Miss Ollie Mason made a business trip to Portland, Tuesday.

Mrs. Thacker is still seriously ill. Miss Josie Curran is at home again this week. She was working for a family on Division street and they went to California.

Charlie Ely is building a new barn on his premises this week.

Messrs. J. M. Gillett and Burt Cummins, are digging a well for Frank Andrews, Jr.

Maple Lane.

Hop-picking is all the talk on the lane now days. Mr. Dickerson, Mr. Barr and Mr. Jose, all began harvesting their crop last Monday, and are now hoping for dry weather to come. Mr. Dickerson reports about one-half of a crop. Lyman Derrick is drying for him this year.

Lawrence Hantz and wife left last week with their team for the hop fields up the river.

H. A. Heater has begun to haul lumber for a new barn.

Mr. Bonnell is building a new woven-wire fence.

Mrs. Derrick and daughter Emma are picking hops up the river.

Mr. Ray and family, of Elm Wash, are spending a couple of weeks with F. E. Parker and family.

"Grandma" Heater had the misfortune of having a run away last week, but luckily for her she came out unharmed. The buggy was quite badly broken.

Teasel Creek.

Quite a thunder storm visited this section last Sunday morning with a little shower to cool the air.

Harvey Dart and wife have returned home after several days spent in the mountains after huckleberries.

Little Homer Quinn fell from a fence one day last week and striking a piece of glass, cut his foot quite badly.

Miss Resie and Willie Quinn visited with Miss Lora Judd last Sunday. Grandma Dart is still unable to be up. She is 84 years of age.

Springwater.

There were 44,471 bushels of grain threshed in Springwater this season, and two or three thousand to thresh yet. Grain is good, excepting late. Quite a quantity cut for hay.

The minister, Rev. Roberts, held a series of meetings last week. Quite an interest was taken in the meetings.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will next Saturday evening at the grange hall have an ice cream social and entertainment. Everybody cordially invited.

Mr. Shibley has bought and set up a gasoline engine and he expects to use the power for different purposes, such as putting water in the different buildings, grinding grain, sawing wood, make machinery go about the shop, etc.

W. H. Kandle sold his farm of 160 acres to Mr. Schenk, of Silverton for $5600.

Many land buyers are in the neighborhood.

Miss Minnie Grace, of Mulino, one of our former school teachers, is in Springwater visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shibley went to Oregon City Monday and Elmer Dible went with them that far, going to the hop fields.

Mr. Raney, of Gresham, formerly of Springwater, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Robert Guttridge.

Mrs. Della Shannon, of Oregon City, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guttridge.

Howel Bros. and Ed. Closser have their fruit dryers about ready for business.

Milwaukee.

The schools will open next week and Milwaukee can well be proud of our new acquisition. The sanitary conditions alone are an item of expenditure worth 10 times their cost, and Mr. Hart has certainly done a nice job putting in the plumbing.

The postoffice will move about the 15th to the building formerly occupied by the Evangelical church. It is being fitted up for Mr. Garland, and Mr. Grasley says it will be a pleasure to have a nice, light, centrally located postoffice where the carriers can have their horses under cover during the long winter months while they are sorting their mail. Heretofore they have been compelled to stand out in the storm.

The Hawley Pulp & Paper Co.'s mill is fast assuming proportions and ere long the busy hum of the saw will announce another industry in our midst.

Arthur Welster is sojourning at Carson, Washington.

Mrs. M. D. Reid returned from the east last week, where she went in response to the death of one of her sisters. The community sympathizes with her in her bereavement.

Humor has it that a bakery, grocery and drug store are soon to be on our list of new business concerns.

Clear Creek.

Mr. Simpson, of Portland, has moved his family on to his farm and intends trying ranching once more.

The annual exodus to the hop fields has taken place, and we hope it will be a pleasant and profitable one.

Mrs. Albert Swales is quite seriously ill.

Miss Bachman has been secured as teacher for the Lower Logan school.

Mr. Thos. Jubb is giving the Logan school house a new coat of paint.

The Misses Laura and Myrtle Purcell, of Parkplace were visiting with friends in Redland Sunday.

At a meeting of the school board of district No. 114, the contract for the building of the new school house was awarded to L. W. Foster, of Logan. The new school will be known as the Fir Grove School. It is expected to have the school house ready for use by the middle of November. The grounds have been cleared and fenced and present a very picturesque appearance.

Mrs. A. Demay, of Estacada, is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. L. Tenny.

Threshing is all done for the season, and the threshers seem well satisfied with the year's run.

Mr. John C. Mattoon and Miss Nanette Andrews were married at the home of the bride's parents at Dayton last Saturday at 10 o'clock A. M. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Patton, of Dayton, but formerly of Viola. Mr. Mattoon was born and has always lived at Viola and Miss Andrews has been a successful teacher in this community for several years. Their home will be at Silver Lake, Lake County, where they will engage in farming. They many friends here will wish them a bright and happy future.

Several petitions from this community were considered by the District Boundary Board last Tuesday. L. Funk wished to be transferred from Sunday to Logan. Mr. Leach from district No. 115 to district No. 8, and the Gruel Bros. from district No. 116 to district No. 70. Mr. Funk's petition was granted and the latter were taken under advisement.

Stafford.

Hop picking is in full blast this week and a number of the neighbors are busy in the fields.

Misses Rosa, Susie and Annie Schatz were home from town over Sunday and Labor Day, and entertained a crowd of young people from town. Mr. and Mrs. Gage also had company from East Portland. Miss Bee Gage returns to school this week.

Mrs. Waehite and family have their daughter and two children visiting them.

Frank Wildie and Dick Oldenstadt bought a new haler and have been baling hay for themselves and others.

Mr. Thomas Delkar, Conrad Shroder and others have been burning slashings.

Mr. Powell's house is not yet ready for occupancy.

Prunes and plums and Bartlett Pears are ripening, but not as plentifully as usual.

Woodburn.

Mrs. Olive Lewis returned last Friday from Seaside, where she enjoyed a two weeks' outing. She is much improved in health.

Mr. Rice went to Mulino last Saturday for peaches.

Hon. Eugene Chaffin's address was very much enjoyed by a large audience. Wilbur Cook introduced the speaker.

Woodburn's Carnival ended last Sunday. It was a great success.

Pearl Rainey is visiting her aunt, Miss Minnie Trullinger, this week.

Mr. E. Gates is very ill with cancer of the stomach.

Willbur and Adda Cook started last Saturday for Seattle, where they will attend the Seattle Seminary, this being their junior year.

Elwood.

Mr. J. Phillips and family, and L. Baker and Family, Mr. J. Arquet and wife, Mrs. L. Park, E. Dibble, have gone hop picking.

Mr. Wilson spent Saturday and Sunday at Highland.

One day last week A. S. Henderson's threshing machine threshed 1235 bushels of grain in six hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross, of Manor, Wash., are visiting at Mr. Vallen's.

Miss Marsh is spending a few days in Elwood visiting with friends.

Mr. Ostroske was home over Sunday. It is feared that the rain will damage some of the stacked grain.

Currinsville.

Mr. Still, who has a fruit ranch on Eagle Creek near the lower bridge, has been peddling his peach crop this week and it is of excellent quality, but nearly two weeks later this year than formerly.

Helpe Bros. finished threshing Thursday after a fairly good run and will start their hay baling Friday as they have engaged several baling straw.

M. Lonsberry made a business trip to Garfield neighborhood last Tuesday.

A number of Currinsville people went to the huckleberry patch this week and report plenty of berries as all came home well supplied.

Edgar Helpe will have his new dwelling house completed in about ten days ready for painting and papering, having been delayed somewhat on account of lack of proper materials to complete the carpenter work. He obtained most of the interior finish lumber from Portland, and is of the best quality and style and will be one of the best finished dwellings in this vicinity, which adds to the looks as well as usefulness to his splendid farm and when he completes his other improvements contemplated, will have an ideal farm and home.

Mr. Lester Hale went to Portland last Saturday.

M. Lonsberry was a Portland visitor last Saturday, returning Sunday evening.

REDLAND

J. Steinman and wife, of Eagle Creek, and Mr. H. Steinman and wife, of Indiana, were visiting relatives and friends here last week.

The C. C. L. Co. is making extensive improvements at their mill, having covered all their buildings with tar paper roofing, building bunk houses and lumber sheds, also encasing their boilers with brick.

Quite a number of slashings were burned here the past two weeks but as a general rule the ground was too damp for the fire to make much headway.

The boundary of School District No. 8 has been changed to take in L. Funk in said district.

Mrs. Ora Hughes and Mrs. Cassie Farroll are away visiting relatives.

Fanbrothe's hop yard started up full blast last Monday and will finish this week with a fair crop.

Knap and Mackey, who have platted so much of the land around Wichita, have purchased ten acres from Mr. Baker and platted it into two-acre tracts.

Miss Pearl Clark reports a very pleasant vacation spent at Aurora.

Miss Julia Spooner has been spending a portion of her vacation at the coast before taking up her work for the coming year in the Brooklyn school to which she has been transferred.

A school meeting was held last Friday night at the Harmony school house at which Mr. Trimmer was FARM NOTES.

Garrant and crossberry bushes may be set in the fall, if desired, and well mulched.

The best shaped and colored tomatoes to seed every year, and the strain will be much improved.

If the cabbage heads show signs of bursting, pull each head a little so as to break a few of the roots and thus check the rapid growth.

Look out for weak and broken roads in the latter. Bad accidents have happened by going through such ladders. Put in new rounds before anything occurs.

Last month we told you to "tip" the blackcap raspberries on to cut out the old wood that has fruited. Not too late to do this now. Black berries, too, should have the old wood cut out.

Look out for frost late this month. Tomato vines, etc., may be protected cold nights by a covering of straw, newspapers, cloths, etc. On large fields, smudge fires will often save a crop from frost damage.

Winter onion sets should go into the ground early this month. They are quite hardy, but a light mulch of leaves, straw or litter won't hurt them in the north; they'll be ready for use early in the spring.

Pears are best when ripened indoors instead of on the trees. The time to pick pears is determined, first, by their known season of ripening; and, second, by the ease with which the stem parts from the branch when the fruit is slightly lifted.

Does your neighbor know that the strawberry plants are now forming dormant fruit buds for next year's crop, and that the crop then depends largely upon the care now? Perhaps you'll be doing him a favor if you show him this paper and ask him to subscribe.

It is important to pick vegetables at the right time. If picked while the sun is at its height, they are more or less wilted and do not keep so well. This does not apply to beans—they should never be handled while wet or they will rust. Nearly all vegetables are juicier and sweeter if picked before they are quite full-sized.
