SALOON KEEPERS INTEREST IN HIM:

Extract from speech in convention of Liquor men, Columbus, Ohio:--

"The success of our business is dependent largely upon the creation of the appetite for drink. Men who drink liquors, like others, will die, and, IF THERE IS NO NEW APPETITE CREATED, OUR COUNTERS WILL BE EMPTY, AS WELL AS OUR COFFERS. Our children will go hungry, or we must change our business to that of some other more remunerative.

"The open field for the creation of appetite is among the boys. After men have grown and their habits are formed, they rarely ever change in this regard, and I make the suggestion, gentlemen, that nickels expended in treats to the Boys now will return in dollars to your tills after the appetite has been formed.

A Paint For Every Want ...

That's the kind of a paint store you want to patronize now-a-days. You may only need a small can, perhaps 15 or 25 cents, but you want the kind adapted to your particular purpose. We have that kind in our paint department.

We have a high grade Creosote Roof Paint, Red, in the one color only, which we are selling for 75c per gallon in five-gallon cans. This is cheaper than you can mix your own paint, and is much better a account of the addition of creosote, which will preserve the wood.

SOCIETY NOTES

Swastika Girls Give Closing Dancing Party.

Knapp's hall was the scene of much merriment on Saturday evening, the occasion being the closing party of the Swastika Girls. The club has been meeting at the homes of the young lady members during the winter months, and many enjoyable meetings have been the result. The hall was beautifully decorated with Swastika pennants, of red and white, the colors of the club, dogwood blossoms and huge bunches of snowballs. From the lightly shaded chandeliers in the center of the hall were festoons of red and white streamers to the corners, and were held in place by snow balls. During the evening punch was served in a prettily decorated booth by Oren Cheney. Cards and dancing were the features of the evening. The Woodfin orchestra furnished excellent music for the affair. The floor and the reception committee, composed of the young ladies of the club, exerted every effort to instill a feeling of welcome to their guests. The dancing programs were very pretty and unique, the covers being artistically decorated with swastikas.

The patronesses were Mrs. A. W. Cheney, Mrs. E. Harrington, Mrs. C. T. Toose, Mrs. W. A. Williams, Mrs. Henry Salisbury, Mrs. Capen.

Knights and Ladies of Security Hold Social.

The Knights and Ladies of Security held a very interesting meeting in the Woodmen hall on Monday evening. There were about 75 members present, and after the business session a social time was enjoyed and dancing indulged in. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening. It was planned to have initiations of several candidates, but owing to the stormy weather the candidates were not present, and the initiation was postponed.

The ladies of the St. Paul's Guild met at the home of Mrs. Charles Burns last Thursday afternoon and after the business of the society was transacted the time was spent in sewing, preparing for their annual sale. Mrs. Burns served delicious refreshments.

Gladstone.

Although the night was unfavorable, the entertainment at the Gladstone tabernacle on the 15th inst. was in every way a success. The numbers were well rendered, the performances were repeatedly encored, and the responses delighted the audience. After the exercises, coffee and cake were served and the receipts of the evening were above $5.00.

"Hope for the Prisoners," was the theme of the morning address at the tabernacle. The service was fairly well attended, but the evening service was adjourned on account of the mass meeting at Parkplace Congregational Church to be addressed by Mr. McHenry of Portland.

Monday morning excavating began on the basement of the new 8-room school house and work will be pushed rapidly to completion. It is located on the block east of the Dam residence. All in all, Gladstone is making
