afford such convenience in their homes, and to have the upper rooms fitted into living rooms for the abode of some faithful and worthy man and wife who will take care of the rooms throughout the building, the bath, rest and reading rooms, in return for their comfortable quarters. It is also desired to bring the building back to its former appearance by rebuilding the long front porch, and to set the building back in the lot so that it may better have the old time appearance.

Two years ago the owners of the property offered to sell the building and grounds to the city and the project was favored by E. G. Canfield, who was mayor at that time, but on a referendum vote the proposition was defeated, as the city was in debt and the majority of the voters considered it unwise to add another burden to its finances. The new scheme, however, will cost Oregon City nothing, and there is no question of its success.

OREGON CITY GIRL WEDS.

One of the prettiest weddings that have taken place in Oregon City was that of Miss Gertrude Dorothy Wetzler, only and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wetzler, of this city, and Mr. Jesse B. Garretson, of Portland, at Paul's Episcopal church on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Previous to the arrival of the bride party Mrs. J. C. Cassou, was becomingly gowned in white lace, wearing a large picture hat, sang very impressively "I Love You Truly." At the appointed hour the bride party composed of the ushers, J. C. Cassou and Paul Semler, of Portland, followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Laura Garretson, sister of the groom, and the maid of honor, Miss Muriel Massey, of Portland, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Lewthwaite from "Lohengrin," preceded the bride as she was led to the altar on the arm of her father, Mr. Henry Wetzler, where she was met by the groom and the best man, Clarence Bartlett, cousin of the groom, where the impressive ceremony of the Episcopal church was read by the rector, Rev. T. F. Bowen. The bride was handsomely gowned in messaline and duchess lace over white silk. The bridal veil was held in place by orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of Easter lilies. The only jewel worn by the bride was a diamond sunburst, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor wore becoming yellow and yellow silk mull over yellow silk, and carried yellow roses, and the bridesmaid looked pretty in pink silk, and carried bridesmaid roses. The bride party formed a very pretty picture as they were grouped around the altar, the church being decorated with calla lilies, potted palms, Oregon grape and ferns, and brilliantly illuminated.

After the impressive ceremony the bride party went to the Wetzler home, where a reception was held, over a hundred guests being present. The house was beautifully decorated, the parlors being in apple blossoms, white lilacs, bridal wreath and Oregon grape, orange blossoms, and the predominating colors of the reception hall were green. The bride and groom stood beneath a canopy of bridal wreath and received the congratulations of the many friends present. During the evening refreshments were served. Among the guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beck, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Gertrude Wetzler, of Milwaukee, the two latter being grandmothers of Mrs. Garretson. Mrs. Frances Weber, aunt of the groom, of Ft. Madison, Iowa, and Mrs. J. F. Offerman, aunt of the bride, of San Francisco.

On leaving for their honeymoon the bride threw her bouquet which was caught by the maid of honor, Miss Muriel Massey. The bride and groom departed through a shower of rice and orange blossoms for Portland in an automobile, and from there they will go to Puget Sound on their honeymoon. On their return they will make Portland their home, where the groom has a handsomely furnished cottage awaiting his bride. Mr. Garretson is head book-keeper for Parlin & Orendorff Company.

The young couple were the recipient of magnificent wedding gifts of cut glass, silverware, brass china, paintings, rugs and linen. Among the wedding gifts was a large and beautiful brass vase sent by Mr. and Mrs. E. Schmitt, of San Francisco, the brass being from the trimmings of the battleship Oregon. Sufficient furniture for three prominent rooms in the new home was also among the gifts from relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Garretson.

THINKS WE LIVE TOO HIGH.

Boston Woman Says Luxury is the Evil of the Age.

It is wages versus large ideas and not the increased cost of provisions that make the average householder find it difficult to make both ends meet today, Mrs. Ellen H. Richards of Boston recently said in a lecture upon the "Cost of Living and How to Control It" at the Teachers' college in New York. She told of a man whose wife learned to talk about his salary instead of his wages. "When we had wages," she said, "there was no difficulty in living within them, but with a salary we spent everything."

"People spend more money than they used to," said Mrs. Richards, "and one reason is that we have more useful things, like the bathroom, and it is well to be sanitary. They say the cost of living within the past thirty years has increased 40 or 50 per cent, but I contend that it is not so. It is our idea of living that has increased."

"There has been a great change in what we women think we need, in the price of hats and gloves and gowns. Our grandmothers—women of comfortable means—felt that they were doing well when they had three gowns, and a little farther back the men might have had one fine suit of clothes, but they did not think it was necessary to have one for the morning, one for the afternoon and one for the evening."

"If you divide your income so that food will cost one-fourth, rent another and operating expenses one-fourth more, there will be left one-fourth for the 'region of choice.' There is nothing that makes one feel so poverty stricken as not to be able to do something that we really wish. With money for the region of choice, we get what we most wish—it may be books, travel or even handsome gowns—but something that we really desire. If a family lives up to its entire income, there is nothing to draw upon in case of need, though I class physicians, medicines, dentists and travel for health as fines that we have to pay for neglect of nature's laws."

"The average family having an income of $2,000 or $3,000, unless there is an arrangement to save something for the future or something very much wanted, spends it all. The woman's largest expenses are usually sundries. Men have temptations to spend, but not as the women do, with the market, the bargain counter and the house for which to provide, though most houses have three times too much in them. Women are not always wise spenders."

LEAP YEAR RELIEF PARTIES.

Self Sacrificing Club to Save Members Threatened With Marriage.

Ever since the first of this year a number of young bachelors in South Philadelphia have been living in constant dread lest their friends of the other sex should take seriously the tradition about women proposing in leap year. Unofficially they have banded together into a self sacrificing club to save any member who is threatened with marriage. Whenever one of their number gets the habit of calling on a young lady on Wednesday and Sundays pretty regularly the remaining members take it upon themselves to protect him.

They quite casually drop in on him at the girl's house, coming in pairs or one by one, and make it a point to stay as long as he does, thus insuring him from a proposal. Thus far this plan has been successful, but the young men are getting farseeing, as there are now four members engaged in regular calling, and they have to split up into four relief parties every Wednesday and Sunday evening.

A Winter Industry in Iowa. The freezing over of sloughs along the river at Clinton, Ia., has given opportunity for a new winter industry thereabouts. It is turtle catching. The turtles are easily seen under the ice, where they remain half stupefied from cold until the hunters chop holes in the river's covering and catch them. Many men are taking part in the turtle hunt every day and are making good money shipping the turtles to New York, where they are given fancy names and are served in restaurants at fancy prices. Both soft and hard shelled turtles are used. They are barreled alive and shipped east, remaining alive several days in the barrels.

Substitute For Cranberries. Conrad Skarstedt, a Swedish horticulturist and friend of the King of Sweden, came to New York recently with the intention of introducing to the American public that like cranberries a delicacy called the Ignon berry and guaranteed by Mr. Skarstedt to be, after you get accustomed to it, even better than the berry that goes with the great American Thanksgiving bird. He does not intend to drive out the cranberry industry, but merely to persuade the cranberry growers that they may get more out of their bogs if they cultivate the Swedish product in place of the American.

Patent Suit of Clothes. A Norwegian inventor has patented a suit of clothes which will protect its wearer from growing. The clothes are lined with a nonabsorbent material made of specially prepared vegetable fiber which, without being too heavy, will effectively hold up the weight of a man in the water. Twelve ounces of the new material will, it is claimed, save a person from sinking. The invention has been tested with favorable results at Christiania. Successful trials were also made with rags composed of the same material, capable of supporting two persons in the water.

EASTERTIDE IS OBSERVED

SPECIAL EASTER MUSIC IS RENDERED BY OREGON CITY CHORUS.

CHURCHES DECORATED

Vested Choir at St. Paul's Episcopal Church Sings For First Time Easter Sunday—Appropriate Sermons.

Easter Sunday was observed at the churches of Oregon City, and although the weather was unfavorable, all of the church edifices were well filled by the church-going people of Oregon City.

At St. Paul's Episcopal church the vested choir, which has been practicing for the past month under the leadership of the rector, Rev. T. F. Bowen, sang for the first time at the Easter service, and the choir in the vestments was a very impressive feature. The morning service opened with the Processional, "Savior, Blessed Savior," by the choir, and was followed by "The Strife is O'er, The Battle Won," "The Tyrie in Eulasion," "Mindful of Thy Love," "Gloria in Excelsis, recessional hymn, "Glorious Things, Of These Are Spoken," "Gloria Tibi," "Lauds Christi," "Jesus Christ is Risen Today," "Halleluia, Halls and Voices Heavensward Raise," "The Sursum," "Corda," "Sanctus," communion hymn, "Now, Oh, Father," Holy communion was celebrated at this service.

The subject for Mr. Bowen's sermon was "If a Man Die, Shall He Live Again?" and the topic of the evening sermon was "Jesus and the Resurrection." The vested choir sang at this service. The church was prettily decorated with flowers and ferns. Many calla lilies, the gift of Mrs. Norman Lang, formed the beautiful background, near the altar. Two rites of baptism were administered to Virginia Keating, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Keating, of Newberg, and William Leslie Burns, the three months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Burns. The Easter offering of St. Paul's Episcopal church was $220.13 and the Sunday school offering for the missions was $20.

The Congregational church was appropriately decorated for the Easter services, which were largely attended both morning and evening. The choir had prepared a special musical program under the direction of Miss Ivy Roake. The subject for Rev. Oakley's sermon was, "The Easter Dawn." During the morning service the rites of baptism was administered to several children.

"Thy Will Be Done," was the subject of Rev. John M. Lindan's Easter sermon, and the music rendered by the choir at both evening and morning service showed careful training by the leader. In the evening Rev. Thomas Moody preached on "The Atrocities Imposed Upon the Natives of the Congo by the King of Belgium," and his subject was well handled.

Rev. J. R. Landeborough, pastor of the First Presbyterian church had for his subject of the morning service, "Our First Father." One of the features of the service was the solo by Mrs. Leon Des Larzes, who sang impressively "The Resurrection Morn." The pupils of the Sunday school assisted at the morning service. A special song service was enjoyed by the large congregation in the evening, and the choir rendered "Victory Over Death," "Now is Christ Risen," and other selections. One of the features of the evening service was the contralto solo of Miss Grace Marshall. Miss Marshall's selection was "Beyond the Gates of Paradise," and her sympathetic voice was well suited for her selection. The church was decorated with flowers and evergreens.

Rev. R. C. Blackwell's sermon on "The World Arising," at the M. E. church Easter morning was listened to by a large congregation. An excellent Easter program was rendered by the choir, and at the evening service the Sunday school rendered a very appropriate and creditable musical program. The church was beautifully decorated with blossoms and ferns. The German Lutheran church was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns for the Easter morning service, and the auditorium was crowded to listen to the sermon of the pastor, Rev. W. R. Kraxberger, who talked on "Christ's Resurrection is the Unshakable Foundation of Our Faith." The Lord's supper was celebrated at this service. The services at the Lutheran church for next Sunday are as follows: Sunday school 9:30; morning service, 10:30. At 2 o'clock Rev. Kraxberger will hold an examination of the confirmation class, the confirmation to be held on Sunday, May 3.

The Easter services were largely attended at St. John's Catholic church. Special Easter music was rendered by the choir, and the church was decorated with white flowers. The mass was sung by Theodore Laifasche in honor of St. Louis, and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. Father Hillbrand.

St. Paul's Parish Meeting. The Annual Parish Meeting of St. Paul's Church, was held on Wednesday evening. There was a large attendance. The different reports presented by the secretaries and treasurers of the various societies and by the rector indicated a gratifying condition of growth and prosperity.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Church Warden and Vestrymen—H. L. Kelly, senior warden; John R. Humphreys, junior warden; George A. Harding, treasurer; John B. Lewthwaite, secretary; W. B. Stafford, Eber A. Chapman, Richard Prior, H. H. Hughes.

Ladies' Guild Officers—Mrs. R. J. Goodfellow, president; Mrs. Thomas Bowen, vice-president; Mrs. T. F. Bowen, secretary; Mrs. Rosina Fouts, treasurer.

Daughters of the King Officers—Miss M. L. Holmes, president; Miss Margaret Goodfellow, vice-president; Mrs. A. C. Warner, secretary; Mrs. H. S. Moody, treasurer.

At the close of the meeting all repaired to the rectory, where choice refreshments were served. The members of the Guild each dropped a dollar into the collection basin with a correct statement by which the money had been obtained. A very enjoyable time was had by all present.

Chamberlain's Has the Preference.

Mr. Fred C. Hanarhan, a prominent druggist of Portsmouth, Va., says: "For the past six years I have sold and recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a great remedy and one of the best patent medicines on the market. I handle some others for the same purposes that zap me a larger profit, but this remedy is so sure to effect a cure, and my customers so certain to appreciate my recommending it to him that I give it the preference. For sale by Huntley Bros., Oregon City and Molalla."

Evangelist Sewell, who has just closed his meetings at Stone will begin a series of meetings the last of this week at the M. E. Church, Molalla, and will preach at the Dart Church next Sunday at 11 o'clock. Everybody is invited to hear him.

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.

Mr. Thos. Stenton, postmaster of Pontypool, Ont., writes: "For the past eight years I suffered from rheumatic pains, and during that time I used many different liniments and remedies for the cure of rheumatism. Last summer I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and got more relief from it than anything I have ever used, and cheerfully recommend this liniment to all sufferers from rheumatic pains." For sale by Huntley Bros., Oregon City and Molalla.
