Many Linger for a Few Days of Quiet Enjoyment

BEST ASSEMBLY IN YEARS

Great Success in Every Manner Insures Even Better Next Year.

Few lectures have attracted more attention on the Chautauqua grounds than the two given Friday evening and Saturday afternoon by Bishop Robert McIntyre, of Los Angeles. The large audience of the afternoon remained generally for the evening, and with the folding of the tents came the determination to be among the early returners next year.

very few moved away till early this week, and a few are contemplating staying on for a week just for the pleasure of camping. A subdued feeling of sadness and regret pervaded the Chautauqua grounds when the lights went out at the close of the last program of the season, when the "Good Night" flashed from the field down below the diamond and the last car went rolling through the grounds and the tenters realized that only a Sunday remained of their rest and vacation and season of study. Few seasons, however, have closed with such entire satisfaction and good will as this one. From the start a feeling of good will and harmony between management and patrons has existed, consequently things have gone smoothly, and with the folding of the tents came the determination to be among the early returners next year.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TAKES STEPS FOR IMMEDIATE LOCATION.

At a special meeting of the Oregon City Commercial Club which was held in Masonic Temple Tuesday evening at which there was good attendance, the board of governors were authorized to enter into negotiations with the Masonic Order to secure from them the lease for one year of the greater portion of the 4th floor of the Masonic Temple to be used by the Commercial Club, and the board was further authorized to at once secure two rooms on the second floor for immediate occupation, and where work can be commenced at once toward proper advertising of Oregon City and Clackamas county. Printed matter of various descriptions will be given out at once by the Club and sent to tourists who have in mind locating in the best state in the Union. The board of governors are wide awake to the fact that immediate steps must be taken to secure the location here of some of the homeseekers who are coming in great numbers to the West this fall, and are getting into the proposition with a will to make Oregon City Commercial Club one of the best among the many commercial clubs in the state.

Many citizens are continually expressing their desire to become members of the organization and this opportunity is freely given them. There are at present quite a number from adjoining territory who have expressed their wishes along the line of coming into the Club and assisting in the work of advertising.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED BATHING IN WILLAMETTE

Tuesday afternoon while bathing with other boys in the Willamette river, Frank H. Bour, who was unable to swim very well slipped from a rock into the deep waters at a point in the river near what is known as "Station A". The water is about 15 feet deep at that point and the bathers near by becoming alarmed that the boy did not come up, at once began to dive for him. H. P. Lewis, who was near at hand at the time, dived 14 times before he was able to secure the body, and by this time he had been in the water some 30 minutes and life was extinct. Dr. R. H. Sommer was immediately summoned and every effort was made to resus-tate the lad, but to no avail. It appears that the youth was subject to heart trouble, and it was supposed that a sudden attack of the old trouble at the time of his plunge into the water was the immediate cause of his death. He was a son of B. H. Bour, and with his father came from Portland recently. Mr. Bour being engaged in general work for the Hawley Pulp & Paper Co. in this city. Young Bour was a bright appearing fellow of 19 years of age and this sudden termination of his life is to be regretted. Undertaker Holman took charge of the body, sending it to Portland Wednesday where funeral services and interment will take place.

Enrollment on Increase.
The freshman class entering the University of Oregon at Eugene this fall will be by far the largest in its history. Every indication points to a freshman registration of 350, and a total enrollment of nearly 600 students, not including the departments of law and medicine. Last year one-fourth of all the high school graduates of Oregon entered the University of Oregon, and there is every reason to believe that an even greater percentage will enter this fall, though the number of graduates is nearly a half larger than last year. Another source that will help swell the number very materially is the large number of eastern people coming into the state. The registrar's office receives many letters each week asking if credits from eastern high schools will be accepted. The demand for catalogues has been unprecedented, and unless all signs fail next year's enrollment will be a record breaker.

Young Man Disappears.
A peculiar disappearance happened Friday afternoon when Henry Nelson, son of Mrs. Martha Nelson, residing at Clackamas, came up missing. He had been ill for some time and Friday was feeling quite well and was allowed to go out under a tree in the cool air. A few minutes later his mother went out to see him and was surprised to not find him. She immediately notified the authorities and they together with the neighbors set out in quest of the vanished man. Blood hounds were sent for at Portland but they were busy, and search was continued by the neighbors since Saturday last, but of no avail as yet. Girls Play Base Ball.
The much talked-of baseball game between the Oregon City Grays and the Chicago Ladies Baseball Club was played Tuesday at Willamette, and at the end of the ninth inning the score stood 12 to 11 in favor of the local team. A very large crowd was in attendance attracted by the novelty of a ladies' ball team. Considering the fact that they were ladies, the female aggregation put up a pretty classy article of baseball, and showed up pretty fair at the bat and in the field. At times they played gut-edged baseball, but at times they went to pieces. Myers who tried for the Spanton at Vancouver, has signed a contract with the ladies, and will travel with them. He guarded the keystone sack in Tuesday's game. The score by innings:
Ladies 0 1 1 5 3 0 1 0—11
Grays 4 0 0 1 0 3 2—12
Next Sunday afternoon, the Oregon City Grays will cross bats with the LaCamas ball team. The LaCamas fans will be here in force, and have chartered a steamer and will run a big excursion to Oregon City. In a fast game played at LaCamas July 4, the Grays were defeated 4 to 3, but they are determined to turn the tables at this meeting.
Nefsgar will do the pitching for Camas, and Robison or Pender for the Grays.

Home Telephone Company Absorbed.
The local stock of the Home Telephone Company has been converted into a local stock company, known as the Oregon City and Farmer's Independent Telephone Company, which is in the hands of a number of well-known local business and professional men. The controlling interest being in the hands of the local men, they intend to build up the service as soon as possible, and for that reason, an active canvass for the installation of new phones will begin at once. The switchboard, which was installed by the Home company about a year ago, is of the very latest type, and is capable of giving the best of service. This board will accommodate 1500 subscribers, and it is the aim of the new company to have this number in the near future. The local exchange is connected by farmer lines with all parts of the county, and with the rest of the state by the Home system. The following are the members of the board of directors: T. F. Ryan, O. D. Eby, C. G. Huntley, J. U. Campbell, R. B. Beattie, John Lewellyn and A. Andrews.

Narrow Escape From Drowning.
Sam Faust, foreman of a gang of painters employed by the Willamette Pulp & Paper Co., while painting on a boat at the Oregon City locks Sunday had a close call, and had it not been for the timely arrival of Capt. M. D. Phillips would have drowned. He was standing on a ladder doing some lettering on the boat when the ladder suddenly gave way precipitating him to the water below, and disabling him so that he could not help himself. A workman saw him struggling and notified Capt. Phillips who jumped into the water and by very strenuous effort succeeded in getting the man to the dock.
Mr. Evans of Beaver Creek was this week buying wool for an eastern firm at 16 cents.

Liked the Other Fellow.
Antone Macijakovic was arrested Saturday evening by Officer Miles on a warrant sworn out by his wife Susan who says that he assaulted and beat her with a chair. It appears that the woman was infatuated with Peter Brelins, one of the men now in jail following the gun play row a week ago. Susan has been endeavoring to persuade her husband to hand over $200, which was to be used to turn Peter loose, and that the latter and Susan would leave this part of the woods and bother hubby no more.
Before Justice Sampson Monday Susan withdrew the charges and the husband with the strong arm gave the woman $200 and sets her free, as she wished.

Reward for Lost Boy.

Olson's Narrow Escape.
Raymond Olson had a narrow escape from drowning last week. He was working in a boat above the falls, which capsized in the swift current. Olson's life was in danger, as the current was too strong to permit of his own rescue and he finally managed to grasp a rope near the falls that is used to keep the scoops from going over, and hung there until the logging crew could get him out.
