The stock of the Estacada Telegraph and Telephone company was selling on Monday at a premium.

A select crowd gathered at the home of Mr. Richards after the election on Monday evening and was entertained by him in a royal manner. Lunch was served and all retired wishing for the return of another like occasion.

Clear Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Calkins and Al Calkins were visiting friends in Portland last week.

A. O. Hollingsworth and Loren Tenny are going into the thoroughbred sheep business. They have each bought a herd of six registered Lincoln at a fancy figure.

Mrs. A. J. Tenny visited her daughter in Portland last week.

Mrs. Maud Mosier and husband, of Salem, were visitors at the former's parents. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stone, over Sunday.

T. Jubb, our paint man, is leading a strenuous life since the good weather has set in. He finished painting the Redland M. E. church last week and is now engaged in giving W. P. Kercham's residence a new coat. He has several months' work ahead engaged.

There are bright prospects of June weddings in Redland and Logan in the near future. Particulars later.

Children's day was observed at Springwater and Redland churches last Sunday. There was a large attendance and a good time is reported from both places.

Mountain View.

F. M. Darling is building a new fence this week.

Mrs. Everhart, of Molalla, was visiting in this burg last week.

Albert Mantz is driving team for White Bros.

Walter Mason broke his arm and carrying his hand in a sling.

Lyman Mack has left this burg and gone into the butcher business at Park Place.

Mrs. Ed. Trullinger and two children, of Eagle Creek, were visiting her sister, Mrs. George Story, a few days last week, afterwards going to visit relatives at Mulino and Meadow Brook.

Mrs. Thacker is on the sick list.

Mrs. Woods and family have moved to Hillsboro.

There is to be another wedding in this burg this week.

Wilsonville.

Louis Haslebrink, who has been so seriously ill with typhoid fever for several weeks, is now able to sit up a few hours a day.

Harry Say, who has been confined to his bed since election day with pneumonia, is slightly improving. Mr. Say's farm hand took the two elder Say girls, aged 7 and 5, in the buggy and started to attend the children's day exercises at this place Sunday, and meeting an automobile the horse became unmanageable, throwing out all of the occupants, seriously spraining Frank Steinbach's left arm at the wrist. Dr. Geisy, of Aurora, was called and pronounced the fracture painful, but not serious. But the little girls were thrown out. The oldest one lighting on her head, but neither being badly hurt. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Say and family were also on their way to church and only a little distance from the accident and assisted them to Mr. Darby's drug store, where all was done possible to relieve their suffering until the doctor arrived. The little girls were badly frightened, but not injured.

Liberal.

This hot weather is making everything grow just what we needed. The squash bugs are eating all the young squashes up and no remedy has proved successful as yet. Corn is making a good growth, but not a good stand.

The hop crop will be short and plenty of foul stuff in it. Quite a lot of hay is down and in cock.

Barney Friedrichs and sons are busy clearing up the picnic grounds and laying a new floor in their hall. The picnic promises to be a grand affair if it doesn't rain. Nothing will be left undone to make it a success. Remember it is Saturday, June 20th.

The pioneers have returned home from Portland after having a grand time at their reunion.

Fred Hurst, of Aurora, passed through our burg Monday.

F. Case, who has been visiting his parents for a short time, returned today to Portland.

Estacada.

Quite a lively social meeting was held in this district last evening. The contest centering on the election of school clerk. Mr. E. L. Bellis was nominated against J. F. Lovelace, who has filled the place for the last four years, and who was re-nominated by the city mayor, he being also one of the present councilmen. Challenges and counter challenges were numerous, ladies as well as gentlemen taking part with the result that Lovelace was defeated by a vote of 56 for Bellis to 27 for Lovelace. Mr. John Stormer, a director for the past five years was re-elected for three years by a unanimous vote, against his personal protest. A very liberal policy was maintained in reference to the future needs of the school, adding an additional teacher, making four in all, making arrangements to add the eleventh and twelfth grades if necessary. This continues to make the district one of the foremost in educational matters.

It is to be regretted that Mr. J. R. Wilson and family are making arrangements to leave the city as they have made a wide circle of acquaintances in their three years' stay among us.

The new bridge is progressing fa-

REV. BOLLINGER AT HIGHLAND CHURCH.

Former Oregon City Pastor is Doing Excellent Work.

Rev. E. S. Bollinger, who has charge of the First Congregational church of this city for several years, and from here called to the Highland church, he is meeting with great success, and the following is taken from the Saturday's Portland Journal:

"Rev. E. S. Bollinger, pastor of the Highland Congregational church, was called to Oregon 20 years ago by the missionary authorities of the Evangelical association, and served the Salem church until the division of that denomination. As a result of that division he became superintendent of the Oregon State Institute for the Blind, serving in that capacity four years, from 1881 to 1885. During this time he became identified with Congregationalism and served the Congregational church at Astoria three and one-half years. Mr. Bollinger was called to the First Congregational church of Oregon City in the beginning of 1899 and enjoyed a very happy and successful pastorate there, of nearly eight years.

In October, 1906, he came to Highland church. This church is located in the most rapidly growing section of the city. It was founded not quite five years ago and has enjoyed a continued growth. It now has a membership of 130, a Sunday school of 250, a commodious church edifice, and a beautiful parsonage Prescott street, a few blocks east of the church.

No man is happier in his work than Mr. Bollinger and he hopes to realize great expectations in Highland. The church has assumed self-support and is making a favorable showing in all the benevolences of the demonstration.

Before coming to Oregon Mr. Bollinger served Grace church, Baltimore. He married, January 19, 1887, Miss Lillie F. Dehinger. The family consists of three children Charles F. of Oregon City; Helen E., a student at Pacific University, and Alice M., aged eight."

THE FARM.

Mary S. Howard, the state secretary, says in a communication:

"We have 121 granges and 7641 members and our jurisdiction extends into twenty-one counties and all but seven granges paid up to March 31, 1908.

We had no losses last year, and let us all strive as never before that the present year may be the banner year in all lines of work for the uplift of our beloved order.

May 1908, A. Bonney organized Powell Butte grange in Crook county, with thirty-two charter members. Master, C. R. Shattuck; lecturer, Mrs. Pancake; secretary, James Green. Postoffice address of all is Prineville. We are glad for this new grange and added county and bid them a cordial welcome to our grange household.

The Farm Journal is quite full of news notes for the farm, it says of the garden and orchard in June issue.

Muzzle the horse and pad the outside portions of whiffletrees and harrow when cultivating the orchard; thus avoid all bruised and "barked" trees.

File the hoes and keep them sharp. Stir the soil frequently, and always remember that a hard crust will form after a rain if you don't loosen up the soil promptly.

Sow cucumbers now for the pickling. When the vines begin to bear, pick all the fruit every ray or so. Let none go to seed (ripene) if you want the vines to continue bearing.

Frequent and shallow cultivation should be the rule in the new strawberry bed; and also in the raspberry, blackberry, currant and gooseberry patches, if the last four are not mulched.

No grain or grass crops in the young orchard, please. Cultivation is best. Stir the soil every two weeks until August. This a good plan to throw two or three forkfuls of manure around each tree, after a rain.

To prevent a seabby crop of potatoes, soak the seed for two hours in a solution of one-half pint of formalin (formaldehyde) in fifteen gallons of water. Then plant the seed in soil which has not recently grown a crop of scabby tubers.

Watch for the little slugs—darkish, slimy fellows—that are likely to be on pear or cherry leaves now. Fine dry dust, if thrown in the trees, will kill every slug it covers. Or almost any of the regulation orchard sprays will exterminate this pest.

Pumpkins planted among the corn hills are no special hindrance to the crop if the ground is very rich. They are sometimes a great benefit in a dry season; the leaves and vines cover the ground and keep it from drying up after cultivation ceases.

Cabbage and tomato plants can be safeguarded against cutworms, by inserting a circular paper fence in the soil around each stem. Any stiff paper will do. Have each fence about one and one-half inches above ground, and the same distance away from the plant.

A gentleman who made the experiment the past season recommends moth balls as an effective means of keeping the striped beetle off the cucumber, squash and melon vines. The remedy is not only inexpensive but easily applied, only one ball being required for each hill.

The Bordeaux mixture is the proper remedy to use for all fungous troubles, viz., mildew and rust of beans; potato and tomato rot and leaf blight; melon and cucumber diseases; asparagus rust; celery leaf blight and rust, etc. The half-strength mixture (2 pounds copper sulphate, two pounds quicklime fifty gallons of water) is strong enough to use in the vegetable garden, except for potatoes.

When the chicks have grown to that age when danger from the ill that they are subject to are past and their owner is counting upon them almost as though they had reached maturity, the hawk may appear. Not always circling high overhead, but sneaking like a huge cuckoo through the trees, he will suddenly pounce upon a chicken, even close to the house. The hawk, like the crow, is afraid of a small bright tin can on a pole, for the same reason, probably that it looks like a gun barrel. Watchfulness and vigilance are necessary to save chicks where hawks are concerned.

At about this time in a chicken's life there may also danger from foxes. There are more foxes in many local-
